FIVE CHILDREN ARE BURNED TO DEATH

11 JURORS ARE SWORN FOR DE LANCEY HEARING

Two More Yet to Be Chosen Before Taking of the Testimony

WITNESSES READY TO APPEAR IN COURT

One Talesman Is Accepted by Both Sides at Morning Session

JURORS SWORN TO SERVE

H. A. ARNOLD, retired iron and steel manufacturer, 2041 San Jose avenue, Alameda.

THOMAS P. HOGAN, vice-president Hogan Lumber Company, 948 Oak street, Oakland.

JAMES S. JUSTICE, retired painter, 4831 Maple street, Oakland.

L. F. GOULD, retired carpenter, 1830 Park avenue, Oakland.

JEFFERSON GILLAM, grocer, 1630 Thirteenth avenue, Oakland.

Passed Jurors Rejected Today

A. G. DEXTER, retired sporting goods and bicycle dealer, 1615 Oak street, Alameda.

M. L. FURTADO, farmer, San Leandro.

F. H. BRUNING, retired candy manufacturer, 1021 Myrtle street, Oakland.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Jefferson Gillam, a grocer residing at 1630 Thirteenth avenue, Oakland, was secured as the eleventh juror to try John S. De Lancey.

Challenging John Schneider, a retired contractor, because he said he would surrender his opinion to the eleven other jurors if they favored either the conviction or acquittal of De Lancey, Attorney Frick, for the defence, secured the elimination of the talesman at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. This precluded the possibility of completing the jury before at least 4 o'clock and possibly later.

Only one more juryman was secured this forenoon in the criminal department of the Superior Court to try Attorney John S. De Lancey. When court convened there were three jurors in the box who had been temporarily passed but two of them—A. G. Dexter of Alameda and M. L. Furtado of San Leandro—were challenged by the defense and eliminated. The remaining talesman, George W. Prescott, was satisfactory to both sides and his acceptance swelled the number of jurors to try the case to ten.

No luck was had with the next two veniremen called to the box and examined. Morris Isaacs, the well known merchant, was too well acquainted with the De Lancey and MacKinnon families to suit the State and the prosecution exhausted its last peremptory challenge to get rid of him.

F. H. Bruning, the retired candy manufacturer was equally objectionable to the defense on account of the deep-rooted opinion he had formed regarding the conduct of the public administrator's office under George Gray from reading the newspapers and he was allowed to go. This left the defense with only two more peremptories to exercise when court adjourned at noon and two more jurors to be secured.

EXCUSED BY DEFENSE.

When court adjourned last evening A. G. Dexter, M. L. Furtado and George W. Prescott were in the box as passed jurors, and upon continuing with the trial this afternoon Judge Brown ordered the contending attorneys to proceed with their peremptory challenges, if they wished to exercise the privilege, the State having one remaining and the defense four, with three jurors yet to be secured to fill the box.

"The People are satisfied," said Assistant District Attorney Hynes.

Dexter and Furtado were excused by the defense.

"The defense is now satisfied," said Attorney Frick.

Prescott was then sworn in as an ac-

HEROIC GIRLS GIVE LIVES IN RESCUE OF TOTS

ATTEMPTS TO SAVE THEM ARE FRUITLESS

Others Thought to Be in the Flames Had Already Been Rescued

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 26.—Five heroic girls sacrificed their lives this morning through a mistaken idea that some little children were imprisoned in the burning girls' home of the Presbyterian Orphanage here, which was consumed by fire this morning. The whole town is ringing with their deed of valor, the like of which in all its details, places them on a par with the great Grace Darling.

The victims were all inmates of the nursery. The dead:

Ruby Moorefield, Lynchburg.
Lucille Moorefield, Lynchburg.
Mamie Reynolds, Bath county, Va.
Mary Hickman, Campbell county, Va.
Mary Poole, McDowell county, Va.

It was impossible to, rescue the five children. Ruby Moorefield was taken from the building, but when she ascertained that her younger sister was still inside she ran back.

The fire started from unknown causes in the basement of the big building, and almost instantly swept through every floor. Girls of all ages, from the little tots on the ground floor to the young women on the last story, fled wildly through the halls, and, choking and gasping, dashed through the smoke and fire to safety. Many of them were seriously burned, the clothing and hair of most of them were singed, but all escaped. Then came the heroic act of the five girls, whose bodies are now at the morgue.

RUMOR COSTS LIVES.

The girls, whose names have not yet been ascertained from the rolls, were each in charge of a dormitory. Just as a rear wall was ready to topple, a rumor went through the crowd that some little children had been overlooked in the rush to safety and were yet within the building.

A shriek rent the air from all quarters as this information passed through the crowd, and men turned their eyes from the awful sight of the burning structure, when it was realized that these innocents must be sacrificed. Many fainted in the crowd.

RUSH TO RESCUE.

The little mothers, however, were of sterner stuff and drilled in devotion to duty. Each superintendent of a dormitory made a rush for the building. No one knew in what dormitory the children left were supposed to be, therefore it was necessary that all go.

Frantic cries to return followed the girls and firemen sought to stop them, but to no purpose. An instant after they had left their position in the ranks in which the children from the home had been drawn together, the girls were hidden from the crowd by a pall of thick smoke. They had entered the building, now roaring like a blast furnace.

SEEN AT WINDOWS.

Three of the girls were seen at windows later on the second floor, but none reached the upper floors. They appeared only for an instant, then were driven back by a tongue of red flames which leaped from a window below them and surged in at the opening through which they had thrust their heads for a breath of air. That was the last!

ALL OTHERS SAFE.

Tons and tons of water were thrown into the room in which the three girls were thus known to be, in the hope of beating back the fire long enough to allow rescuers to go to them, but this was found to be impossible and within another five minutes the last remaining wall of the building fell into the burning mass of embers.

Later an account of the children was taken and it was discovered that all save the five superintendents, none of whom was over 16 years of age, were safe. The heroic girls had sacrificed their lives upon a baseless rumor.

HAS 'NEW JERUSALEM' FOR THE POOR IS BROTHER AND HEIR TO DOWIE

North and South Pole Both Discovered by Us; Cook and Peary Fakers, Declares 'Healer' Twain in 'Wonder Tales' of Feats

"Cook has been 500 miles nearer the pole than Peary, but both are fakirs. They are imposing on a trusting public and both should be exposed."

Asserting that he himself, accompanied by Bishop Schrader, his friend and ally, has just just returned from a journey to the polar regions, and displaying a dairy setting forth the alleged details of his trip, Francis Schlatter, "Divine Healer," who has again appeared in this city after a mysterious disappearance from Denver in 1905, declares that both explorers who claim to have discovered the famous northern landmark are conscienceless bunco men.

OFFERS PROOFS.

In a statement, amazing because of its very daring, Schlatter offers to produce proof that he and Bishop Schrader are the only white men to discover the disputed landmark, and adds that they have also visited the south pole, spending the eight years that their whereabouts have been unknown in the two journeys.

"I am writing a book which when completed will expose both Cook and Peary," declared Schlatter at his temporary residence, 670 Sixteenth street, this morning.

"Until it is finished, however, I will not go into details. Sufficient it is to say that I am acting under inspiration from God.

ACTUATED BY "HOAX."

"If these men had never made the false claim I should never have published to the world the fact of my discovery, but the time has come when I cannot in justice to the world stand aside while two adventurers, prompted only by the love of gold, hoax an unsuspecting and hero worshiping public."

On his discovery of the south pole, however, Schlatter talks freely.

"We started on our voyage from New Orleans on July 13, 1896, going almost directly to the City of Mexico by way of San Antonio Texas. We arrived there on July 26, shipping almost immediately for Chili. We reached Valparaiso on Friday, September 12, and purchasing a sailing vessel which we fitted up at a cost of $5000, sailed for the Islands of Terra del Fusia on September 14. On December 24 we reached the Hoste Islands, which are at the furtherst southern point ever reached by white man.

ENCOUNTER ICEBERGS.

"Then suddenly the warm weather gave way and we found ourselves floating by icebergs. It grew colder and colder but we kept on and on the first day of January, 1897, we landed at our destination. Our food gave out and for many days we were compelled to live on a peculiar fish which we found.

"Then suddenly it grew warm. Why a hundred miles from the south pole it is warmer than it is here, because of volcanic fires in that region. The water which flows from the mountains, however, is as cold as ice. We found little villages inhabited by people—a peculiar tribe of Indians—not more than four feet high.

POLE THREE FEET SQUARE.

"It took us several weeks to reach the small space, three feet in diameter, which is in reality the south pole. In that little space the wind revolves continually in breathless circles, growing wider higher up like the eddies caused by a falling stone in a placid lake. Twenty feet away the wind was blowing a gale. So strong was it in fact that we were forced to drop to our stomachs and crawl along in this way. At times it was impossible to breathe.

"It was much the same at the north pole, which we reached in 1887, after a journey of two years. We went on sleds with dogs, and ate bears—mostly raw. There was the same circling wind up there, and the breathless space which we knew marked the pole. On the way we traveled swiftly sometimes, making on several occasions from 60 to 75 miles each day. At other times we only made a half a mile a day, being forced to stop to tunnel our way through ice mountains.

NO LIVING THINGS THERE.

"There is nothing living within 500 miles of the north pole, and for miles there is nothing but vast icy wastes. In the little windless place at the north pole we buried an American flag and a picture of George Washington, and long after this century is gone some explorer really reaching the place will find them laying there, unrotted and unharmed, preserved by the divine protection of an omnipotent God which led us thither and directed our errand."

While Schlatter and Schrader were talking a man called in answer to their advertisement now running in the newspapers for a business manager to direct their pecuniary affairs. Seemingly put out by the unwelcome interruption in the midst of their rehearsal of the divine influence, Bishop Schrader, who appears to take the initiative in all things, directed him to return at another time, closing the door rather sharply.

Schrader, who does not claim more than 37 years, though Schlatter, who looks but little older, asserts that he has passed

DECLARE TAFT DIDN'T DRINK COCKTAIL AT CLUB

GETS GOLD MEDAL IN MISSOURI RIVER TOWN

Voice Hoarse, Throat Sore; Chief Executive Demands Chance to Rest

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—Officials of the St. Louis Club, where President Taft breakfasted yesterday as the guest of the Commercial Club, were indignant today over a story printed locally and attributed to the authority of the Club's head waiter, that President Taft had drunk a big cocktail at the club, thus "falling off the water wagon;" that he had added six big cups of black coffee to the cocktail and had partaken of the remainder of the breakfast in according proportions.

As a matter of fact, the club officials say they knew full well that the President was dieting; that he had recently abstained from drinking any alcoholic beverages, merely as a part of the dietary plan and for reasons of health and service to him was governed accordingly.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Oct. 26.—Twenty minutes before sunrise this morning President Taft stepped from his flagship, the Oleander, as it docked here at 6 o'clock. This city, the first stop on the trip from St. Louis by boat to New Orleans, greeted the President with prolonged cheering. Thousands of country people arrived during the night by rail and wagon.

While the levee was thronged, the greatest crowd was at the State Normal School, one mile from the city, where President Taft was driven in an automobile. In the natural amphitheater the Chief Executive was presented to the citizens of Southeastern Missouri by Congressman C. C. Crow. Mayor M. E. Lemming presided at the meeting, on of the features of which was the planting of a tree.

GETS GOLD BADGE.

The chilly October morning air reverberated with cheers when a gold badge was pinned on the lapel of the President's overcoat. The badge was a gift of the citizens. Because the schedule called for only one hour's time here, the President's address was brief.

With his strenuous day in St. Louis yesterday and his strained throat, President Taft was completely tired out last night and an hour after the boats left the city he sent word to the Governor's boat, the St. Paul, that he would have to be excused from attending the banquet arranged for him until later in the trip.

Plans for the feast had to be changed in a few minutes and there was much hurrying and confusion. The viands intended for the banquet were put back into the refrigerators and the Governors were given a lonely and frugal repast.

REPORTERS IN FRENZY.

Not the least amusing feature of the incident were the frantic efforts of the newspapermen to send out "kills" on their elaborately detailed stories of the banquet, including several of the governors' speeches. They begged in vain to get ashore at some telegraph station, then called loudly to the people on the bank that the President was ill, hoping that in this way a warning would get to their offices. All were in vain, however, and the stories of the dinner had to stand.

CAIRO GREETS TAFT.

CAIRO, Ills., Oct. 26.—The roaring cannon of the Danville battery, stationed on barges in the Ohio river, opposite this city, gave notice today when the Presidential flotilla rounded Cairo Point at noon, and headed for the Cairo wharf. The levee stoop was crowded by thousands of residents of Illinois, Kentucky and Missouri, civic organizations of three States having united to give the national executive and his party a greeting here.

When the Oleander had tied up at the wharf, the local committee boarded the flagship and escorted President Taft to the speaker's stand.

With the appearance of the President a chorus of a thousand school children, grouped as a "living flag" began singing patriotic songs. They continued until the steamers carrying the visiting governors, members of Congress and foreign diplomats had arrived, these guests being escorted to seats behind the President. Governor Deneen acted as chairman of the day. After a brief speech by the Governor, the President spoke.

IS MAMMOTH CROWD.

The largest crowd that has ever assembled in Cairo greeted the President. The entire river front of the city had been decorated with flags and bunting and at the intersection of streets leading to the levee, imposing columns had been erected.

PRINCE ITO IS VICTIM OF ASSASSIN'S BULLET

THREE COMPANIONS ARE BADLY WOUNDED

Slayer Caught and Declares He Purposely Plotted to Do Murder

HARBIN, Oct. 26.—Prince Hirobumi Ito was assassinated at the Tsaisagan railroad station here today at a moment when the Japanese diplomat was acknowledging the noisy welcome that greeted him as he stepped down from the coach that he had occupied in the railroad train.

Smiling and bowing he turned to make his way toward the Russian finance minister, M. Kokovsoff, who was awaiting him on the station platform a few paces distant.

Suddenly a half dozen revolver shots, fired in quick succession, were heard, followed by the cries of those standing near the Prince, who had either been wounded or imagined themselves to be.

THREE BULLETS.

At the second report Prince Ito staggered and fell. It was found subsequently that he had received three bullets, two of which entered the abdomen. Prince Ito did not recover consciousness and died twenty minutes later.

The fussilade of shots threw the crowd into a panic and it was some time before it could be determined who, besides the Prince had suffered. When the excitement had somewhat subsided it was found that three other members of the party on the platform had been wounded.

OTHERS WOUNDED.

Prince Ito's private secretary received a bullet, as did Japanese Consul General Kawakan and General Manager Tanaka of the South Manchurian Railway, who had moved closer to the Prince when the firing was begun. It is believed that these three are not mortally wounded.

The perpetrator of the outrage was not hard to locate, as he stood defiantly in the crowd, revolver in hand. He proved to be a Korean, and with two companions of the same nationality, boasted of a conspiracy to take the lives of the former resident general of Korea in satisfaction for the alleged tyranny of the Prince over Koreans.

As the police pounced upon the three Koreans the one who had done the shooting exclaimed dramatically:

"I came to Harbin for the sole purpose of assassinating Prince Ito to avenge my country."

CAPTURE THREE.

None of the Koreans attempted to escape. The assassin, while claiming to have been inspired by a patriotic motive and to believe that Japanese wrongs to Koreans justified his act, admitted under examination that he had a personal grudge against the Japanese statesman, who, while resident general in Korea, had caused the execution of several of the murderer's friends.

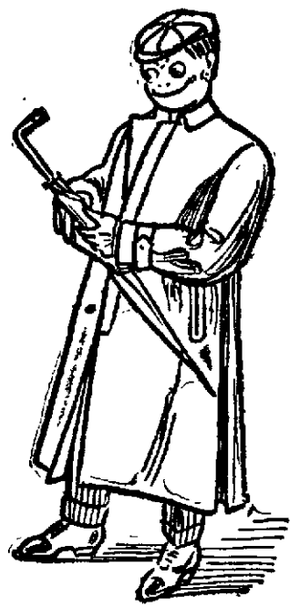

It had been supposed the police protection of the Prince was adequate but they stated later that they were unable to distinguish the Koreans among the many Japanese who had been admitted to the railway station to welcome the Prince.

PASSED AS JAPANESE.

The Russian police stated that Japanese Consul General Kawakan had requested to permit entrance to the station of all Japanese who sought admission. A great crowd gathered, among them being the three Koreans, whose nationality passed undetected.

The body of Prince Ito was made ready for removal home and placed upon a train. The casket was covered with

Robbed of Cash, Then Throat Cut

PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 26. — Archie Smith, a negro, claiming to live in San Francisco, was found in the South Pasadena City Park today with his throat cut from ear to ear. Clark Fishburn, a young delivery clerk, who discovered the man, found that he was not yet dead and summoned Dr. R. E. Chapman, who sewed up the negro's windpipe.

The man, then able to talk, said he had been robbed of $5 and his throat was cut by a negro the night before, while walking along the Santa Fe tracks. Smith was taken to the County Hospital and will probably recover.

GIRL "SHOOK" MOTHER; CHARGED WITH INSANITY

Because her daughter, Jennie, "shook her violently and threw her against the cupboard" on the 25th of October, Mrs. Carrie Olsen took the notion in her head that her mature offspring was a fit candidate for the insane asylum, and had her taken into custody for examination as to her mental condition.

When the case came up before Superior Judge W. T. Harris, the daughter's sanity was vouched for by Drs. Bureau and Keller, and the girl intimated that the charge was brought as a matter of spite on the part of her mother.

Judge Harris took a hand in questioning the woman, and elicited the fact that the woman was in the full possession of a level head, and ordered her discharged from custody.

W. C. T. U. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS AT OMAHA

OMAHA, Oct. 26.—The most important events on the program of the convention of the W. C. T. U. were the election of the national officers for the coming year and the report of the resolutions committee.

There has not been at any time a question of retaining in their respective positions the six general officers, and their re-election today was perfunctory. They are Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, of Maine, president, Miss Anna A. Gordon of Illinois, vice-president at large Mrs. Frances Parks of Illinois, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Anderson of North Dakota, recording secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hutchinson of Illinois, Treasurer.

flowers and in other ways the sorrow of the officials and the public was manifested.

Prince Ito had come to Harbin to meet M. Kokovsoff, the Russian minister of finance, for what was believed to be an important conference. The conference was suggested by Prince Ito in his capacity as president of the privy council of Japan.

ON DIPLOMATIC MISSION.

The subjects to be discussed were not definitely known to the public but they were supposed to concern affairs in Manchuria.

Kokovsoff had declined an invitation to visit Japan for such conference and Harbin was agreed upon as a meeting place. In accepting the invitation the Russian minister said political questions must be barred, as he was competent only to discuss financial and technical subjects concerning the status of the Manchurian railroad.

The conference had been detailed in advance and it was generally known when the diplomats would reach Harbin.

ASSASSIN IS CAUGHT.

The assassin was promptly seized. On being questioned, he said he was a Korean.

"I came to Harbin for the sole purpose of assassinating Prince Ito to avenge my country," the slayer told his captors.

He said also that he had a personal account to settle with the great Japanese statesman, who during his stay in Korea had ordered the execution of several persons closely connected with his family.

The assassination of Prince Ito appears to have been the outcome of an organized plot. The local authorities, who, expecting the arrival of Prince Ito, were on the lookout for suspicious characters, arrested three Koreans yesterday who were at the station and were found to be armed with revolvers.

ORGANIZED PLOT.

However, the task of guarding the Prince was rendered difficult by reason of Japanese Consul General Kawakan's request that the railway officials permit all Japanese to enter the railway station to greet the Prince. The police pointed out that it was quite impossible to distinguish Koreans from Japanese by their appearance.

The Russian minister of finance, M. Kokovsoff and the Russian military authority accompanying Prince Ito were exposed to the same danger from flying bullets as was the Prince. Indeed, Kokosoff was nearer to the Japanese envoy at the time of the shooting than were those who were wounded. Had the assassin delayed shooting for a moment, the foreign consults would have been in much danger, as Ito was approaching them and they would have been directly in the line of fire.

TAKE BODY HOME.

The body of the slain statesman has already been removed homeward. The casket, before it was placed upon the train, was covered with flowers sent by M. Kokovsoff and the Russian and Japanese officials. The Russian Ambassador to Pekin is accompanying the body to Kwanching Tsu.

All along the railroad honors are being shown to the dead statesman. Minister Kokoroff has telegraphed his condolences to the Japanese government.

TOKIO IN GLOOM.

TOKIO, Oct. 26.—Gloom prevails in the city following the receipt of the news of the assassination of Prince Ito at Harbin. It is said the Prince received three wounds.

When the foreign office received the news it immediately notified the members of the Cabinet, many of whom hastened to the foreign office. The Princess was notified at Oise, the country home, of the death of her husband.

Their eldest son, Hirokuni Ito, is in London. A younger son, Bunkichi, is engaged to marry a daughter of Premier Katsura.

The foreign office is besieged by inquiries, these including all diplomats accredited to Japan, among whom the Prince was popular.

WASHINGTON SHOCKED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. — Official Washington was shocked at the news of the assissination of Prince Ito. The Japanese embassy here was plunged into mourning by the tidings. Officials of the State Department expressed their great sorrow for the taking off of so distinguished a personage as they looked upon Prince Ito as one of the foremost of the world's statesmen.

Despite a denial from Tokio that Prince Ito's tour was political, it has been made apparent that he was entrusted with several most important missions by the Mikado, the foremost being an attempt to forestall the protest of America and other powers by effecting a more complete understanding with China.

WAS GREAT DIPLOMAT.

Prince Ito played an important part in the framing of the recent treaty between Japan and China, relating to railway construction in Manchuria. The treaty was concluded on August 31 and had been considered by many diplomats a violation of the treaty of peace concluded between Japan and Russia after the war. In the face of her Portsmouth pledge not to obstruct measures that China might take for the development of commerce and industry in Manchuria, Japan forced a specific pledge from China not to build a railway from Hsinmintun northward without Japan's consent.

GETS CHINESE BONDS.

Another significant provision is that, should China build the Kirin Railway east she must borrow half the required capital from Japan, thus insuring Japan control of an important branch from Japan's main line toward Vladivstock.

China was compelled to transfer the Taitchichae New Chwang line to Japan. Japan also refused to discuss the absorption of sovereignty along the South Manchurian Railway which is far greater than ever charged against Russia. Her attitude was in glaring contrast with Russia's recognition of China's sovereign right in the recent Harbin agreement.

M. Matsui, acting as Charge of the Japanese Embassy in this capital, insisted in his declaration that Prince Ito was not in Manchuria on any official mission. He pointed to the fact that the Prince's severance of his relations with the active administration of affairs in Japan dated from his retirement from the office of Japanese President General of Korea, about a year ago. The position he held at the time of his death was rather an honorary one, for the Privy Council, of which Prince Ito was president, was a body without administrative functions. It is purely advisory and is called together by the Emperor at irregular intervals, when he feels in need of advice from the several statesmen who make up the council.

RECALLS STEVENS TRAGEDY.

Officials here were quick to draw a parallel between the killing of Prince Ito and the assassination in San Francisco, about a year and a half ago, of Durham Stevens, who had been Prince Ito's right hand man in the affairs of the Korean government, following the Russo-Japanese war. Stevens had been a very active agent in carrying out Prince Ito's plans for the restoration of order in Korea, thereby incurring the hatred of a considerable element in Korea which was attached to the old order of things.

It was known that the lives of both Prince Ito and Durham Stevens were in constant jeopardy and every precaution was taken by the Japanese officers to protect them.

BOTH IN DANGER.

It is a curious coincidence that so long as the two remained in Korea, the very center of the disturbance, their lives were spared, but this was doubtless owing to the remarkably effective protective measures made to safeguard their persons. It remained for each of these men to meet his death after he had concluded his work in Korea and apparently had returned to ways of peace and safety.

Stevens had been granted a liberal pension by the Japanese government and had returned to America to rejoin his family, only to fall before the bullet of a vengeful Korean just as he crossed the portals of his own land. So Ito, after winding up his career in Korea and having devoted the remainder of his life to quiet investigation and the pursuit of ease, was shot down in Manchuria by a Korean when it was supposed he was no longer an object of their resentment.

DELAY NEGOTIATIONS.

A very probable result of this last assassination will be an indefinite postponement of the negotiations regarding the railroad conditions in Manchuria, which have so actively engaged the attention of great powers since August 31, the date of the signature of the treaty between China and Japan, which practically clothed the latter with authority to dictate the future construction of railroads in Southern Manchuria.

When these negotiations are resumed, after a period of mourning, it may be that the Japanese government will find itself in a position to come into closer accord with the understanding of the powers, especially America, regarding the exact meaning to be given to that part of the treaty of Portsmouth which declared against the cultivation of any special interests by either Japan or Russia in Manchuria.

Acting Secretary of War Huntington Wilson, upon reaching the department today, issued a statement upon the death of Prince Ito as follows:

DEATH UNANNOUNCED.

TOKIO, Oct. 25. — Up to 8 o'clock the death of Prince Ito had not been officially announced and it will not be until after the bestowal of posthumos honors.

To light the city is unusually quiet, the Japanese appearing to have been stunned by the tragedy. The public knows little of the facts and even the foreign office was without details this evening. The newspapers published extra editions but gave very little information.

Late in the afternoon the foreign ambassadors and diplomats, with members of the cabinet, gathered at the foreign office. One of the first diplomats to reach the foreign office was American Ambassador O'Brien.

Ambassador O'Brien said to a representative of the Associated Press:

FOR PEACE AND PROGRES.

"I have always regarded Prince Ito as a very valuable man and of great influence in Japan for the last 30 years. Even among the highest individuals his influence has always been for peace and progress. I regard his loss at this juncture as particularly unfortunate."

Premier Katsura and Field Marshal Prince Yamagata were among the high officials who gathered in the reception room of the foreign office. Count Komura, the foreign secretary, said he was unable to express in words his sorrow over the tragedy.

MIKADO HEARS NEWS.

Count Komura went to the Palace late in the afternoon and carried the ill-tidings to the Emperor. The latter showed unusual emotion and immediately summoned the court chamberlains and others of the imperial household. The Emperor's messenger, Oise, was charged with the duty of breaking the news to the princess Ito. Count Inouy, who was the oldest and the closest friend Prince Ito had, remained in Count Komura's room throughout the afternoon awaiting further information from Harbin.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral, but the highest honors probably will be accorded to the dead statesman. The warship Iwate has been ordered to sail for Darien tomorrow, where it will receive the body of Prince Ito and bring it to Yokohama. The Imperial Chamberlain will go with the Iwate and attend the body homeward.

Many of the newspapers blame agitators, including some foreigners in Korea.

ENGLAND NOT SURPRISED.

LONDON, Oct. 26. — The assassination of Prince Ito, who was regarded here as elsewhere in Europe as the maker of modern Japan, though everywhere deplored, is not regarded in official and diplomatic circles as surprising in view of the embittered resentment of the Koreans over the Japanese occupation of their home land.

Since the news of the murder was received, the Japanese Embassy has been filled with government officials, diplomats and other callers, while telegram of inquiry and condolence without number are being received.

The Japanese Embassy here, in common with other official centers, received its first intelligence of the assassination through the Associated Press dispatches from Tokio.

The outrage is regarded here as wholly political, although this single act of revenge is not thought likely to have any great effect on the political situation, either in Korea or Japan.

COMMISSION PRAISES ITO.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 26. — With words of appreciation of the policies and accomplishments of Prince Ito, the honorary Japanese commerical commissioners who arrived in this city from Boston early today learned of the assassination of the Japanese statesman.

Baron Shibusawa, was nearly prostrated for a time and wept. The members of the party were unanimous in praise of Prince Ito's leadership in what they called the "new Japan."

"The news of the assassination of Prince Ito is so sudden that I hesitate to believe it," said Baron Shibusawa. "Our country could sustain no greater loss than the death of this distinguished citizen.

LOVED BY PEOPLE.

"Personally, Prince Ito was a liberal and philanthropic man. He was liked by all people with whom he came in contact. Being the foremost maker of the new Japan, in the fifty years of his his present life he was often exposed to the danger of assassination but he had been fortunate.

"His political activities were manifold. Among them the most conspicuous was his institution of the new constitution. It was the Emperor who gave the constitution which was the most conspicuous change in the policy of Japan, and this was greatly due to Prince Ito's foresight.

"Prince Ito's policy regarding Korea was to guide the Emperor and people of Korea in such a way that they would have more confidence in Japan and would not risk their own destiny by rushing to any extremity.

"It would have been a satisfaction to the Prince himself to give up his life for his Majesty and for his country. I, as well as the rest of my countrymen, feel the loss greatly."

MEAT INSPECTORS ARE IN DEMAND

Government Is Up Against a Problem in Securing Competent Help

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. — The packing house and other interests have so monopolized the services of skilled meat inspectors that government officers charged with the enforcement of the pure food law are up against a problem in the labor market. Uncle Sam's jobs in this field have gone begging, it is said, because the Government pays salaries far less attractive than those offered by private concerns.

COMPETENT MEN SCARCE

The Bureau of Animal Industries uses a vast array of inspectors and assistant inspectors, and of the latter class there is a great need of man. Assistant inspectors pass upon the meat and meat food products at the slaughter houses, and receive $840 a year, and are promoted if their work is satisfactory. The scarcity of competent men for this particular service is so great that the civil service commission will seek to secure eligibles through an examination November 24 in all the principal cities of the United States. Hundreds of positions are open to capable men having had practical experience in the handling of meats.

RIBS FRACTURED BY FALLING OF TIMBERS

Charles Papke, a laborer employed in the Sunset Lumber yards, had a narrow escape from death this morning when, upon failing from a pile of lumber, the heavy timbers fell upon and around him, half burying him from sight.

He was rescued by his fellow laborers who removed him to the Emergency Hospital where it was found that three of his ribs had been fractured.

The injured man lives on Webster street between Third and Fourth streets.

SAILOR IS VICTIM OF FOOTPADS; LOSES $40

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. —Louis Torgeisen, a sailor, of Tacoma, was held up by three men at Third and Brannan streets early this morning. One of the thugs drew a pistol which he held close to his victim's head, while his companions searched him, securing $40 in cash.

HUSBAND LEAVES; WIFE TAKES ACID

Messenger Boy, Son Waits in Hospital Corridor as Doctors Work

Sixteen-year-old Richard Young, tear stained, hair awry and his messenger boy cap all askew, sobbed as if his heart would break in the hallway of the Emergency hospital, shortly after noon today, while in an adjoining room Steward Platt was administering antidotes for carbolic acid poisoning to the lad's mother.

The tearful youngster told of the troubles that had gathered to destroy the home and lay upon his little shoulders a burden that few of those of older years are called upon to bear.

On account of a family dispute the father, W. Young, a painter, left the rooms at 405 Tenth street, which serves the three as a home two days ago, vowing he would not return. The mother, Mrs. Florrie Young, became despondent at the turn of events and today at noon when the lad reported at the office of the messenger service he was told his mother had killed herself.

Rushing into a wild frenzy to where they lived, the lad arrived just when the patrol ambulance was bearing away his mother, moaning and screaming from the pain of the burns made by the acid which she had taken a few moments before in the hopes of ending her troubles. He followed the wagon until it drew up at the Emergency hospital.

When told his mother would recover his sobbing ceased, but he sighed heavily.

"A week ago," said the lad, "some one stole my bicycle. This is coming pretty thick on a young fellow, ain't it?"

TO DIVIDE ESTATE OF MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — A petition for letters of administration for the estate of Edward L. Jones was made by Edward A. Fothinghom, of 2123 California street in the Superior Court this morning.

Jones, it will be remembered, was killed on October 18 at Goshen, Tulare county, and was to have been married the following Wednesday to Miss Mary Pond of 1500 Central avenue, Alameda.

His funeral occurred on the day set for the wedding. The young man received $27,000 from the estate of his father, James M. Jones, and it is this fortune which is to be distributed.

the seventieth milestone, and says that he has spent his whole life in following the dictates of the "Divine Healer."

HAS DIVINE COLONY.

"Under Mr. Schlatter's guidance I have accomplished much," he says. "In 1904 I founded Jerusalem, New Mexico, which is now a thriving Christian village, where any one desiring to lead an upright life can go, and we will provide him with work and land and religious instruction which will save his soul.

"Our clergy at that point is a large one—all members of the Divine Catholic Church, which I founded. They do not live in idleness either as do the ministers of other faiths. They go into the fields and till for their living and for preaching the word of God they receive no pecuniary reward."

Speaking of the City of Zion, the religious colony which was founded by the late John Alexander Dowie, who Schlatter asserts is his brother, the "Divine Healer" maintains that God would not permit him to go within its gates.

ZION IS "UNHOLY."

"It is unholy ground," says Schlatter, "and though my brother gave his life to the building up of a place which he meant to be the purest colony of the new world, jealousy and spite which took root even before he died have wrecked it, and now saloons and theaters thrive in the midst of a people who in the beginning prayed for salvation."

Schlatter claims to have inherited from Dowie several islands south of the Fijis, which he is preparing to cut up into farms of 160 acres each for the benefit of any one desiring to go and live there, forsaking the world for a Christian life.

IS LAND OF POOR.

"I want this land to be open to the poor," declares the "apostle." "After I give it to them I shall expect them to make it their lifelong home, giving their life to the service of the world. There will be no taxation, no laws other than the law of God and all men shall be equal."

Schlatter and Bishop Schroder both wear the long flowing locks and long beards of the apostolic days, and invariably both are clothed in sweeping robes of black velvet, considerably the worse for wear. Around their necks on heavy cords are hung crosses of peculiar workmanship and Schlatter confines his gown at the waist with a heavy yellow cord. How long they intend to stay in this city neither man would say.

"We are in the hands of God," they declare, "and while there are sick and suffering to be healed at the touch of our hands we shall remain. At His word, however, we shall again fare forth, even though the call come in the middle of the night."

HIGH DIVER'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL, SAYS JURY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Accidental death was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury this morning in the case of James Mangels, the high diver at the Chutes, who was killed while performing his last fete several weeks ago.

Mangels, who is better known as Towers, and whose parents reside in Elmhurst, was said to have committed suicide. There is absolutely no evidence of his having attempted to end his life.

PUTS AN END TO STOMACH MISERY

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia go and You Will Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask you Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach. Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store, waiting for you.

HENEY IS EXPOSED BY FICKERT

UNION MEN HAVE NO USE FOR HENEY

Prosecutor's Hand Is Exposed by Injunction Suit in Court

WOMEN HEAR OF FRANCIS J. HENEY'S SLUM FEES

Indications Now Are That Spreckels' Man Will Be Badly Beaten By Fickert.

The final week of the municipal campaign opened yesterday with both Heney and Leland, the Spreckels-Phelan candidates, out of the running.

Notwithstanding last week was one of joy, it proved fatal to the Democratic candidate for mayor. His speech at Pollto hall last Wednesday night, in which he charged the candidates for Supervisors on the Union Labor ticket with being stools, has entirely eliminated any possible chance he may have had of being elected, as thousands of union men who were undecided as to their choice for mayor have been aroused to bitter antagonism toward the Democratic nominee on account of his slander of John A. Kelly, president of the Labor Council; John A. Walsh, president of the Iron Trades Council; Assemblyman Charles A. Nelson, business agent of the Building Trades Council, and other popular trades unionists who are aspirants for supervisor on the labor ticket.

LELAND MADE A TOOL.

Nothing has occurred during the campaign that has so stirred the anger of the workingmen as this slander, which has convinced them that Leland is merely the mouthpiece of Rudolph Spreckels and James D. Phelan, whose favorite method of warfare is attacking the character of any person with whom they differ.

Wherever politicians gathered today the opinion was unanimous that, as Leland could not have been elected without the votes of union men, he now is down and out ,the victim of a self-delivered solar plexus blow.

HENEY HAS NO CHANCE.

While Francis J. Heney never had a chance from the moment he was so overwhelmingly repudiated at the primary election, when citizens of every political affiliation expressed their contempt for the Spreckels hireling, the past week has only emphasized the crushing defeat that awaits the Arizonian on November 2.

Heney not only has been proved to be a secret enemy of organized labor, but his cowardly refusal to appear to the United States circuit court last Wednesday, as he had agreed to do four months ago over his own signature, and permit the unions to have a hearing in court against the injunction obtained by him in 1905, has rendered his defeat at the polls doubly certain.

Not only has the past week brought Heney the solid opposition of the trades unionists, but Charles M. Fickert's expose of Heney's black record as the attorney for the unfortunate women of the underworld—in which he succeeded Attorney George D. Collins, now in San Quentin—has humiliated the good women who were sufficiently deluded to have formed women Heney clubs.

HENEY'S SLUM PROFITS.

Finding themselves having been victimized into supporting a man who has accepted as fees money secured through unmentionable channels, the members of of the Women Heney club are justly indignant, and where once there was mistaken admiration there now is bitter contempt for the man who has accepted fees from the unfortunate women of the slums.

The past week has completely eliminated both the candidates of the Spreckels-Phelan combination

This the final week opens with Fickert having the field to himself, and with Crocker and McCarthy each fighting to gather in the scattering forces once supporting Leland.

To Stop a Cough In a Hurry.

With this recipe you can make a pint of cough remedy at home in five minutes A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price

Put 2½ oz of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a clean pint bottle and fill up with Granulated Sugar Syrup, made as follows: Take a cup of Granulated Sugar, add ½ pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes Take a teaspoonful every one two or three hours. The taste is very pleasant—children take it willingly Splendid too, for colds, chest pains, whooping cough, bronchitis, etc

Granulated Sugar makes the best syrup Pinex is you probably know Is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract now on of the weaker pine preparations will take its place If your druggist hasn't the real Pinex he can easily get it for you

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.

HELD-UP AND ROBBED BY SUPPOSED FRIENDS

Charles Linden, who was visiting this city last night, reports to the police that he was the victim of a treachery of two men he met in a saloon near Third and Franklin streets He treated them several times and when they suggested that all the three go "down the line" he assented

They had not proceeded more than a block when the two men at a point of a centrated." revolver compelled him to throw up his hands. His pockets were then turned inside out. The footpads secured $209. Linden giveh his residence at the Santa Fe hotel in San Francisco.

TRY THIS FOR COLDS

Mix half ounce of Concentrated pine compound with two ounces of glycerine and a half pint of good whisky; shake it well each time and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours.

These ingredients can be obtained from any good druggist.

This is said to be the quickest cough and cold cure known to science The Concentrated pine is a special pine product and comes only in half-ounce bottles, each inclosed in an air-tight case, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

SIMPSON WINS MEDAL ON REVOLVER RANGE

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Major M. W. Simpson made a record score in the field and staff officers' of the Fifth Infantry in the shoot held Sunday at Shellmound range. Chief Musician George Hollister of the regimental band also made a good showing. Both men were awarded gold medals. Lieutenant Sumner Crosby was a competitor but was obliged to retire from the range early to keep an engagement. His score was a good one.

COUNTY'S COFFERS FILLED BY TAXES

Steady Stream of Shekels Pour Into Collector's Office. Will Reach Big Figure

From $10,000 to $15,000 are being paid into the cashier of the county tax collector's office and the amounts continue to increase as the time draws near to the delinquency of the first installment on the last Monday in November.

During the last few days the big corporations and banks will come in with a rush and the receipts will then run up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In order to accommodate taxpayers who find it an inconvenience to come to the office in the court house and pay their tithes, County Tax Collector Barber is following the practice which he instituted at his first induction into office of having special days for visiting surrounding towns and holding forth at the local assessor's offices where county taxes are received by him.

VISITS SMALL TOWNS.

Today the tax collector is in Alameda. He visited Pleasanton on October 19, where he collected in round numbers $7000. Hayward was visited on October 24 and $8500 collected.

Livermore will be visited on October 28 and Centerville on October 30.

In order to facilitate business during the tax season an additional force of seventeen deputies have been put to work. The majority of them are old timers in "following the rolls," as the transit of the tax volumes through the assessor's, auditor's and tax collector's offices is called.

They are the following: P. M. Hageman, George E. Lewis, George Chase, J. P. Sarmento, E. O. Tuttle, W. H. Crocker, E. Ellmer, J. A. Webster, E. L. Kirk, H. P. Mathews, A. P. Wilson, W. R. Barstow, B. B Bailey, J. W. Haas, J. G. Hawks, C. H. Ledgett and W. J. Sloan.

EDWARD WICHMAN, ILL SIX MONTHS, SUCCUMBS

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Edward F. Wichman, a well known Alamedan, died at his home, 1001 Santa Clara avenue, yesterday morning, after a lingering illness.

Six months ago, when the life of Mr Wichman was despaired of, he was sent to Siskiyou county to recuperate, but, although he stayed there about five months, he did not regain his health and he came home three weeks ago.

The deceased is the son of Mrs. M Wichman and the brother of Henry, Robert and Carlton Wichman. Two sisters survive him. The Wichman family is well known in this city and has been prominent in the affairs of the west end, where they have resided for a number of years.

Before he was taken ill, about nine months ago Mr. Wichman was employed as a bookkeeper for Lubben Brothers. He was 34 years of age and a native of California.

Orrine Cured Him of DRUNKENNESS

Her Husband Now Spends His Evenings at Home.

She bought Orrine from the druggist in her home town—she bought it after reading the Orrine Free Booklet. In the Booklet she read of the wonderful cures of drunkenness which were accomplished by the aid of Orrine. On page ten of the Booklet she read the liberal guarantee to refund all money paid for Orrine if it failed to effect a cure. After reading the Booklet she became convinced that Orrine was a remedy of unusual merit. She decided to purchase it and cure her husband of drunkenness Orrine cured him. Now she is a happy wife in a happy home. Orrine helped to purchase the home. Read the following letter from Walter K. Schmidt Co., 84 Canal St. Grand Rapids, Mich.:

"For a number of years we have been agents for Orrine. During that time we have had occasion to be convinced, beyond a doubt, that Orrine is a reputable remedy, worthy of recommendation. One of the many cases coming to our attention, a mechanic earning $22.50 per week, who had not taken a full pay envelope home for over five years, was induced to try Orrine, a complete cure being the result. The man became worth more to his firm, receiving an advance in pay, and has purchased a home. The house stands there showing the merits of Orrine. We can not help but feel that we were most fortunate when we secured the agency for this reliable liquor cure."

Orrine is prepared in two forms. No. 1, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless given secretly in food or drink. Orrine No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to cure themselves. Orrine costs only $1 a box. The guarantee is in each box. Write for Free Orrine Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to Orrine Co. 688 Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. Orrine is for sale in this city by the Owl Drug Co., Broadway and Thirteenth streets.

They know Orrine is a reliable and efficacious remedy for drunkenness and they will not offer you a substitute.

TWO WOMEN IN SUICIDE PACT NEAR DEATH

Hang Themselves in County Jail But Are Both Cut Down

HEROIC EFFORTS NEEDED TO SAVE THEIR LIVES

Both Awaiting Deportation Unfortunates Decide to End All Earthly Troubles

Ah Moy and Ah Toy, Chinese women, held as federal prisoners at the county jail, entered into a suicide pact, and in the attempt at its fulfillment both tried to hang themselves last night shortly before 11 o'clock from a pipe running across the ceiling of their cell, with silken cords.

They placed a chair on their cot and, climbing upon that, tied one end of the cord to the pipe overhead and the other end was wrapped tightly about their necks. From the manner in which the nooses were tied it is evident the two women assisted each other in preparing for self execution.

When the nooses were adjusted the women kicked the chair out from under them, and it was the noise resulting from its fall to the floor that aroused Chief Jailer and Mrs. White and Deputy Sheriff Johnson, who, upon going to the cell occupied by the women, saw the two figures dangling from the ceiling.

Deputy Sheriff Johnson entered the cell and cut the cords that were rapidly strangling the women.

LIVES ARE SAVED.

Dr. Irwin was hastily summoned from the emergency hospital, and after considerable effort restored both women to consciousness.

Ah Toy, the younger of the two, who is about 20 years of age, narrowly escaped strangulation, and for a time it was feared she would not survive. Ah Moy is 30 years of age.

Both women are being held for deportation, and have been at the county jail for the past three months. They were there at the time Mrs. Sampson, the Emeryville woman who drowned her babe, attempted hanging when an inmate of the prison, and Mrs. White, the matron of the jail, is of the opinion that she set the example for the two Chinese women.

Both protest at being returned to China and for several weeks have been chanting in their broken pathos, "No go home, hope die."

"OPSONIC TREATMENT" IS TRIED ON ANIMALS

PORT COLLINS, Colo., Oct. 26.—What is known as the Opsonic Treatment, discovered in England several years ago and applied to humans in combatting germ diseases, is now being used with equal success in treating lower animals. The veterinary department of the Colorado Agricultural College has successfully demonstrated, it is announced, that horses, cattle and sheep suffering from afflictions accompanied by suppuration are reached by the Opsonic method.

The discovery was made thirty days ago, but kept secret, by Dr. B. F. Kaupp, pathologist, and Professor F. G. Sackett, bacteriologist, both connected with the college, and they have begun the manufacture of an anti-suppuration vaccine Inoculation of animals suffering from fistula, poll evil or similar diseases produces fluid that weakens the disease germs and strengthens the white blood cells so that they can aid in the work of germ destruction.

It is claimed the discovery will revolutionize veterinary practice for certain germ diseases.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR KIDNEYS

A Simple Mixture of Well-Known Ingredients for Weak or Inactive Kidneys or Bladder, Said to Be the Best That Can Be Had.

"Mix one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu, one-half ounce Murax compound and six ounces good pure gin." Take one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day, after eating. This simple treatment, taken in time and according to directions, is the best remedy obtainable for symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble, such as pains in the back, frequent, scanty or highly colored urination, soreness in the groin or hip, rheumatic pains in the joints, dizziness, etc. All the above ingredients can be bought separately and mixed at home, or any good druggist can put up the prescription. This prescription cleanses clogged up or inactive kidneys and restores them to their natural function of filtering and sifting impure waste matter and uric acid from the blood.

11 JURORS SWORN FOR DE LANCEY CASE

Two More Yet to Be Chosen Before Taking of the Testimony

cepted juror, and Judge Brown ordered the clerk to draw two more veniremen to fill the vacancies in the box. It fell to the lot of Morris Isaacs and F. H. Bruning to respond.

Upon direct examination Isaacs stated in reply to questions put by Assistant District Attorney Hynes that he was a merchant, resided at 757 Eighth street, Oakland, and that he conducted a chain of stores throughout the state. He said that he was slightly acquainted with De Lancey, had known his wife since she was a little girl, and had known her father, William H. MacKinnon, for many years. He was a friend of De Lancey's father, had read the newspaper accounts but had expressed no opinion concerning them, other than to express to his wife regret that such promising men as De Lancey and A. J. Flood had gotten into such serious trouble.

Isaacs said that he had known Flood a long while, and was a warm friend of his father.

WOULD FOLLOW LAW.

"If you were selected as a juror in this case, knowing all of the parties concerned as well as you do, could you decide the case impartially and without prejudice?"

"I would follow the law and the evidence, although under the circumstances I had rather not serve as a juror in this case," replied Isaacs.

"As a matter of fact, Mr. Isaacs," asked the assistant prosecutor, "don't yo uthink, knowing all these people as you do, that the prosecution would have to make out a stronger case than usual against this defendant to convince you of his guilt?"

"I would expect the prosecution to prove its case," was the reply.

"And you would not let your friendship sway you from doing your duty towards the people in this case?"

"I would not. While I should regret to have to pass judgment upon De Lancey, if it was necessary, still I would do my duty as a juror and a citizen. If I was satisfied after hearing the testimony that De Lancey committed the crime for which he is being tried, I would find him guilty, despite my personal acquaintance and friendship."

"Would the fact that defendant replaced the money after he embezzled it have any weight with you, if the testimony showed that the crime was committed?"

"It would not," replied the merchant. "Yet, I take it, you would like to see the testimony show the innocence of defendant, would you not?"

"I certainly should," replied Isaacs. "Any fair man with humane instincts ought to feel that way, but in weighing the testimony I would not let that feeling influence me."

PASSED BY PROSECUTION.

Isaacs said that he would weigh testimony of other alleged crimes introduced to show guilty intent in the case at bar and give it the consideration it was worth. He said that he was not prejudiced against expert testimony nor against handwriting testimony.

The talesman was passed by the state, and when Attorney Frick took him in hand for the defense, Isaacs said that he was well acquainted with the District Attorney, his assistant and other members of his staff, as well as Attorney George W. Reed, head counsel for former Public Administrator Gray, but that this fact would not induce him to give more weight to any testimony they might give than of that of others.

MUCH JURY EXPERIENCE.

Isaacs said that he had had considerable jury experience, that he understood the doctrines of "criminal intent" and "reasonable doubt" and said that as to all questionable legal points he would be guided by the instructions of the court.

In considering the evidence bearing on the intent the talesman said that he would give due regard to the circumstances surrounding it, and with reference to reasonable doubt he understood that the doctrine applied to each piece of testimony as well as all of it in a mass. He understood that expert testimony was opinion testimony and would consider it as such. The defense passed Isaacs.

Taking up the examination of F. H. Bruning, the district attorney brought out the fact that he was a retired candy manufacturer and resided at 1021 Myrtle street, Oakland.

Bruning said that he had read about the public administrator scandals in THE TRIBUNE, which he reads regularly and that he had discussed them freely with his family.

"Have you formed an opinion from what you have read?" asked the district attorney.

"Yes, I have," replied the talesman.

"But aside from that you have no opinion?"

"I have not."

"Then, as a matter of fact, your opinion has only been based upon what you have read and would cut no figure in the trial of the case?"

NO SET OPINION.

"That is it exactly. Newspapers are not always in a position to know everything, and I take it that this is true with reference to this case. In fact, I have no set opinion that would prevent me from giving this defendant a fair and impartial trial."

The State passed Bruning and when Attorney Frick took him in charge for the defense, the talesman said that when he read the articles in THE TRIBUNE he was considerably agitated over the affair, particularly with reference to the loose methods George Gray had employed as a public official in the conduct of his office. He said that as far as Gray was concerned he had formed a very decided opinion. Assuming that THE TRIBUNE'S accounts were correct, and that opinion was predicated upon the assumption that estates had been badly administered, that they had been looted by De Lancey and that if George Gray had conducted the affairs of his office as they should have been the trouble never would have occurred.

MACKINNON'S TESTIMONY.

Bruning said that he had based that opinion for the most part upon the grand jury testimony given by William H. MacKinnon and published in THE TRIBUNE.

A few more questions brought out the fact that it would take strong evidence on the part of the defense to shake the opinion he had formed, whereupon District Attorney Donahue put an end to the examination by stating that in view of the opinion the people would consent to Bruning being excused for cause, which privilege the defense took advantage of.

This left Morris Isaacs in the box and the prosecution excused him, exhausting the last peremptory challenge it had to exercise.

Two vacancies still remaining in the box the court ordered two more veniremen drawn and John Schneider and Jefferson Gillman proved to be the men.

RECESS IS TAKEN.

Questioned by Assistant District Attorney Hynes, Talesman Schneider said that he was a retired contractor, resided at 720 Twenty-ninth street, Oakland, and that he had lived here for forty-one years. After being put through a long line of questioning, Schneider said that he knew of no reason why he could not try the case fairly and impartially, and was passed by the State.

At this juncture court took a recess until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Attorney Chapman cross-examined Talesman Schneider when Judge Brown convened court this afternoon. The talesman said that he was under no obligations to the District Attorney's office; that he only knew George Gray and A. J. Flood by sight. He was not acquainted with De Lancey, had formed no opinion as to the merits of the case at issue and could try the case without regard to anything he had read in the newspapers concerning it.

"Do you know that the newspapers have tried this case?" asked Attorney Chapman.

"No," replied Schneider, "I have paid very little attention to what they have said."

"Don't you know that the newspapers have been trying this case for the last five weeks?"

"I know nothing about that. As I have said I have paid very little attention to what has appeared in the papers."

"If the evidence showed only that this defendant was probably guilty, would you vote to convict him?"

"Not if a reasonable doubt of his guilt remained."

"If eleven of the jurors should be in favor of conviction and you held the opposite view, would you surrender to them?"

"I believe I would. I don't see how I could buck against eleven men."

"Then you would surrender your honest conviction to the other side?"

"I think I would."

"On the other hand, if eleven jurors voted for acquittal and you favored a verdict of guilty, would you join them in their conclusion?"

"I believe I would. I don't see how I could buck against the opinion of eleven men."

"Have you anything against the District Attorney or his assistant?"

"No, I have not."

"Have you anything against either counsel for defendant?"

"I have nothing against Frick, and that trouble between you (Chapman) and me, I have forgotten long ago. I have nothing against you now. I was very angry for many years, but it's a weak man who can't forget and forgive—"

ALL IS FORGIVEN.

"I have forgiven you long ago," broke in Chapman, smiling and giving Attorney Frick a knowing wink.

"And I have forgiven you. That evens the thing up and at present I have nothing against anybody."

Whereupon the audience laughed heartily in which the court joined and the defense passed Schneider.

Assistant District Attorney Hynes examined Talesman Gillam. He resides at 1630 Thirteenth avenue, Oakland, and is a grocer by occupation. The prosecution passed him after putting only a few questions.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Judge Brown convened the afternoon session of court yesterday at 1:30 o'clock, whereupon Attorney Frick took up the examination of Talesman Fair for the defense.

Fair said that he was not acquainted with George Gray, former Public Administrator, and said that he had read nothing about the George Hite Cook estate nor about any of the matters arising from the Grand Jury investigation of the affairs of the Public Administrator's office. He was not acquainted with A. J. Flood and gave satisfactory answers to questions as to his attitude towards "criminal intent," "reasonable doubt," the instructions of the court, "conversion" and "restoration." The talesman said that he had had considerable experience as a juryman in criminal cases and that he was quite familiar with the rights and privileges of defendant under the law.

Fair said he would consider the repayment made by de Lancey, the intent therein and the manner in which the business of the former Public Administrator's office was conducted, the books and accounts were kept, and that he would give the same weight to the testimony presented by the defense as to that of the State, everything being equal, and that if either the district attorney or his assistant went on the witness stand, he would not give their testimony any greater weight than he would the other witnesses.

He would not give more attention to the arguments of one side than he would to those of the other, and with reference to the testimony of experts, Fair said that he would accept it as "opinion" testimony and consider and weigh it as such.

PASSED BY DEFENSE.

Fair agreed that he would not take the opening statement of the case by the district attorney as testimony, and then the defense passed him to peremptory challenge.

After an intermission of 5 minutes, at 3 o'clock, Judge Brown directed opposing counsel to finally dispose of Von Duren, Fair and Heritz, announcing that of the five peremptory challenges it was entitled to, the prosecution had two left, while the defense still had five of its original ten to its credit.

VON DUREN IS ACCEPTED.

The people excused Heritz and the defense excused Fair.

"The people are satisfied," said the assistant prosecutor.

Judge Frick said the defense was satisfied and Von Duren was sworn in and excused from further duty until tomorrow morning.

Three more jurors being yet needed to fill the box, the court ordered Clerk Rudolph to draw the fourth panel from among the veniremen. Those who responded were A. G. Dexter, M. L. Furtado and George W. Prescott.

Dexter, when question by Assistant District Attorney Hynes, stated that he was a retired sporting goods and bicycle merchant and that he resided at 1615 Oak street, Alameda, and that he could try the case fairly and impartially. He was passed by the State.

NEVER HEARD OF DE LANCEY.

Attorney Chapman, for the defense, brought out the fact that Dexter had never read about nor heard of the Public Administrator scandals, that he did not know De Lancey nor George Gray and that he had never heard of either of them as having been connected with the office of the Public Administrator. Dexter was passed by the defense.

M. L. Furtado, in response to questions put by the assistant prosecutor, said that his home was in San Leandro and that he was a retired merchant. He said that he knew of no reason why he could not try the case fairly and impartially. He was passed by the prosecution.

After considerable interrogation along lines that have been followed by the defense in the examination of preceding jurors, Attorney Frick passed Furtado.

PRESCOTT PASSED TO CHALLENGE

Talesman Prescott was next examined and it was nearly 6 o'clock when court adjourned. Prescott is a retired carpenter and resides at 448 Moss avenue, Oakland. He proved perfectly satisfactory to the prosecution so far as his general qualifications to try the case were concerned, and Assistant District Attorney Hynes passed him to the defense, after putting a few questions to him.

Attorney Frick, for the defense, then took him in hand and carried the cross-examination into the usual details that have characterized his exhaustive handling of jurors. Prescott's attitude towards "criminal intent," "circumstantial evidence," "restitution" and "reasonable doubt," as well as expert testimony, was probed and finally the defense passed the talesman.

BALLOON RACE TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Argument Over Cup Results in Arrangements for Third Flight

Owing to a complaint registered by the officials of the San Francisco Aero club, the balloon race for the silver trophy cup which was won by the balloon "City of Oakland," on Sunday last, will again be run on Sunday next.

Miss Margaret Miller and Miss Genevieve Schaffer, the young women who sailed in the last race, will not, it is said, take part in the coming contest which will definitely settle the winner.

The victory of the local balloon in the race two weeks ago was disputed, although Captain Van Tassel who piloted it made the greatest distance from the starting point.

BOTH COLLAPSED.

His balloon was towed to the shores of South City, where it collapsed, while Captain Baldwin in the Queen of the Pacific, although not sailing his craft so far as his rival, collapsed in the bay. The contention of the Pacific Aero Club that the spot where the balloon collapsed marked the end of the race, has been conceded.

Captain J. C. Mars, manager, and Robert W. Martland, president of the Oakland Aero Club are planning a campaign in the interest of the local organization with a view of affiliating with the Aero Club of America. Two hundred or more members must be secured before this can be effected. Mars and Van Tassel will soon inaugurate a campaign to secure that number.

The local organization plans the construction of an aerodrome for the housing of balloons, and the installation of a field for which aviation contests can be held.

PUGILISTS MIXED IN BIG SWINDLE

Workings of the Maybray Gang May Involve Fighters of Note

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 26.—According to charges made against the Maybray gang, under arrest in Iowa, for alleged swindles in various parts of the United States, prize fighters, wrestlers, turfmen, foot racers and almost every class of athletes, except baseball players, have been engaged in gigantic deals for several years, fleecing the victims of various amounts, totaling above a million.

"The scope of the Maybray gang is far reaching and some prominent people will be involved before long," says United States Inspector J. S. Swanson. "We evidence tending to show that majority of the wrestling matches are framed up before the men meet and that many boxing bouts are prearranged to catch the sucker. There will be at least half a hundred fighters now before the public that will be drawn into cases against Maybray and this gang, who see to have worked from coast to coast."

BOG PEAT TO BE THE COMING FUEL

Vast Deposits Spot the Land; Government to Develop New Industry

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—Experiments with bog peat by experts of the United States geological survey are expected to produce from the marshes of the United States a new fuel to take the place of the rapidly disappearing coal supply.

Peat is utilized in Europe for developing light, heat and power, but no serious attempt has ever been made in this country to take advantage of the vast deposits that dot the country. These deposits, on a basis of $3 a ton, are estimated to have a valuation of more than $38,000,000,000—a greater sum than is represented by all the property, stock, implements and building owned by the farmers of the United States.

The Government has been aroused by the wasteful manner in which the coal of the country has been used, and a thorough investigation is being made to discover other means of developing power. The Department of the Interior only a few days ago announced the withdrawal from entry of several hundred thousand acres of public lands to conserve the water power.

The experiments with peat have led to the discovery that the bogs are generally situated far from the coal fields. The states containing the greatest deposits are the Eastern Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, New York, the New England States, New Jersey, portions of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

Aviator Falls 20 Feet; Airship Is Wrecked

DONCASTER, England, Oct. 26.—At the aviation meeting yesterday, M. Leblon fell twenty feet, but was not hurt. His machine was wrecked.

His fall was an act of self-sacrifice. He was flying at a low elevation when the wind suddenly whirled the machine around and drove it toward the spectators. Leblon had only an instant to choose between rising almost vertically at great risk to himself or crashing into the onlookers without harm to himself. He chose the former course.

There was barely room between the machine and the crowd for the aeroplane to rise, but Leblon's prompt manipulation of the gear just enabled it to do so and it cleared the heads of the spectators, whisking off the hats of men in the front row.

Skating Rink at Idora Park Opens Again Tomorrow Evening

Management Will Give Free Lessons to All Those Who Desire to Learn--Ladies' Classes Are Now Being Formed and the Only Charge Will be for the Use of Skates--Rink is the Largest in the World.

The skating rink at Idora Park opens for the winter season tomorrow night with a grand reunion of all the skaters of Alameda county.

"The rink is finer than ever," said Park Manager Bernard P. Miller today, "and we expect a big crowd on the opening night. We have made arrangements this year to give free lessons to all who wish to learn and have employed a large corps of teachers for this work. Skating is the most exhilarating exercise and one of the most delightful sports enjoyed by Americans, and to be able to skate well is an accomplishment to be proud of.

"We expect to make quite a feature of the free lessons," continued Mr. Miller, "and will be ready tomorrow night or any time thereafter to arrange with those who wish to learn. We will probably have classes for ladies in the mornings, and, until all the days are taken up, will be pleased to arrange the time so that those who desire it can have their own crowd for a class, and thus learn to skate in company with their friends. We have already made arrangements with twenty ladies belonging to some whist club who are going to learn and have promised to set aside some hour during the week, convenient to them all, when our instructors will teach them. It isn't hard to learn to skate if you have a good teacher, and we have secured the services of several of the finest instructors in the country."

Mr. Miller explained that the only charge in connection with these lessons would be the regular 25c admission charge to the rink. His idea in giving free lessons is to teach people to skate, for the more skaters there are the greater will be the patronage of the rink.

"I know of a number of ladies who are going to learn to skate this season," said an enthusiastic little woman this morning. "I paid $10.00 to learn last year and wouldn't sell my ability to skate for ten times the price I paid. It is simply delightful to be able to glide over the floor ten, fifteen or twenty feet at a stroke, with scarcely an effort. It just makes me feel fine and my complexion has cleared and my health has improved wonderfully. I can hardly wait for the rink to open, and both my husband and myself are planning to go out tomorrow night. It will be fine when all my friends learn—then we can go out by ourselves in the afternoons and have stacks of fun."

Idora Park rink is the largest roller skating rink in the world and one of the finest in America. The opening tomorrow night is attracting a great deal of interest, as skaters have been unable to use the rink for some time on account of the expositions that were held during September and October. The admission price of 25c includes admission to the park and to the rink, as well as the use of skates.

WOULD PREVENT SALE OF LIQUOR TO INDIANS

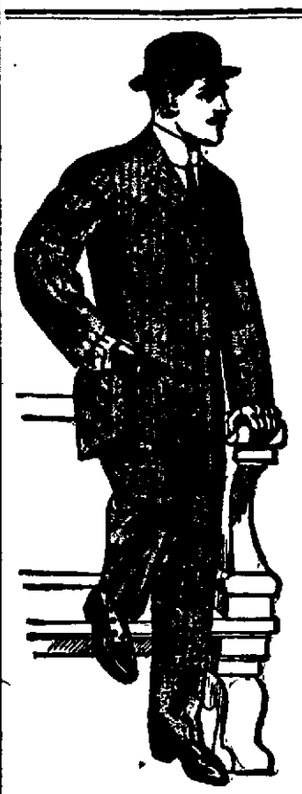

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—A campaign more vigorous than was ever before attempted by the government is under full swing in every State where there is an Indian reserve or community for the purpose of preventing the sale of liquor to Indians.

The manner in which liquor is being kept away from the braves is indicated in the report of the Indian Secret Service. During the last month Chief Special Officer Johnson scheduled 134 new cases, 133 arrests and sixty grand jury indictments, growing out of liquor selling to the red men. Only five cases were discharged. In San Bernardino, Cal., district alone there were twenty-three cases and twenty-two convictions.

SUIT OVER CONTRACT IS SUDDENLY DROPPED

There was a sudden suspension of the trial of the case of the Century Electric Company against the Burrell Construction Company in Judge Wells' court this morning. The plaintiff sued for $1[illegible] the balance due on a sub-contract in the amount of $[illegible] for electrical work on the Honolulu barracks, which were constructed by the Burrell Company for the United States Government at a contract price of $260,000.

The jury had been partly impaneled and the costs had run up to a total of $55 for the morning when the attorneys looked significantly across the intervening table. There was a whispered consultation and both sides united in asking for a continuation for sixty days, which was granted, as it was intimated in that time they would get together and their monetary differences adjusted.

THINK SHERIFF MURDERED OR SHANGHAIED

POCKET BOOK FOUND ON THE WATERFRONT

Search by Score of Officers Fails to Bring Out Any Further Light

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—It is believed that Willard Dennis, deputy sheriff, bookkeeper in the department of the sheriff's office of this county, and a candidate at the coming primaries as a member of the board of education, has lost his life in San Pedro, where he disappeared last Saturday night. His friends are convinced that he has been robbed and murdered by throwing his body into the bay or shanghaied on board some outgoing ship from the port.

TELEPHONES WIFE.

Dennis was electioneering in San Pedro last Saturday night. Accompanied by a couple of friends he was making the rounds of the harbor town distributing his election cards and talking with voters. During the evening he left his friends and about 11 o'clock telephoned his wife in this city that he was busy with his election canvass and would remain at San Pedro all night.

When he did not put in an appearance at home on Sunday his wife became alarmed and yesterday reported her husband's disappearance to the sheriff's office.

A thorough search of all hotels and lodging houses of San Pedro by a score of officers failed to disclose any trace of the missing man.

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Today an employe of the city engineer's office brought to the sheriff's office a bunch of keys and a small note book carried by Dennis, which he found on the dock at the Catalina boat landing in San Pedro yesterday. From this it was considered even more certain that Dennis had been murdered or shanghaied.

The finding of his effects on the edge of the dock practically convinces his friends that he was slugged or robbed at that spot and his body probably rolled into the bay. Dennis was thirty-seven years of age. He was of temperate habits, had no known enemies and unlikely to get into trouble. His domestic relations also were happy.

INSANE MAN MAKES ATTACK ON WATCHMAN

SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 26.—Carl Fillmore, an insane mechanic of Belvedere, who is confined in the county jail here, because he believed himself to be a wealthy stock raiser and frightened the citizens of that place by parading the streets with an ax on his shoulder last night, made an attack upon the nightwatchman who had opened the cell door to stop the man from flooding the jail with water from a bathtub.

About midnight J. Gouldy, the watchman of the jail, heard Fillmore laughing and singing in a hilarious manner. At first he gave no heed to the disturbance, but soon the cries of the other prisoners were joined to those of the crazy man, and an investigation followed.

Gouldy found the corridor of the jail flooded with water. The prisoners, believing that the entire jail was becoming submerged, were thrown into a panic.

Then Gouldy entered the insane ward and turned off the faucet. Fillmore sprang upon him, forcing him to the floor, at the same time trying to seize him by the throat. Gouldy unlocked the door of a trusty's cell and Charles Binny the trusty rushed to Gould's aid, and together they managed to subdue the maniac.

Fillmore was committed to the asylum at Napa today.

COTTON PICKING AUTOMOBILE

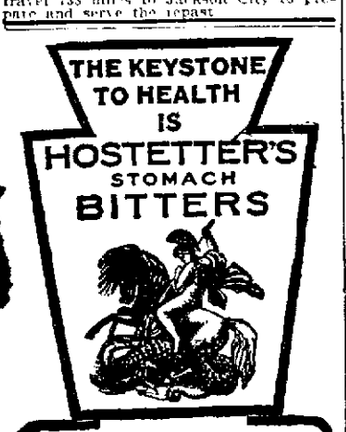

The Southern planter has often longed for something to take the place of the colored brother in the cotton field. To harvest the fleecy staple something like 5,000,000 of the black folk are needed. Along has come a man who has been thinking of picking cotton by machinery, and at last an automobile for the cotton fields has come into use.

It seems strange that no one has ever thought that the contents of the cotton boll could be pulled out by mechanical fingers instead of human fingers. That is what the picker does. Instead of two arms, however, it has no less than eight, and a 10-year-old darky can be trained in an hour to guide two of these arms at such a rate that a machine which traveled over a cotton field in Alabama picked and bagged six bales of the staple, weighing 500 pounds each, in a day of ten hours. This beats the liveliest work which has ever been accomplished by human labor. With an active cotton picker it costs very nearly $5 a bale, because the amount of cotton to a pound is so enormous.—Van Norden's Magazine.

'VAUDEVILLE WAR' ENDS IN MEMPHIS

Rival to Orpheum After Short Fight Drops Out of Sight

The "vaudeville war" which began in the East several months ago when William Morris announced his intention of opening several vaudeville theaters in opposition to the Orpheum Circuit, and which "war" attracted some attention in the West because of the announcement that there might be Morris theaters established on the coast, has come to a rather quick conclusion in the East. The Memphis News-Scimitar recently printed the following editorial, giving the news of the conclusion of the "vaudeville war" in Memphis, where the battle was supposed to be quite fierce, Memphis being a pivotal point in the East:

"The vaudeville war is over. Guns have ceased to roar, the smoke of battle has cleared away and today finds the Orpheum sole and undisputed master of the field. For only a few weeks William Morris, the much over-heralded, figured in the Memphis amusement arena, and then, pouff, flash and bang, and he is gone. A conference is held in New York and Manager Morris of the Jefferson is notified that his supply of William Morris acts will cease.

"There is a saying in the text-books on political economy that competition generally ends in combination and concentration. The present case may be the exception that proves the rule. Certainly its is an exception. There is no combination as the result of the battle of the show places. William Morris just ceases to be, as far as Memphis is concerned.

"Morris vaudeville did not take in Memphis, because it did not live up to the standard it predicted for itself. It came to Memphis with an advance heralding that promised bills beyond anything ever seen here. The inaugural program led people to think of this as a fair sample of that corporation's show, and then started the next week to disillusion its patrons. The following bills were not bad—they simply did not live up to the standard, and therefore disappointed, for they had the Orpheum shows to contend with and the Orpheum standard is high.

"Over the stores of many English firms are signs, which read: 'Sole purveyors to the king.' The Orpheum is now sole purveyor of vaudeville to the people of Memphis.

"The Orpheum at the start of the present season has always set a high standard for itself. In the race of competition it has proceeded to live up to it. The theater-goers of Memphis have been educated as to what constitutes good vaudeville, and their appetites have grown upon what they have been fed. They know what good vaudeville is, they appreciate it and they patronize it. Their theatrical palates have become accustomed to the good things, and they will not be satisfied with jaded and stale offerings such as the Morris sort. They can show their disapproval by a falling off in their patronage.

"The Orpheum has set a high standard for itself. It is not likely that it will be lowered, for to lower it would in reality mean financial loss, and the trade-mark 'ORPHEUM' is a favorite household word hard to compete with or contend against."

MOTHER SHIP TO GO WITH FLOTILLA

Navy Yard Officials Receive Orders for Commissioning of Cruiser New Orleans

VALLEJO, Cal., Oct. 26. — Orders have been received by the officials of the Mare Island Navy Yard here for the commissioning of the cruiser New Orleans, which has been out of commission while undergoing repairs for the last two years. Naval officials are making preparations to have the cruiser ready for sea December 15.

It is reported that the New Orleans will be placed in command of Commander J. J. Knapp, now commanding the Monitor Cheyenne, held here in reserve.

Preparations are being made for target practice at Magdalena Bay. The Iris, recently commissioned as mother ship for torpedo boats, will accompany the flotilla of destroyers to the practice. The naval auxiliary transport Buffalo, under command of Commander Guy Brown, is under orders to sail Thursday for Magdalena Bay to act as station ship during target practice.

It is probable that the New Orleans will be sent to Magdalena Bay for target practice and thence to the Asiatic station.

YOUNG WOMAN IS SENT TO STOCKTON ASYLUM

Insanity and divorce are running close in the race for supplying the judges of the Superior Court with plenty to do.

With today and yesterday six cases of insanity came up for examination in the different departments and only one, that of Jennie Olsen, was found to be without cause. The other five were committed to the various insane hospitals.

The case of Violet Edwards was particularly pitiful. She was found wandering about in the vicinity of Niles Canyon in a demented condition and removed to Providence Hospital, where she became so frenzied that it required the aid of the police to assist in taking her to the insane ward at the Emergency hospital. She exhibited a vicious disposition and scratched, bit and fought with her nurses. She is a rather prepossessing and well dressed girl, but her language was the foulest that could be uttered. Nothing is known about her and she was sent to Stockton by Judge Ellsworth under the fictitious name of Violet Edwards.

Mrs. Joseph Leary, the wife of the Southern Pacific train dispatcher, was committed to Agnews by Judge Wells. She has been carefully attended at her home until she broke away yesterday and raised dickens around the City Hall and also created a scene in Judge Wells' court, when undergoing examination, by climbing upon the jurist's desk.

Among the other unfortunates from whom the great gift of intelligence has been deprived them and were committed to the various institutions are R. E. Taylor, a Fruitvale painter; Mrs. E. Murphy of Berkeley and Mrs. Ida Bernardi.

Heinze Gets Ten Day Stay in Jail

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Arthur P. Heinze, who was convicted last June of having advised a witness in the United Copper Co. investigation to evade the service of a grand jury subpoena was sentenced today by Judge Ray in the United States Circuit Court to pay a fine of $250 and be imprisoned for ten days in the New York city prison. Judge Ray declined to grant a stay.

MILITARY HISTORIAN IS DEAD IN PARIS

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Colonel Theodore A. Dodge, the military historian of New York and Paris, died to day in Versailles. He was born at Pittsfield, Mass., in 1842.

DE LARA IS STILL HELD IN PRISON

Technical Errors in the $3000 Bonds Delay His Release

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—L. G. De Lara, the imprisoned Mexican attorney and author, was not released on bond today as expected. There was found to be some technical errors in the $3000 bonds provided, and the prisoner will not regain his liberty before tomorrow. De Lara's two sureties are C. C. Reynolds, of the Harper-Reynolds Hardware Co. and Alfred M. Salyer, of the Salyer, Maumiester Company.

Reynolds is prominent in the business life of the city and Salyer is well known. Both are rated as wealthy.

There were no developments today in the effort being made by De Lara's defenders to secure consent from Washington, for a public hearing of the charges against De Lara, instead of the private trial before Chief Inspector Ridgway of the Immigration Service.

HATS OR HAIR? MEN MUST CHOOSE

Claims Race Will Be Bald in Six Generations Unless Head-Covering Is Abandoned

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Unless hats are abandoned the race will be bald in six generations.

This is the opinion of Dr. W. A. Guild, a cousin of former Governor Curtis Guild of Massachusetts, who is a visitor here.

"Men and women must go bareheaded if they would prevent universal alopecia," said Dr. Guild. "Men are to blame for the baldness which now is becoming apparent in women. The disease is hereditary. Fathers are bald and their sons early display similar tendencies. Where one or two successive generations have little hair on their heads it can almost be taken for granted that the next generation will be prematurely bald."

Harry Thaw Loses In Court of Appeals

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Harry K. Thaw's contention that he was illegally committed to the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, following his acquittal on the charge of having murdered Stanford White in New York City, was overruled today by the Court of Appeals.

The court affirmed the appellate division, second division, which upheld a decision of the Supreme Court, Justice Mills of White Plains dismissing a writ of habeas corpus refusing to order Thaw's release from Matteawan. There was no opinion, the court taking the opinions of Justices Jenks and Rich of the appellate division.

SAN FRANCISCO SOCIETY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Eleanor Martin has bidden a score of friends to her home this evening to meet Miss Fay, who is planning to return to Europe in the very near future.

His excellency, the Spanish minister to Washington, Rodrigo de Saavedra Vincent, Marquis de Villalobar, bade adieu to San Francisco yesterday at a most enjoyable reception given in the ballroom of the St. Francis hotel. The Spanish Choral Society sang most delightfully and a large number of representative people were present to applaud the stirring Castalian airs.

Among those noted in the audience were Mr. and Mrs. Duplessis Beylard, Mrs. Edward Eyre, Miss Laura McKinstry, Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, Mrs. Willis Polk, Mrs. Hyde-Smith, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Miss Genevieve Harvey, Mrs. Louis Risdon Meade, Miss Anne Peters, Miss Mabel Gregory, Mrs. M. H. de Young, Miss De Young, Miss Jane Hotaling, Mayor Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Frank Deering, the Misses O'Connor, Mrs. Joseph Tobin, Miss Maude Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hale, Mrs. Henry Payot, Mrs. Dean, Miss Marie Rose Dean, the Misses Jolliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Dent Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Zoeth Eldridge, Mrs. Thomas Ira Cook Barr, Mrs. Robert Tibbitts, Joseph Redding, J. Downey Harvey, Royden Williamson, James McNab, Thornwell Mullally, Philip Clay and scores of others.

Mrs. Simon Clayburgh, accompanied by her daughter Irma, returned from an enjoyable three weeks' sojourn at the Hotel Vendome in the Garden City.

Invitations have been issued by Colonel William A. Simpson for the marriage of his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Simpson, to Lieutenant Harold Naylor, U. S. A. The ceremony will take place on Wednesday, November 10, at the home of Miss Simpson's sister in New London, Conn., at 12 o'clock noon. Miss Inez Keeney will be one of the guests at the wedding.

On the principle of "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," Miss Alexander Hamilton gave a dinner last Friday evening for Miss Baker and the girls of her bridal party. No men were included, but it is safe to say that the affair was as jolly and as much enjoyed as will be the dinner Mr. MacGavin's ushers are planning in his honor.

Indian Refuses Bribe; Is Killed

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 26.—Sitting in the door of his tent at Waverly, surrounded by his family, Moses, an Indian, was shot through the heart last night. Four young white men, Oscar Kerr, Fred Mitchell, Floyd Zimmerman and a section employe named Joe are in jail charged with the killing.

Kerr is accused of having fired the shot. It is claimed the young men had tried to bribe Moses with whiskey to consent to letting one of his daughters accompany them. The Indian refused and the murder followed.

OLD MERCHANT VIEWS RUINS OF LIFE'S LABOR

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The quiet and methodical business career of D. W. Stockwell, a pioneer merchant of Aurora, in business at the same stand for fifty-five years, was closed in a fire that swept his store yesterday.

Not a customer had darkened the door of the old man's store for ten years, but he came to his place of business regularly each day, and remained from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock at night.

Stockwell, nearly 80 years of age, looked on as the store burned, and expressed no sorrow, though he had not a cent of insurance, and the building and goods were valued at $12,000.

DE LANCEY SUED ON $2500 NOTE

Natural Soda Products Company Asks for Amount of Interest

Troubles clutter the way of John S. De Lancey, the attorney for the former Public Administrator, for he is not only the central figure in his trial before Judge Brown, but the civil end of justice is involved by the Natural Soda Products Company to recover $2,500, together with interest and costs of court.

The complaint filed this morning by Attorney H. W. Hobbs, as attorney for plaintiff, alleges that De Lancey endorsed a note signed by one George C. Evans in favor of A. J. Flood, in the amount of $2,500, and six months after the date of February 4, 1909.

The complaint sets forth that, before maturity and in due course, the defendant, for a valuable consideration, endorsed and delivered said note to plaintiff.

DEMAND PAYMENT.

It is alleged upon information and belief that Evans, the maker of the note, is outside of the State of California, and by that reason the plaintiff was unable to present the note for payment.

Demand has been made upon De Lancey for payment, but it has not been forthcoming. One of the peculiar points is the statement in the note that it is secured by a mortgage, which the complaint sets forth specifically not to be the case.

"Oakland, Cal., February 4, 1909.

"Six months after date, for value received, I promise to pay to A. J. Flood or order, the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars in United States gold coin, with interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, interest payable quarterly. And in case said interest is not paid within one month after the same becomes due it shall be added to the principal and bear a like rate of interest and be compounded quarterly until paid and the whole of said principal and interest shall forthwith become due, at the option of the holder hereof without notice. This note is secured by a mortgage bearing date herewith.

"(Signed) GEORGE C. EVANS."

WHEN LOVE DIES HUSBAND SUES

David Edwards Is Granted Decree From His Wife Jessie

Starting in with "my own sweetheart" and winding up her epistles with "always your own baby," Mrs. Jessie Edwards' affections for her husband, David Edwards, are shown by the final decree awarded the latter by Judge Ellsworth this morning not to have been of the kind that lasts.

While the fervor of romance lighted her way Mrs. Edwards' letters to her spouse, as a bundle of them submitted as exhibits in the case give evidence, she loved ardently and then—she switched and the next thing that happened was her spouse's appearance in court asking for divorce on the ground of her wilful desertion. To this she made no denial or trouble herself to reclaim "my sweetheart husband" and "my darling husband."

Dying Wish for Big Funeral Granted

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 26.—The dying wish of of Francisco Andricola was gratified yesterday when he had the biggest funeral ever seen here.

The man had $1200, saved from years of labor and when he found that he was going to die, he asked that all be spent for a funeral. A brass band of forty pieces preceded the twenty-six carriages.

The church will receive several hundred dollars for mass.

Commits Suicide on Eve of Wedding

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Mabelle Beaucham, of Boston, widow of a wealthy patent medicine manufacturer, committed suicide in the Arragon Hotel here today by cutting her throat with a razor. She used a razor belonging to Dr. E. E. Banker, of New York, who accompanied her here and occupied a room across the hall. She obtained the razor during the physician's absence. It was reported that Dr. Banker and Mrs. Beaucham were to have been married soon. The suicide was attributed to fear of an operation.

Muriel Vanderbilt Thrown From Pony

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Muriel, eldest daughter of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, was thrown from her pony yesterday, sustaining a fracture of the right arm.

The accident happened on the Vanderbilt estate at Westbury, L. I., while the three children—Muriel, Consuello and W. K. Vanderbilt III—were exercising their ponies.

DOUGHERTY PLEADS GUILTY TO ASSAULT

Dyre Dougherty pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon in Judge Brown's court this morning and was ordered to appear for sentence on Thursday. The defendant stated he hit A. Hailey over the head with a monkey wrench, but that was done after Hailey had blacked his eyes. Judge Brown said he wanted to hear more evidence in the case and learn something about Dougherty's previous reputation before imposing sentence.

Forsythe Divorce Case Is Being Aired Before Judge Harris

"PA AND MA" FIGURE PROMINENTLY IN ACTION

Effort to Patch Up Troubles Fails and Both Now Want Decree

"Pa" and "Ma" figure in the Forsythe divorce case as the bone of contention between husband and wife which has been occupying the time of Superior Judge M. T. Harris for the past two days.

The court offered its services to bring about a truce in the household, but neither husband or wife were inclined to stop short of an absolute decree that would separate them for all and eternity.

The wife, it transpires, continually sought "Ma's" advice on all her household affairs, and it was only when her spouse wanted to make a borrow that he was shifted over to "see Pa." What the latter did in the matter was not revealed. Somebody gave the baby beer and that was the climax that rent the domestic menage in twain.

WIFE DENIES ALL SPOUSE'S CHARGES

Mrs. Jennie E. Klopp Files Answer to Allegations of Her Husband

Here are some of the things Mrs. Jennie E. Klopp denies having said which her husband, George W. Klopp, alleges she did in giving his reasons why he should be set free upon his happy way:

Did not telephone in a loud voice to a real estate agent in the presence of Dr. Leon Harvey that the house was for sale to induce the physician to take his departure.

Did not tell her husband that he was eating a dead man's meals, meaning that he was dining on provender purchased by the means left her by a deceased husband.

Denies that her daughter Helen, the child of a former marriage, is not a fit associate for the offspring of their present unhappy partnership.

FEDERAL GUARDS ARE SECRETLY QUESTIONED

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, Oct. 26.—A secret investigation into alleged irregularities in the federal prison here is being made by Alexander Bruce Bielaski, a special examiner from the Department of Justice at Washington. The guards are questioned in secret and are warned not to discuss the matter with others. It is said the investigation is based on information furnished by W. G. Devinnish, a guard recently dismissed.

Mr. F. G. Fritz, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is mild, pleasant and effective and cures habitual constipation. Wishart's Drug Store.

LEHNHARDT, THE CANDY MAN, HAS MADE GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR HALLOWEEN

GOBLINS AND GUPES AND JACK-O-LANTERNS GALORE, GRINNING AND WINKING AND WOBBLING IN MOST REDICULOUS POSTURES—A VERITABLE DELIRIUM OF FUNNY FACES AND CLOWNISH CHARACTERS FOR THE CELEBRATION SUNDAY NIGHT

Halloween is here again and next Sunday night the owls and the witches and the bad and the mischievious fairies will hold full sway. Lehnhardt, the candy man, upon whom we Oaklanders all lean for suggestions on such momentous occasions has not failed us for his windows and counters and show cases are packed to overflowing with the cleverest and funniest little "stunts" for Halloween that the mind can imagine.

Of course, Halloween coming on a Sunday will be celebrated chiefly by Halloween dinners of all sorts and with this idea in view Mr. Lehnhardt secured thousands of table favors and decorations inexpensive in cost and so exceedingly clever that no dinner will be complete without some little article at each plate and some big bobbing, grinning imp sitting upon a throne in the center.

"Halloween is getting to be a sort of second Thanksgiving, as far as big dinners are concerned," said Mr. Lehnhardt today. "And whenever it comes upon a Sunday when families can get together it is always a day of fun and feast. I know of a great many ladies who are going to give Halloween dinners to their friends and they are already buying their table favors. I have the biggest stock that I ever purchased and expect to do a tremendous business in the next few days as I am sure next Sunday will be celebrated every elaborately by practically every body."

Lehnhardt is now showing hundreds of these little fun making articles in his windows but the windows are no comparison to what is shown inside. His store has been turned into a real fun making factory and customers find as much fun in picking out their articles as their guests will experience in receiving them.

"I find a great many of our customers buying Halloween novelties to send as a josh to their friends. We have a great many things that are supposed to bring good luck to the recipient and these are selling rapidly," continued Mr. Lehnhardt. "In fact I've never before seen such an early interest in Halloween which I attribute partly to the fact that the carnival spirit has become a permanent feature with the people of the west."

Lehnhardt is now arranging the finest dessert he ever sold. It will be ready next Sunday so that those who plan Halloween dinners need not worry over the dessert. He expects to beat all records as the brick he contemplates making will be wonderfully delicious.

An Impressive Temperance Lesson.

The arraignment for murder of former Police Captain Conboy bent, broken and remorseful—a disgraced and ruined man in peril of his liberty if not his life—presents an impressive temperance lesson that admonishes and excites compassion. No intelligent person can contemplate the terrible plight of this gray-haired old officer, brave and faithful in the discharge of his duty, without realizing what a curse the liquor habit is, how it destroys sanity and humanity and looses in the breast all the brutal passions of the primitive savage.

Captain Conboy has a long record of good service in the San Francisco Police Department marred only by rare lapses from sobriety. So excellent was his general conduct on the police force that notwithstanding his failing he rose from a patrolman to the rank of captain. The time was not far distant when he would retire with the honors of his rank and a pension sufficient to maintain him in comfort to the end of his days. Among his associates he was regarded with affection and he had the esteem of a wide circle of acquaintances, even of those aware of his unfortunate weakness, for he was a man of fine open nature and generous impulses.

But in an evil hour his appetite for drink mastered him and in a drunken frenzy he shot down a promising youth of good family for a trivial provocation. Now dismissed in disgrace from the police force and deprived of his right to a pension, he stands a pitiful culprit before the bar of justice, the stain of innocent blood on his hands and the shadow of murder over his soul. He has sold his little property, the accumulation of a lifetime, to pay attorneys for defending him. His family will be destitute whatever the outcome of his trial. There is woe at his own fireside and grief among the kindred of the slain boy. Contrite he stands with bared head awaiting the justice of man and the judgment of God, but neither contrition nor punishment can restore the life he has taken nor pluck the sorrow planted in the bosoms of two families.

What a fearful warning against the vice of intemperance the pathetic figure of this old man presents as he stands under the sword of the law. He struck blindly in the madness of intoxication—and struck himself to the heart and wounded those nearest and dearest to him. Oh, the pity of it!

Money Value of Fiestas.

It is claimed that the bank clearings of San Francisco for the nine days beginning October 15 and ending October 25 show a gain of $8,621,660.22 as compared with the amount of the bank clearings of the corresponding period in 1908, and on the strength of this result it is assumed that during the Portola festival nearly $1,000,000 a day was spent by visitors. In all probability the estimate is not excessive. But the greater beneficiaries from this big daily expenditure were the transportation companies, saloons, theaters, cigar stands, cafes and restaurants. The "down town" shop-keepers for whose benefit the festival was planned and promoted did not reap the harvest they anticipated. It developed early in the festival week that the great majority of visitors was bent on pleasure and sight-seeing and took no interest in trading. Considering the great number of visitors from outlying cities and districts that were in San Francisco during the festival week a comparatively small amount of shopping was done. The crowds were not there to shop but to enjoy the sights and the fun. Indirectly trade will be benefited now that the fiesta is over, for the million dollars a day taken in during the nine days named will get into general circulation quickly. The record shows, however, the immense financial value an attractive celebration possesses to a community when properly promoted and managed. Los Angeles was the first community in California to recognize the value of spectacular public displays. The cost of their production, however great it was, cut no figure in the comparison with the results. The "La Fiestas" of Los Angeles brought untold millions into that city, enhanced its fame abroad and promoted immigration and settlement, thus increasing population, trade, and demand for property and property values.

The cities of Northern California have been slow in recognizing the commercial value of what at first glance seemed to be frivolous displays which promote wasteful extravagance, overlooking the broader and more important fact that they contribute indirectly to an expansion of trade and that, in this practical age, no community can flourish unless its trade thrives. But we are gradually finding out that these public fete-days and festival weeks have a big money value; and no celebration held in any part of the State in a great many years past has proved this fact more conclusively than the Portola festival.

Somebody stole President Taft's possum down in Texas. There must have been a coon around.

Mr. James J. Jeffries, fresh from a triumphal tour of Europe, says he will whip Mr. Jack Johnson in short order. Let us commend to his prayerful attention the passage in the Bible which says, "Let him not boast that putteth on his armor, but him that taketh it off."

Fruitgrowers' Conventions.

Tomorrow a convention of fruit-growers will be held at Loomis, Placer county, the center of a large fruit-growing district, under the auspices of the State Horticultural Commission. The chief subject to be considered relates to difficulties attending the general marketing of fruits which grow out of indifferent selection and careless packing. The most successful fruit-growers California has produced are men that have given special attention not only to the most perfect development of the fruit on the tree by systematic fertilization and thinning out the crop in its earlier stages, but also in the subsequent selection and packing for the market. Horticulturists who made these details a specialty flourished, while those who were too timid to thin out an excessive crop and showed no discrimination in selecting and packing obtained poor financial results and blamed the market men rather than their own shortcomings because of the unsatisfactory returns.

The late Dr. Strentzel of Alhambra valley, Contra Costa county, was one of the first fruit-growers in the northern part of the State to learn the value of care in the selection of table fruits for the market. He made a practice of packing the fruit from his vineyards and orchards so that the contents of the box bearing his brand was uniform throughout, while his competitors were packing with only a top layer of selected fruit concealing ungraded contents underneath. It soon became known to the trade that any box of fruit bearing Strentzel's brand could be relied upon and it commanded the highest price in the market. His fruit cullings were sent to market without any identification marks on the cases and were sold for what they would bring. Strentzel made a fortune out of the system.

The orange-growers in the several citrus belts in the State have long since learned the value of careful selection and packing in supplying the eastern markets and they have secured their control through that system. The home markets suffer of course; but everything sold in them is practically gain, however inferior the fruit and however low the price obtained may be. Indeed, in the home markets the great bulk of orange cullings is sold by the street hucksters.

But a time has been reached when greater discrimination must be made by all classes of fruit-growers in supplying the home markets. They are beginning to realize that fact, and the series of fruit-growers' conventions which the new Horticultural Commissioner, J. W. Jeffry, instituted recently at Newcastle, and which are to be continued in all of the fruit-growing centers of the State, are designed for educational purposes, to promote co-operation in the production of the best results in general marketing for mutual benefit.

San Francisco can now complete the work of rehabilitation by electing Crocker Mayor and Fickert District Attorney. The new city cannot make a better beginning than to clean out the deadwood and the dirt.

Mr. Bryan is going after Democratic scalps. He will shortly appear on the trail of these prominent members of his own party:

Senator Taliaferro of Florida.
Senator Simmons of North Carolina.
Senator Martin of Virginia.
Senator Owen of Oklahoma.
Senators Foster and McEnery of Louisiana.
Senator Bailey of Texas.

It is Mr. Bryan's habit to go round the country between campaigns reading prominent Democrats out of the party, and then denounce them as traitors for refusing to support his candidacy for President. He not only presumes to decide who shall and who shall not be members of the Democratic party, but he claims of right the loyalty of the men he excommunicates and expels from the party fold. It is not surprising that Mr. Bryan should lead an ever diminishing army rent by dissension and ready to mutiny and revolt.

Francis J. Heney says that if he is elected he will make the prosecution cost Patrick Calhoun a million dollars even if he is not convicted. A laudable program, truly. But how much is it going to cost the people of San Francisco?

Medill McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, who is an avowed Socialist, says he is reliably informed that $1,000,000 is being spent in San Francisco to defeat Heney. His information was doubtless supplied by the Spreckels-Heney bureau. The ridiculous million dollar story is a fair sample of the lies about the San Francisco campaign now being circulated in the East, to the discredit of California. It is a monstrous invention, as every intelligent person is perfectly aware. If the facts could be definitely ascertained there is every reason to believe that far more money is being spent to elect Heney than to defeat him.

According to the London Globe, a French scientist advances the theory that the center of the earth is as dense as ever and that its rigidity is greater than steel. The Globe gives this out as scientific news, forgetting that not many years before his death the late Lord Kelvin, the greatest mathematician of his time, demonstrated mathematically that the density or the solidity of the earth increased at a well defined ratio from the surface to the center

PURELY PERSONAL

A writer in "Le Cri de Paris" tells this Tolstoy story: "After I had recovered from my serious illness," the venerable writer said, "my home was besieged by people who wished to congratulate me. Among those who came were many women, and in the course of conversation one day one of them said my works were so well known that all intelligent people were familiar with them. This I took the liberty to doubt, saying that comparatively few people had read my writings. 'As for me,' said the lady, 'I am interested in every line. Anxious to know her bent of thought, I asked which book in particular she admired. The woman hesitated, blushed, stammered, and others in the company, seeing her dilemma, prompted 'War and Peace,' 'Anna Karenina' and other books. The unfortunate woman misunderstood and said hesitatingly, 'The Armed Peace' and Andreas Cornelia.' I began to be amused, and when I asked a question about the latter book, she replied with sparkling eyes: 'It is one of your most charming books.' This shows what flattery is worth."

Three sailors from the German cruiser Stephen strolled into a German resort in the upper West Side of the city last week. Immediately on entering they were made welcome and given to understand that they might do anything in the place except spend money. They had hardly been seated when four English sailors and two Frenchmen came in and the nine men seated at one table naturally attracted much attention. Although each spoke only his own language, they seemed to get along remarkably well, and the waiter, who was instructed to serve anything that might be called for, said: "They're all German, even if they can't speak the language, for they all want beer." It was remarked later that the domestic beverage pleased the Germans and the English, but the French asked for "the real German."

Four prisoners escaped recently from the Wilna (Russian) prison, and when recaptured were hastily tried and condemned to death. In an account of the case the "Russische Korrespondenz" says: "Seljawko, Pantow, Rottenberg and Renazischek were defended by General Drobowitsch, who asked that the execution of the sentence be halted until he could lay all the facts before the Czar." He telegraphed to the officer who is mentioned as the chief of the Hauptkriegsgerichtsverwaltung. The big title seems to have had no effect on General Horschelmann, who had the men hanged before daybreak on the morning after their conviction. "Next morning," says the report, "the prison authorities received telegraphic orders to stay the execution, but the poor fellows were already dead—the Russian hangman had scored another triumph."

Curious Facts

Italy's queen, it is said, owns the most beautiful and valuable handkerchief in the world. It is an example of the earliest Venetian point lace, dating toward the end of the fifteenth century, about the time the art was introduced into the city of the doges. The piece, in spite of its great age, is in perfect preservation, and it is valued at $25,000.

About 80,000 tons of dust and refuse is taken away in barges from London every year.

The extent of China's coal fields has been put at 400,000 square miles—more than seventy times the aggregate extent of all the coal fields of Britain.

No fewer than 40,559 lasts of herring, or 535,378,800 fish, are caught off Yarmouth, England, between August and December. A quarter of a million barrels of salted herrings are sent to Germany, Russia, Belgium, Holland and Norway for winter consumption.

The desertion of Hedwig Wangel from the stage and her enlistment in the Salvation Army, says the Frankfurter Kleine Presse, came about in a peculiar way. With her mother, the gifted actress strolled into a hall at Frankfort one evening last month when a meeting was in progress. She was seen to smile broadly when the speaker told of the great future of the army, but when he enlarged on what it had already accomplished and told about the poor girls it had befriended, of the disconsolate who had been cheered and the hopeless ones who had been made to smile and to enjoy life, she became interested, and when the exhortation came to an end "two women, one young, handsome, beautifully clad and wearing many jewels, the other older but also fashionably dressed, advanced and knelt among those who had been converted. They were the actress and her mother. That night they both enlisted in the army, the daughter renouncing forever the profession in which she had achieved success."

H. S. Mobley, one of the most prominent and successful farmers near Prairie Grove, Ark., an active member of the National Farmers' Union, has lived for years in a cave at the top of a mountain 1700 feet high. It is probably the most palatial cave in the world, with all modern conveniences, including hot and cold water, electric fans, electric lights and steam heat. The cave is seventy-eight feet long by twenty-five feet wide, and thirty-two feet high. The walls are of beautiful granite, which has been handsomely polished. The ceiling is forty feet thick. The front of the cave is of glass, and the floors are of hard wood. The flues for the cooking range pass out through the mouth of the cave and extend outward a distance of nearly forty feet. Movable screens permit the increase and reduction of rooms at the pleasure of the occupants. A fine spring at the top of the mountain furnishes water through a private system of waterworks. This novel dwelling is reached by a beautiful road ascending the crest of the mountain by easy stages, and the grounds about the cave are kept in perfect condition. The occupants declare that it is the coolest dwelling in summer and the most comfortable in winter, and they have no fear of cyclones, which are frequent in that region. Neither heat nor cold penetrates the solid granite.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Rodin's statue of Victor Hugo, which was the subject of much criticism when it was exhibited at the Paris Salon, has been erected in the garden of the Palais Royal. The poet is shown resting against a massive rock in a ruminating attitude. "In conception the work is as daring," writes an artist from Paris to a Brussels paper, "as the Balzac by Rodin, but while the latter represents the poet wrapped in a gown so completely that only the head is visible, Hugo's form is devoid of clothing of any kind."

Everybody has heard of the absent minded professor who threw a stone at a pretty young girl and politely raised his hat to a yowling cur. Chicago University has set out to prevent any such thing in the future. The forgetful professor, so long considered legitimate prey for the jokesmiths, is to be eliminated from the field of education. The university is preparing to open a department that will make absent mindedness a thing of the past. Pedagogues of the future are to be trained so that they will have no inclination to wipe their foreheads with a text book or try to read Greek verse from a handkerchief. All other psychological ailments are to be cured by the new department, which will be a branch of the school of education, and the project will be conducted as a sort of psychological laboratory under direction of Professor Judd.

There is something new under the musical instrument sun, according to a statement in a Vienna paper. When Gustav Mahler's new symphony is produced there will be in the orchestra an instrument "which no one has ever called musical." It is our well known friend, the automobile horn—not the new, many-toned siren, but the old basso profundo bark, which at some time has startled us all. But that is not the latest. Paderewski's new symphony will introduce the tentituon, which is an invention of the pianist's. It will take the place of the instruments which, until now, have been used to produce thunder sounds in the orchestra.

TOBACCO IN CANADA

In answer to an inquiry, Consul Frank Deedmeyer of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, furnishes the following information concerning tobacco in Canada:

The Province of Prince Edward Island has ceased to produce tobacco, all attempts having proved unprofitable. No cigars, cheroots, stogies or snuff are manufactured in the Province, and there is scarcely any demand therefor. The high-grade cigars come from Cuba and the United States. The consumption of smoking and chewing tobacco, for the year ending March 31, 1909, is put at 400,000 pounds, and the estimated consumption for the year ending March 31, 1910, is placed at 415,000 pounds. Of the amount consumed during the last fiscal year 275,000 pounds were manufactured in the Province, the balance coming from other Provinces of the Dominion and from the United States and Great Britain. The leaf tobacco which enters into the product manufactured here comes from Quebec and Ontario, and from the United States.

The production of leaf tobacco in the Dominion of Canada amounted to 11,266,732 pounds in 1908, of which Quebec raised 7,655,975 pounds and Ontario 3,603,739 pounds.

The value of tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and snuff, manufactured by 155 establishments in 1906, was $15,274,923. The imports of unmanufactured tobacco in 1908 amounted to $3,385,348, of which $2,947,429 came from the United States. Manufactured tobacco imported in 1908 amounted to 772,013 pounds, valued at $846,800, most of which came from the United States.

There has been an increase in the consumption of tobacco in Canada, per head, from 1.755 pounds in 1869 to 2.257 pounds in 1908. In this increased consumption Prince Edward Island has fully shared.—Consular Report.

CIVIL PENSION LIST

It is reported that Secretary of the Treasury Franklin MacVeagh will include in his annual report a recommendation for the pensioning of the superannuated employes of his department. The secretary is reported to be anxious to improve the efficiency of the treasury department, and in order to do so a reclassification and reorganization of the clerical force is necessary. The retention of a number of superannuated clerks would be a serious obstacle to any plan of improvement, yet these old clerks cannot be set aside without discharging them, which would be a manifest injustice after many years of loyal service.

To meet this situation and similar ones existing in all departments of the government, a civil pension list will be recommended. Such a recommendation was made by the Keep commission, which investigated the efficiency of the work in all departments during the Roosevelt administration.

There can be no doubt that once a civil pension list has been established there will be constant pressure to increase its scope and lower the period of service after which pensions will be paid. It would soon be made to include pensions for injuries received while in government employ—in fact, there is no telling to what lengths the system could be stretched. The experience with the civil war pensions shows how outrageously a bounty of the government originally intended for worthy incapacitated soldiers can be perverted to undesirable lengths.

When the civil service of the government, based upon merit and during good behavior, was established to replace the old spoils system, it was never intended that the permanent employment and protection provided by the law should also include a pension for old age. Nevertheless, it is perfectly true that it would be cruel to turn off superannuated clerks in the government departments after a lifetime of loyal service. A realization of this fact will eventually lead to the payment of some form of civil pension in special cases. Something of this sort would have been done before this had it not been for the fear that such act might serve as an opening wedge for a regular civil pension list.—New Orleans Picayune.

WEALTH IN OZARKS OF MISSOURI

If the trip which Gov. Herbert S. Hadley plans soon to make down the Current river into the heart of the Ozarks results as hoped, in calling the deserved attention of capitalists and homeseekers to an exceedingly rich, though at present overlooked, section of the State, it should be recorded as one of the most notable business events of the governor's administration. It is true that the Ozarks already enjoy a wide reputation as the home of the renowned Missouri apple and that Southwestern Missouri sets the pace for the world in the production of lead and zinc, but despite these two exceptions it is equally true that the great resources of the Ozark region have scarcely been touched.

That this condition should have so long existed is, indeed, somewhat remarkable. St. Louis capitalists are usually alert in seeking profitable investments, yet it is recognized that the neglected opportunities in the Ozarks within 200 miles of St. Louis, if fully developed, would produce a wealth so great that its effects upon the business interests of the city could scarcely be overestimated.

While the trip of Governor Hadley is designed primarily to exploit the value of the fruit and farm lands in the valleys of the Ozarks, preliminary to the encouragement of their settlement and cultivation, yet development of the mineral and other resources must naturally follow as the result of bringing their great possibilities to the attention of industry and capital.

The tillable lands in the Ozarks, at the gateway to St. Louis, are capable of supporting a large and thrifty population. The value of the fruits and agricultural products that could be produced on these lands, under proper cultivation, would add greatly to the wealth of the State. It must be admitted, however, that in mineral deposits and in the multitude of industrial, manufacturing, timber, live-stock and summer resort advantages which the Ozarks offer, perhaps still greater wealth exists. It seems quite apparent that with so many natural resources, only proper encouragement and the investment of capital is needed to create an empire in the Ozarks producing annually sufficient wealth to add millions to the volume of the trade and commerce of St. Louis.

The full development of the iron deposits known to exist and the installation of the necessary steel plants would speedily transform a section of country now a wilderness into a populous industrial center. Vast fortunes have been taken from the lead and zinc mines in the Joplin district, yet there are others just as great neglected and untouched.—St. Louis Star.

POOR FOOD IN CANADA

According to the bulletins of the inland revenue department of Canada, that country appears to have become a dumping ground for the adulterated foods which were driven out of the United States by the pure food laws. Ground pepper is the most badly adulterated article found there. While it is true that the percentage of adulteration is less than formerly, the adulteration is still there. Many States have legislated against adulterated spices, but they have found a market in Canada. Out of 145 samples of ground cloves collected in various parts of the country only 74 were genuine. Chicory and roasted grain are frequently found in coffee. Native wines are sold as foreign brands.

To some extent the government itself is to blame for the prevalence of adulteration. The average citizen is more likely to take his chances on having his food adulterated if he has to pay for an examination himself. Many samples of adulterated food have been sent to Ottawa for examination, but the government refuses to make the desired examination unless the person sending the sample is willing to pay $7. The department will have to assume a different attitude if it hopes to drive out adulterated foods.—Buffalo Express.

DISAPPEARING ISLAND

Lake Orion, in the State of Michigan, possesses an extremely curious phenomenon in the form of an island which sinks and reappears above the surface of the water at regular intervals. About the middle of August the mysterious bit of land rises from the depths of the lake, and there it remains until the following February, when it gradually disappears from view. The natives have ceased to wonder at this freak of nature and now receive the visits of this island without comment.

There is a favorite story of several farmers who some years ago attempted to dissuade the island from making its weird appearances. During the early part of the winter, while the island was above water, these men deposited many loads of field stone upon it. By this means they believed it might be held down and never rise again when once the water had closed above it in February. But the island was not to be subjugated so easily, and late in the summer it silently reappeared, free from any trace of the stones.

This island, apparently, is composed of soft mud and rushes, and some scientific persons have declared there is no mystery connected with it. The periodic appearance and disappearance are attributed to the collection of vegetation in one spot by the currents of water and then the subsequent decay of the debris.—Harper's Weekly.

Peculiar Superstitions

The people of Kulu are extremely superstitious and go in extensively for demonolatry. Many trees are held to be sacred and have tiny temples dedicated to them. The demons are popularly supposed to live at the tops of trees, and if a tree falls in such a way that it is possible to pass under it, as is often the case on the mountain sides, every man before going beneath the trunk will place on it a stick or stone to propitiate its guardian spirit. Certain streams are also sacred, and no one is allowed to wash dirty clothes in them. During 1908 some strangers came into the valley and happened to pollute the water of a river in this manner. It chanced to be a year of extraordinary rainfall, and the people implicitly believe that the excessive rain was sent by the outraged "deota" of the stream as a punishment.—Wide World.

IN SOCIETY

THE Cosmos Club, which includes in its personnel some of the most exclusive matrons on this side of bay, will open its winter session Monday, November 1. Mrs. Edward M. Walsh is to be the hostess of the day and will entertain the club members at her home on Monte Vista avenue.

A luncheon will preceed the session at the card tables.

INTERESTING RECITAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Allen will give a recital consisting of dramatic and humorous readings at the Twenty-fourth Avenue M. E. Church, Tuesday evening, November 2. Mr. and Mrs. Allen both have won many admirers in Oakland and vicinity by their talented work in this line. The principal part of the program has been selected from our best writers and have a literary merit. Interspersed with these will be a number of short character sketches depicting types of American life.

GIVEN SHOWER.

Miss Birdie Sorey was the complimented guest at a surprise "miscellaneous shower" tendered her by Miss Adela Honigsberger on Thursday evening of last week.

The house was appropriately decorated for the occasion with Portola colors, red and yellow.

The guest list included Miss Birdie Sorey, Miss Edith Fraser, Miss Emily G. Jones, Miss Mabel Honigsberger, Miss Lillian MacLeod, Miss Frances Dixon, Miss Leulia Bear, Miss Bertha Honigsberger, Miss Veronica Lyman, and the hostess, Miss Adela Honigsberger.

After spending the evening with music and games a dainty repast was served. The complimented guest is to become the bride of Allison Spencer on Wednesday of this week.

WILL GIVE CONCERT.

The song recital to be given by Miss Carolina Halsted Little tomorrow night at Maple Hall is attracting the attention of the social set and music lovers in the bay region.

Miss Little has an exquisite voice most excellently cultivated. She recently returned from abroad, where she devoted her time to vocal study under the best masters. Her program of tomorrow night is broad and includes a wide range, giving the audience a splendid opportunity to hear this artiste in the various styles of composition. The program is as follows:

(a) Schoene Fremde .....Schumann
(b) Die Forelle .....Schubert
(c) Mondnacht .....Schumann
(a) Mit Myrten und Rosen..Schumann
(b) Heiden Roeslein .....Schubert

Miss Little will be assisted by William Leimert, 'cellist, and Miss Louise Hilgard, accompanist.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. Lowell Hardy has extended invitations for a bridge party to be given at her attractive home in Piedmont on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Hardy is one of the exclusive matrons, her affair being given with a careful consideration to detail.

ELABORATE RECEPTION.

Mrs. Harold Havens will be the hostess at an elaborate reception to be given at her Piedmont home Tuesday, November 2.

The brilliant affair is being given in honor of her mother, Mrs. Vance Cheney. Several hundred have been asked to meet this distinguished woman.

Mrs. Cheney is the founder of the Woman's International League, and is receiving a most cordial greeting since her arrival from her New York home.

ELABORATE DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Durkee entertained at an elaborate dinner last night, the occasion being the anniversary of their golden wedding. The host and hostess entertained their guests at their artistic Piedmont home, among those present being four who attended the marriage ceremony fifty years ago. They were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cleveland of East Oakland, James Blethen of Palo Alto and Abner Calker of Alameda.

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Durkee was solemnized in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. Among those who participated in the pleasures of last night were: Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, Mr. and Mrs. John Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Larkin, Horton Crosby and the Misses Annie, Lillian and Mabel Durkee.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

A beautiful event of the early November days will be the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear, which will be celebrated at their home on Linden street. The McNear family is one of the pioneer families of the bay cities and is prominent in both social and business circles. There is a large family circle and among those who will assist at the coming celebration will be: Mr. and Mrs. George McNear Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McNear, Mr. and Mrs. Seward McNear, Miss Elizabeth McNear, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip E. Bowles.

FIVE HUNDRED.

Mrs. F. R. Chadwick was a charming hostess of today, entertaining about forty friends at a delightfully arranged five hundred party.

The rooms in the artistic Chadwick home on Linden street were aglow with a profusion of gorgeous golden chrysanthemums, combined with the glossy huckleberry. At the conclusion of the fascinating game a daintily appointed supper was served.

Mrs. Chadwick is planning another afternoon to be given in the near future, when another coterie of friends will be included in the guest list.

Nothing gives this matron more pleasure than to entertain her friends, which she frequently does during the season, giving some most delightful afternoons.

PRETTY WEDDING.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of John Morris in Berkeley at noon on Monday, October 20. The contracting parties were Ernest Morris, son of John Morris, and Miss Irma Sparks of Seattle. The Rev. Mr. Crook of Ocean View was the officiating clergyman, reading the impressive service in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends. After receiving the congratulations of those present a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. Mr. Morris and his bride left last night upon their honeymoon journey, after which they will go to Livermore, where they are to make their future home.

EBELL CLUB.

At the Ebell Club this afternoon a large number of club women and their friends were present to hear Mirza Ali-Kuli Khan in his brilliant lecture on "The New Born Persia." This eminent scholar has traveled extensively and has a world-wide reputation as an orator and poet.

He is the Imperial Persian Consul of Washington, D. C., and a man of brilliant attainments. Following the lecture those present were given an opportunity to meet the speaker and a social hour was enjoyed over the tea cups.

Mrs. A. H. Breed was the presiding hostess of the day.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Miss Dorothea Van Orden has extended invitations for a reception to be given on Saturday afternoon, November 6, which is to be a farewell to Miss Mary Van Orden. The complimented guest is leaving next month for the East, where she is to spend the winter. Boston is her ultimate destination, but she is to make stops at Chicago, Cleveland and New York en route.

During the winter Miss Van Orden will devote her time to the study of the piano.

LUNCHEON AND CARDS.

Mrs. Charles H. Smith has invited a group of friends for Saturday afternoon, when a luncheon will be followed by a session at the card tables. The occasion is to celebrate the birthday anniversary of the hostess.

U'S CLUB.

The U's Club, which includes a bevy of maids from the younger set, met this afternoon at the home of Miss Clara Smith on Telegraph avenue.

The afternoon was pleasantly enjoyed with the sewing bags and an informal musicale. A dainty supper rounded out the enjoyment of the day. Among the guests were: Miss Carmelita Theobald, Miss Blanche Bonham, Miss Hazel Coyne, Miss Inez Eudey, Miss Valentine Ligda, Miss Lorena Dickey and Miss Pearl Aiken.

LEAVING FOR EAST.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reese are leaving tomorrow for their home in Johnstown, Pa. They have been the guests of Mrs. Reese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dibert, during their visit. Mrs. Reese has been the inspiration for numerous complimentary affairs while in her home city.

SORORITY DANCE.

The Gamma Phi Beta Sorority are anticipating a most enjoyable time at their dance which is to be given at the Claremont Country Club tonight. More than a hundred invitations have been extended for the elaborate affair. The patronesses for the dance are Mrs. L. F. Le Conte, Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. A. Andrews, Mrs. Bridges, Mrs. William E. Colby, Mrs. Comfort, Miss B. Vroomas and Mrs. Ard.

The hostesses for the evening will be a number of the sorority girls, among whom are: Miss Alice Hoyt, Miss Genevieve Goodacre, Miss Elinor French, Miss Justine Griffith, Miss Margaret Griffith, Miss Josephine Le Conte, Miss Elizabeth Bridges and Miss Sarah Morgan.

INTERESTING EVENT.

Charles Dutton has sent out a hundred or more cards for a recital to be given at his artistic new studio in Berkeley Tuesday night, November 9.

Mr. Dutton will present his pupil, Ashley Pettis, upon this occasion.

EVENING EVENT.

The wedding of Miss Elsie Horton and Raymond Snowden will be solemnized tonight at the home of the bride's parents on Paru street, Alameda, at 8:30. The service will be read by the Rev. Wilsie Martin in the presence of the leatives and a few intimate friends.

Yellow has been chosen for the color scheme of the house decorations, chrysanthemums being used in profusion throughout the spacious rooms.

The bride, who is an exceedingly pretty girl, will look unusually lovely in her bridal robe of white satin, adorned with rich lace. She is to wear the conventional veil of tulle and will carry a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Louise Snowden is to be the maid of honor and the bridesmaids are to be Miss Deane Tisdale and Miss Rona Scott.

The bridegroom will be attended by his brother, Frederic Snowden as best man.

After an enjoyable honeymoon Mr. Snowden and his bride will return to Alameda, where they will make their future home.

ELABORATE BENEFIT.

Every day one hears more interesting details in regard to the benefit to be given for Fabiola Hospital at Ye Liberty Playhouse on Tuesday night, November 2d.

"The Pagoda of Flowers," a Burmese drama of Amy Woodforde Findon, is to be given its first dramatic presentation upon this occasion and the scenic effects are said to be exceedingly beautiful.

The costumes to be worn are Burmese and strikingly unique, as is also the mode in which the hair will be dressed. It is not a very becoming mode, but Miss Georgie Cope, under whose direction the drama will be given, insists upon every detail in stage setting and costume being absolutely correct.

The music is very beautiful, there being a light, joyous vein as well as a tragedy. Mrs. Grace Davis Northrop and Carl Anderson will present the lightsome music, while the tragedy will be given by Miss Cope and Lowell Redfield.

Paul Steindorff is musical director and Mrs. Lowell Redfield will preside at the piano.

ALOHA CLUB.

The Aloha Club, which has been organized for eight years, held its first meeting last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Milton Allen. Whist was enjoyed during the afternoon. After the game a daintily appointed supper was served.

The next meeting will be on Friday, November 5, at the home of Mrs. A. L. Frick.

The members of this congenial coterie of whist enthusiasts are: Mrs. Burton Fraser, Mrs. Otto Haffe, Mrs. Eugene Fraser, Mrs. Ralph Buckley, Mrs. F. Milnthorp, Mrs. Helwig, Mrs. Theodore Westphal, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Humphreys, Mrs. D. E. Gleason, Mrs. A. L. Frick and Mrs. Milton Allen.

RETURNED FROM VISIT.

Hugh Fraser, who has been in Harrison, San Mateo county, for the past three months, has returned and is now living in San Leandro.

Gossip of Women

Mrs. Watson Gilder and Mrs. Gilbert E. Jones will attend the Syracuse State Fair in New York to lecture against woman suffrage. Governor Hughes will be present and will listen to the arguments of the women who are working under the auspices of the National League for the Civic Education of Women.

The Jeanes fund, consisting of a million dollars, left by Anna T. Jeanes of Philadelphia, provides for the education of colored children in the rural districts of the south. There is some litigation over the matter, but the money was given before the death of Mrs. Jeanes and was placed at the disposal of the schools a year ago, and the results are said to be most gratifying.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

Many tales are reported from the prison at Birmingham, England, where the suffragettes are confined. They are said to have refused to eat and in consequence were fed with stomach pumps. The leaders contend that forcible eating is illegal and that the prisoners had a right to starve themselves if they preferred.

Miss Ruth B. Clarke, daughter of the Rev. A. W. Clarke, American missionary at Prague, Austria, has just taken her degree at the University of Edinburgh, with first honors, and in a competitive examination won a traveling scholarship in France and is now at the University of Paris.

Mrs. Emma Tillotson, who died recently in New York, left $126,000 to charities. She was only one of hundreds of other women who are distributing wealth wisely and doing what they can to make better the condition of the poor.

The Women's Republican Club of Denver has nominated Mrs. Dewey C. Bailey as its candidate for congress next year. Mrs. Bailey does not expect to have to serve, however, as she does not think the Republican men will indorse the nomination. She is an excellent speaker and is said to be a typical western woman, with tact and resourcefulness that many men congressmen might envy. She is president of the Women's Club of Denver and the wife of the United States marshal of Colorado. It is said that any woman elected to congress will be able to name her own price from the lecture bureau, who would gladly engage her.

Phonograph as Preserver of Loving Poetry Fails to Win Pretty Widow $10,000 Verdict

MRS. CLARA U. CATOGGIO

"Shining Star" and "Singing Bird" Endearments Fall Flat in Suit to Win Heart Balm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—After listening to Mrs. Clara M. Catoggio's story of how Dr. Walter Hannibal Henning of No. 1220 Crotona avenue, the Bronx, wooed her with pills and poetry, a jury sitting with Justice Giegerich of the Supreme Court yesterday returned a verdict in favor of the doctor in his suit for $10,000 damages for alleged breach of promise to marry. All of the poetic effusions the physician is alleged to have sent the widow were in evidence and many were read to the jury. It developed, however, that the verses in which the defendant called the widow a "shining star" and a "shining bird" had been transcribed from a phonograph record. One of the jurors said as he left the court that had the doctor written such stuff he would have held out for a verdict against him.

Under cross examination of the widow it was brought out that she had a small part in a company which presented "Caesar and Cleopatra." Asked how many lines she spoke in the play, she could not remember whether it was five or six.

Then she described the many quarrels she had had with the doctor. She said she upbraided him several times because he kept putting off the date of their wedding. He told her she ought to wait until he had an income of $200 a week. She was willing to wait for that, she said, but when she saw there was no prospect of her wooer ever getting such an income she demanded that he keep his promise at once.

The result of this attitude on her part was that she had a "run in" with the physician's mother one day when she called at his office. Asked what started the quarrel, she said her fiance's mother told her she was "a homely old thing."

"What did you say to that?" the plaintiff was asked.

"I told her that she and her son were homely old things, too," she replied.

Once, when the doctor was very ardent in his courtship, Mrs. Catoggio said, he insisted on prescribing for her. She took several pills at his suggestion and they made her sick. She said she thought at that time the doctor was trying to cure her of her love for him, but she did not admire his method. She had to go to bed for several days.

Mrs. Catoggio denied she wrote to Dr. Hennings twice a day and that she dyed her hair.

BLUE PAJAMAS Figure in This Divorce Suit

Mrs. Smith Wrote "Honey Boy" to Take His Pretty Ones Along, Husband Swears in Court.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The attractions of Harry Ruck, a Wall street broker, and particularly his "pretty blue pajamas," figure prominently in the divorce suit of Harry B. Smith, which was before Supreme Court Justice Dickey in Brooklyn yesterday. He seeks an absolute divorce from Georgia A., his pretty young wife. The Court reserved decision on her motion, which was for alimony and counsel fee.

One of the plaintiff's exhibits is a letter which he says his wife wrote to Ruck while he was in Philadelphia with his young son. He alleges that an attempt was made to destroy it, but the scraps were found, pasted together and submitted to the Court by his attorney, Andrew J. Smith of No. 60 Park Row, Manhattan. The letter reads:

Dear Honey Boy—When I wrote you that note last evening H. B. said he was going to Philadelphia tonight and would take Harry along. He said for me to have him ready at 5:30 and he would meet him this morning. H. B. said he could start the first thing Saturday morning and not keep the little boy up all night. I really am not sure they will go until I see them off.

I had better not go out this morning. I have no way of letting you know when they go, but I am sure it will be in the morning. Meet me at the Hoyt Street Station 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. You had better eat something before you go as I am afraid it will be a long time between drinks. Honey, take those pretty blue pajamas of yours, please.

By by, Honey, until tomorrow. Honey, if you have any cash, you had better bring it with you. I wish I had more cash on hand. I have been tempted to see uncle and ask for some, but I cannot seem to pluck up the courage.

Will see you Saturday afternoon at 4. Will come down to the station Friday, 2 p. m. YOUR KID.

Smith says he is the "H. B." referred to in the letter, which he avers was written in the early part of May, 1908. In corroboration of his allegations, an affidavit made by Mrs. Sadie Breed of No. 96 Pulaski street, Brooklyn, was submitted. The Smiths used to live at No. 97, directly opposite the home of Mrs. Breed.

Mrs. Breed also states that Mrs. Smith on one occasion admitted misconduct with John L. Smith, an uncle by marriage, who is said to be an electrical engineer and lecturer at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn.

The defendant's answer is a general denial. She swears that the letter alleged to have been sent to Ruck was never written by her. John Smith, she says, sent her money from time to time, as her husband was contributing nothing to her support. Smith, too, declares that he partially supported his niece for a short time, but that this was done out of friendship.

Will Start a New Church

Mrs. Della M. Gilbert of New York, who was excommunicated from the Christian Science church last May, is said to be intending to start a new church which she will call the New Christian Science Church. The object of the new church as set forth is to eliminate graft, idolatry, superstition and anti-marriage. She was expelled for attacks upon Mrs. Eddy.

Cupid Conquers Anatole France Late in His Life

PARIS.—Anatole France, the celebrated author, one of the "forty immortals" of the French academy, has a romance.

M. France is 65, but the mental vigor, the insight into character and the brilliancy of style which have made his reputation seem to grow.

The romance began while on the long voyage to South America some months ago. Scarcely had the ship left her pier when M. France was presented to a fellow voyager, Mlle. Jeanne Brindeau, an actress of 5 years, who, though not widely known in Paris, has had a successful career in the provinces. She is a woman of charm and talent, and M. France, instead of the monotonous hours he had dreaded, found the time passing delightfully in Mlle. Brindeaus agreeable society.

Arrived in South America, the friendship so pleasantly formed was not allowed to languish. Mlle. Brindeau and M. France returned on the same steamer, and the author again enjoyed a companionship which was growing dear to him.

M. France is notoriously absent-minded. He had a valet who cared for him as a father does for an only son. The valet protested to his master that he would better devote himself to his first love—literature. Thereupon the valet lost his place.

Soon afterward a paragraph appeared in a Paris newspaper announcing that Mlle. Brindeau and Anatole France were engaged.

Finest Collection Old China in the World

Mary Elizabeth Braddon, who has been turning out novels with machine-like regularity for more than fifty years, has one of the finest collections of old china in the world. She lives in a fine old house on the Thames, near London, and her books and her china take up most of her day. She writes with great rapidity, averaging 1500 words an hour, and seldom altering a line. She works three hours every morning with a pad on her knee, and then lets her characters rest in her mind until the following morning. Miss Braddon goes to almost every auction sale of old china in London, and her opinion on valuable pieces is frequently sought by experts. Her first successful novel was "Lady Audley's Secret." She wrote the four opening chapters in a night. One afternoon a magazine editor informed her a novelist had disappointed him in not delivering a manuscript for a serial, and Miss Braddon, then only 18, offered to place four chapters of a novel on his desk within eighteen hours. She kept her promise, the editor accepted the novel and it was a great popular success.

America's Princess to Hold Regal and Unique Salon

WASHINGTON.—Madame la Princesse Alice Roosevelt Longworth will establish a grand political salon this winter, so say the heralds of the modish world who are here brushing off the cobwebs and getting the social program underway. The salon is for the purpose of centralizing the best American womanhood against the encroachments of suffragism, socialism and other threatening isms advanced by the feminine cohorts. The Princesse Alice feels the responsibility of keeping the Roosevelts before the public. Her amazing parent is in darkest Africa and her robust young sister is not adding to the family prestige at the Italian spas. It is the psychological moment for the Princesse.

The hopes which were entertained for dynastic reasons are now given over and she must get some new rumor afloat if she is to focus national attention. Even her fantastic tricks at the Wright Brothers aeroplane exhibits have been forgiven and, worst of all, forgotten. The surface indications are that anti-suffragism is absolutely disastrous, while the stand-patters, or the utterly indifferent, have little to fear. The Princesse's friends assert that she craves a position like that occupied by the fascinating social leaders of London whom King Edward rallies around him when he wishes to crush some phase of British politics. London's great hostesses are anti-suffrage to a unit, because their august ruler has expressed a desire that they should adopt this platform.

Income of $250,000 for Pin Money to Test Spenders

CHICAGO.—Adolph J. Lichtstein of 2736 Michigan avenue believes his wife and daughter should have plenty of "pin money" without waiting for his death. The idea of getting rid of wealth while alive and seeing how it is being spent caught Mr. Lichtstein's fancy. He called up his lawyer on the phone. Arrangements were made and soon after the idea was born Mrs. Lichtstein and her daughter were the possessors of an annual income of $16,000.

Mr. Lichtstein had arranged that the income from property valued at $250,000 be paid to his wife and daughter. "Love and affection for the beneficiaries" is the consideration mentioned in the declaration of trust filed recently.

"I wanted to give them this property while I am alive," explained Mr. Lichtstein. "They will begin to receive the money today. The trust specifies that they get this as long as they live. I have more money than I can use. I want to have the pleasure of seeing my family enjoy it now.

"I don't want my wife and daughter to have to beg me for spending money. I can now have the comfort of not being worried over women's bills, and will have the pleasure of seeing my wife and daughter enjoy themselves. I count that infinitely better than holding on to my dollars until I lose my grip on all things earthly. What good would they do me then? It probably is selfishness in me wanting to see some of the spending of it myself before I go, but call it whatever you like, that's the way it stands. I am happy, my wife is happy, and you know happiness is contagious."

Love Not Undue Influence, Rules Judge

NEW YORK.—Surrogate Thomas dismissed yesterday the objections of David R. Heins to the probate of the will and codicil of his daughter, Mrs. Minnie H. Vogel, by which her lawyer and fiance, Nathan D. Stern, got $50,000 and bequests to her relatives were revoked. A suit brought to upset the will and codicil is still pending in the Supreme Court.

The Surrogate found that after the death of Mrs. Vogel's husband, Max, his estate was practically insolvent. Mr. Stern undertook to settle with the creditors and they agreed to take their money in such amounts as Mrs. Vogel could pay. Eventually Mrs. Vogel became the absolute owner of the Hudsonia apartments.

"While you and I might value Mr. Stern's services in this instance at $50,000," said the Surrogate, "there is no telling what value a woman might put upon them whose heart had become interested and whose affections were aroused. There was plainly a warm attachment between the decendent and Mr. Stern, and he was openly and avowedly her affianced lover. The last act between the two before the operation that preceded her death was that they kissed, and she asked that her engagement ring be left on her finger while the operation was performed.

"There is no evidence of undue influence except the influence that controls everything—love."

ASSASSIN SEEKS ENGINEER'S LIFE

Tries Three Times to Kill--Shoots at Intended Victim When Foiled

POINT RICHMOND, Oct. 26. — Three mysterious attempts were made within the few hours to kill Charles Jessen, engineer of the West San Pablo water company's pumping station, by a strange assailant, who used an improvised weapon and revolver in his attacks.

The first assault, made early Sunday morning, was done with a billiard ball wrapped in a handkerchief. The ball had been cut or filed until it was jagged.

ASSAILANT FLEES.

The blow was aimed at Jessen's head as he was dozing in a chair at the station. The victim was aroused in time to save himself, though he was struck viciously on the neck just below the base of the brain and knocked half senseless.

Jessen's assailant fled and was pursued by dogs that had scented the stranger. Neighbors, aroused by the barking animals, saw the man in flight. He returned, however, and a short time afterward fired a shot at Jessen from outside the pumping house. The bullet, from a revolver, lodged in the side of the house.

WIELDS REVOLVER.

The third attempt was made last night, when two shots from a revolver were fired at the engineer's station, but these bullets also lodged in the planking. It was supposed that the assassin had returned to get the ball and handkerchief, which he had left behind in his flight in the morning. These were turned over to the authorities as evidence.

Jessen declared that he could give no description of his assailant, as he was half asleep when he was struck. The engineer was in ignorance of a cause for the attack.

SCOUT ROBBERY THEORY.

He did not believe that robbery was intended, but said that he had no enemies whom he could accuse of the attacks. Suspicions were aroused that persons who had objected to the company's pumping there had taken this means of trying to stop it. Complaints have been made that private wells were going dry on account of the company's operations. The station is north of Point Richmond and west of San Pablo.

Biggest Crowd Ever in Carnegie Hall Listens to Mrs. Pankhurst

MRS. EMELINE PANKHURST, the English suffragette leader, and her aid, Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, who have just arrived in this country for the purpose of waging a vigorous and militant campaign for woman suffrage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. — Rarely if ever has Carnegie Hall seen such a gathering of women as assembled there last night under the direction of the Equality League of Self-Supporting Women to welcome Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, British militant suffragette, and to proclaim their own right to vote.

On the stage were 79 teachers, 67 physicians, 6 dentists, 49 social workers, 28 trained nurses, 120 trade unionists, 8 actresses, including Miss Carlotta Nelson and Mrs. Beatrice Forbes Robertson; 10 musicians, Miss Anna Peck, the mountain climber; 4 civil engineers, 46 business women, 16 authors, including Charlotte Perkins Gilman and Countess de Grammont, 3 sculptors, 1 architect, 4 journalists, including Mrs. Elbert Hubbard; 16 civil service women, 25 lawyers, and representatives of 13 trades in which women compete with men.

MRS. BELMONT THERE.

Among the box holders were Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs. J. G. Phelps Stokes, Mrs. William M. Ivins, Mrs. E. F. Gary and Mrs. Henry Phipps.

The girl collegian in cap and gown was much in evidence, while on the stage a forest of banners proclaimed the women's organizations represented. Among them were: Women's Trade Union League, National American Woman Suffrage Association, New York State Woman's Suffrage Association, Medical Women, Municipal Ownership League, Collegiate Equal Suffrage Union and William Lloyd Garrison League.

The flag of Wyoming, the first State to grant woman the suffrage, hung facing the stage, and the ushers wore orange colored shoulder sashes bearing the familiar legend, "Votes for Women."

Mrs. Pankhurst was introduced by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, national president of the Equal Suffrage Association, after telegraphic greetings to her had been read by Miss Inez Milholland, the latest recruit to the cause, who was recently refused admission to the Harvard law school. Mrs. Pankhurst said in part:

"I am not here to tell you why we want the vote in England, but how we are going to get it. You have heard much of our methods, you have condemned them, but whether they are right or wrong, objectionable or not, they certainly have accomplished our object of bringing the question before the British public as a practical political problem. It may be violent, but where did men get anything but by violence? Where would this republic be if your fathers had not thrown the tea into Boston harbor?"

DOCTOR DIES FROM AUTO WRECK INJURIES

WILLOWS, Oct. 26.—Dr. George Watt, one of the most prominent physicians of Glenn county, died last night from injuries received in an automobile accident on Saturday evening. In company with J. G. Olvey, Dr. Watt was returning from Glenn to this place, when in the darkness their automobile came in collision with a cart driven by Gus O. Ericson, a woodchopper. Dr. Watt was hurled twenty feet, striking the ground with great force. The others were only slightly hurt. Ericson's horse was killed and his cart demolished.

BARBER GETS BEATEN IN LIVELY FIGHT

Bert Pearson, a barber living at 2128 Center street, got into an altercation at the corner of Sixth and Broadway last evening and the argument waxed so fierce and fast that the tonsorial artist was taken to the Emergency hospital for treatment.

His nose looked as if it had been run over by a steam roller. Dr. Travers spent an hour building up the gristle and bones into the form chat they formerly had been.

BURGLAR TAKES CASH WHILE VICTIM SLEEPS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — While John O'Connor, a laborer, was asleep in his room at the Maritime Hotel, 172 East street, last night, someone entered and stole $50 from his trouser's pocket. He was not disturbed by the thief and was unable to tell the police at just what hour his money was taken.

WESTERN POWER GETS FRANCHISE

City Council Finally Passes Ordinance and Hurries Through Session

A brief meeting of the City Council was held last night at which the franchise granting the Great Western Power company permission to run its lines through the city was finally passed. The period of the franchise is for fifty years.

An ordinance opening and widening Twenty-fourth street was also finally passed. The street is to be improved between Broadway and Webster streets.

A resolution authorizing the clerk to purchase the necessary supplies for holding the forthcoming bond election was unanimously passed.

A resolution directing that Broadway be paved from Twenty-ninth street to Piedmont avenue was referred to the street committee.

A resolution of paving Fourth street, between Clay and Washington street, was passed.

The Council then adjourned to meet next Monday night.

WESTERN PACIFIC IS NEAR TO COMPLETION

The last spike will be driven by the Western Pacific Railroad Company this week. But sixteen miles of track remain to be built by the Gould line, which will "tie" the Pacific coast to the intermountain country. There is a gap of twelve miles in the desert near the California-Nevada line and another of four miles on the North Fork of the Feather river in this state.

Construction work is being pushed forward with all possible speed, and according to information from the company's offices in the Mills Building, the last spike will be driven on Friday or Saturday. It was at first suggested that some ceremony should attend the completion of the line, but this idea has been abandoned and the track will be connected as soon as possible.

Four track-laying machines are being used. These are being worked from both ends of the twelve-mile gap in the desert, and as well from both ends of the Feather river gap.

When the line is completed the track will have to be ballasted well before trains can be operated, and it will be the latter part of November before passengers are carried from Salt Lake City to the Pacific coast.

Thus far no word has been received from the head offices in New York concerning the men who have been selected to conduct the operating and passenger departments of the new road.

PLANS COLONY FOR CHINESE IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 26. — If the plans of Wu Ting Fang, Chinese minister to the United States work out, Chinese colonies probably will be established in Texas. The minister, en route to Mexico City, took occasion to discuss what he had seen of Texas.

"When I saw the fine fields of growing grain as I entered the State," Dr. Wu said, "I thought of my countrymen in the crowded and frozen north of the United States and I have been wondering why more do not come to Texas, where rice can be grown. If possible I will stop on my return trip and investigate conditions for the purpose of colonizing Chinese here."

URGES DOCTRINE OF RIGHT LIVING

Mrs. Cheney Speaks Before San Leandro Women's Club on Ethics of Existence

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Vance Cheney, of the Woman's International League of Right Thinking and Right Living, delivered an address upon "Right Constructive Thought" yesterday afternoon before the members of the Alta Mira Club in San Leandro. J. M. McClymonds, superintendent of Oakland schools, gave a brief address on the banking system in the public schools of Oakland.

Mrs. Charles Hale was hostess of the afternoon. The committees which assisted her were as follows: Reception, Mrs. Otto Best, Mrs. Horace Blank, Mrs. H. C. Blakeslee, Mrs. L. M. Broadwell, Mrs. W. A. Brown, Mrs Mary Brown, Mrs. Lee Bundock, Miss Mary Burroughs. Tea—Mrs. L. C. Best, Miss Bessie Best, Mrs. J. M. Beeson, Mrs. H. C. Barton, Miss Helen Gordon Barker, Miss Christine Anderson, Miss Caroline Anderson and Mrs. J. E. Anderson. During the afternoon a musical program was rendered by Miss Alice Locke, who gave several vocal selections. She was accompanied by Miss Mabel Woodward. Mrs. Harry Anderson also contributed vocal numbers.

ON RIGHT THINKING.

"Inequality has brought a great deal of disaster in this world," declared Mrs. Cheney. "We fail to think possible what we cannot see. The value of the advanced thought is the fact that we are able to do things on a scientific basis. The foundation of the work is that the mind controls the body and the mind may react upon it. What we teach is based upon laws that have been demonstrated. It is a work by women for the family and home. A building up of the human being. The work of the league is not a fad, and we are not new thought people. We want people who are working for the betterment of the human race. Right thinking and right living is an effect of service accomplished by obeying straightforward laws. Start our children in the way of better living. Draw from ourselves the ability to be happy, to succeed and be of service in the world. The inner life is more important than the exterior life."

STARTS CIRCLE HERE.

During the three weeks Mrs. Cheney has been in California, she has aroused much enthusiasm in the work and intends to establish thought study circles in Oakland before returning to New York. She is desirous of organizing a circle of right thinking and right living in San Leandro and in the Alta Mira Club, the exclusive social organization of that community. In all these circles the profoundest truth will be put before the human mind and that is "As a man thinketh in his heart, so he is."

Mrs. Cheney will remain in California until November 5. Prior to that time she will give many lectures upon right constructive thought. Wednesday a study class will be organized at the home of Mrs. Wickham Havens in Piedmont.

EMPLOYERS MUST GIVE SEATS TO EMPLOYES

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—Deputy Labor Commissioner Edward C. Jones is expected here to investigate a charge that a department store in this city has not provided seats for its employes to rest themselves upon during the dull moments of the day, as required by the State law. Commissioner Jones, assisted by Special Commissioner of Labor John T. Stafford, will take statements from employes of various department stores of this city to ascertain whether or not the law is being violated.

The Board of Health, to which the matter was reported, appointed Dr. F. G. Fay to investigate, in conjunction with the State Labor Commissioner.

DESPERADO BATTLES WITH SHERIFF'S POSSE

MUSKOGEE, Ok., Oct. 26.—Barricaded in a country schoolhouse full of children, near Sleeper, Ok., Jack Willis, a young Cherokee Indian, fought a duel with officers, resulting in his own death and the fatal wounding of Constable Turk Ketcher.

Willis resisted arrest for a trivial offense. Finding himself pursued by officers, he sought refuge in the schoolhouse. When the officers appeared Willis opened fire, wounding Ketcher at the first shot. Rolling over on his side, the officer kept up a fire on Willis. The children escaped through windows while Constable Wilson shot Willis.

VICTIM DIES WITHOUT REGAINING HIS SENSES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — Without regaining consciousness, Thomas Lydon, the longshoreman who was picked up at Nineteenth and Howard streets, yesterday, died this morning at the Lane hospital.

The police have not yet determined how the man came by the injuries which caused his death, and the theory that he was held up by thugs who gave him a fractured skull, is being strengthened by the investigation made thus far.

EUREKA AROUSED BY DYNAMITING

Japanese Victims Threaten Reprisals--Consul Will Not Investigate

EUREKA, Oct. 26.—The proprietors of the Japanese art store which was wrecked by a bomb early Sunday morning, announced last night that they had received word from San Francisco that the Japanese Consul there would be in Eureka today to look after the interests of his countrymen here. Repairs on the wrecked building began today. Tsuchiya Brothers, the proprietors of the store, it is reported, will make a claim for indemnity on the United States Government. This report could not be confirmed tonight.

INDIGNATION RIFE.

There is a general feeling of indignation here over the outrage of yesterday morning, and the City Council will meet in extra session tomorrow night for the purpose of offering a reward for the perpetrators of the outrage. A mass meeting of citizens for the same purpose has also been called. Business men are today soliciting subscriptions for a reward for information leading to the arrest of the guilty.

Mayor Lambert today telegraphed the Japanese Consul at San Francisco expressing his regrets at the attempt to wreck the Japanese establishment and assuring the imperial representative of the good will of the people of this community.

CONSUL STAYS HOME.

When asked last night if he intended to go to Eureka to make a personal investigation of the reported dynamiting of the Tsuchiya Brothers' store, the Japanese Consul-General, M. Nagai, said: said:

"That is a mistake. I have no idea of going to Eureka. Although I have only read the newspaper account of the incident, I can say this: The good sense of the people of Eureka, and the good feeling they have toward the Japanese people, will be sufficient to take care of the Japanese there."

UNCHANGED GARBS CAUSE OF ARREST

Feminine Twain Subtract Man's Wallet--Nabbed on Dress Description

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — Had Nellie Winters and Stella Dalton changed their apparrel and attired themselves last evening in dresses other than those which they wore when they were escorted home by Walter De Bardeleben, they might still be enjoying their liberty.

The report of De Bardeleben, in which he declares that he had been robbed of $40, was read to the police watches at midnight and when Officers Farrell and Healey were walking up Turk street with the description of the women alleged to be responsible for the robbery still in their minds, they encountered Miss Winters and Miss Dalton.

Without a word both were taken into custody and when De Bardeleben was brought face to face with them, he positively identified the former as the one who was responsible for the robbery and the latter as her companion.

VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA HAVE SPECIAL SERVICES

The Volunteers of America announce meetings of a very special character this week. Tuesday night Rev. J. E. Wright of East Oakland will speak in their hall 407 Eighth street, and on Thursday night Rev. Loofborough of the Eighth Avenue Methodist Church will speak.

M. G. Bradley conducts a Bible class at the above address every Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

'Twixt Optimist and Pessimist,
The difference is droll.
The Optimist sees the doughnut,
The Pessimist sees the hole.

Some would say the best way to turn an optimist into a pessimist would be to feed him the doughnuts, and this would be true if the doughnuts are fried in lard. Lard is certainly indigestible and many people are deprived of the pleasure of eating doughnuts and other dainties just because of this fact. However, there is a cooking fat —COTTOLENE—which can be used in any way and every way that lard can, and yet makes light, rich, delicious food that the most delicate stomach can digest with ease. COTTOLENE is making the world cheerier and brighter for thousands who were formerly suffering from the curse of lard-soaked food.

Co-Operation

We think we are justified in asking the co-operation of the public to the extent of holding toward us a friendly spirit in considering our problems and dealing with personal and municipal questions which affect us.

The co-operation we desire is not the kind that would perform our work for us or lift our responsibilities from our shoulders. Rather it is the same appreciation and encouragement which is accorded any worthy commercial enterprise whose labor and ambitions help to make the city great.

A city cannot get along without utilities, nor can the utilities exist without the city. They are mutually dependent. A gas company that does not do its utmost toward developing its city is working against its own best interests; likewise a community which fails to co-operate with an EFFICIENT public service company sacrifices its own welfare.

On this point the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin, an absolutely disinterested body, has said: "The relations between the cities and the utilities operating therein should be harmonious. There must be co-operation rather than agitation. . . . No one, it would seem, has anything to gain by the financial failure of public service corporations which are conducted and operated under ordinary or normal conditions.

"Losses to such plants are, in the end, likely to result in both public and private injuries. It usually means poorer or depreciated service, which of itself is a very important item. Even if it should enable cities to acquire title to their utility plants at comparatively low cost, such acquisition is not likely to prove a popular one in the long run."

Hats for Rainy Days

Children's Patent Leather Sailors 95c to $2.50

Smart ready-to-wears made of patent letaher, mostly in all black, tho some are in colors. Wide hats that will shade the face on sunny days, but being rainproof and free from delicate trimmings, are especially suitable for wear during rainy weather. Neatly finished with tailored bands. Remarkably good values at these low prices. Bring the little miss to the store and try one of these hats on. They are becoming to almost any child.

Women's Rainproof Sailors $1.25

These are the exceedingly popular Toreador hats—quite large, and shaped in the true Spanish style. Covered with a corded, rainproof material and finished with patent leather bindings and tailored bows. Some have patent leather tops also. The purchase of a great quantity of these hats not only secured them at a liberal price concession (enabling you to purchase them so reasonably), but allows a wide choice in styles.

See the Pyrography Demonstration

All the latest fads in art work are now on display at Hale's ready for the holidays. Wood burning, carving, tinseling, jeweling and mosaic painting (new and clever arts extremely popular in the east) are being demonstrated by Mr. Mester, an expert from the Flemish Art Company, the largest pyrographic manufacturing firm in the world. Tomorrow is the last day of this expert demonstration; so you had best come early. You can see not only the beautiful finished pieces, but learn how the artistic work is done by watching this demonstration.

KILLED IN DUEL OVER WIFE OF FRIEND

Frenchman's Infatuation for His Cousin Brings About Pistol Fight

SAID TO BE WANTED IN PARIS FOR MURDER

Jean Picard Slays Man He Had Sheltered Who Tried to Wreck Home

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — Infatuation of Gaston Pompin, an Apache from the slums of Paris, for his petite cousin Anna, wife of Jean Picard, 535 Twenty-eighth street, resulted in a duel last night that cost Pompin his life. He was shot and instantly killed by Picard, as he raised his revolver at his adversary who escaped unharmed.

The duel occurred at the Picard residence, where Pompin has been harbored since his arrival in San Francisco on July 15. He is said to have been wanted by the police of the French capital for murder, having held up a man in the outskirts of the city and killed him when he resisted. He accused Picard of having written the prefect of police of his presence in San Francisco, and the accusation, together with the discovery of his infatuation for Mrs. Picard, led to the duel.

It was on his arrival home from his labor last night that Picard learned of his guest's repeated advances toward his wife, according to the police. Fear of such a tragedy as resulted had sealed her lips, but Picard's aged mother met him a short distance from the house, as he returned from work, and told him the manner in which Pompin had repaid his hospitality.

"He must leave my house," declared Picard.

FIGHT IN GARDEN.

But on reaching the home he betrayed by no sign or word his intentions and sat down to dinner as usual. At the table sat his wife, his mother and father and Pompin. Sinister taciturnity marked the meal. As soon as it was concluded Picard arose.

"I would talk with you, Pompin," he said, and he led the way through the front door to the porch. Pompin followed scowling sullenly.

Picard carefully closed the door behind them, and the two men paused. There were no witnesses to the tragedy, but when Pompin's body was found by the police half an hour later a revolver was clasped in his hand, while a small red hole beneath his left eye told the manner of his death. In his pocket was an ugly looking knife.

ALWAYS ARMED.

"I knew he was a bad man," said Picard, "and he always carried a pistol and knife. I, too, carry a pistol, since I learned what he had done in Paris, and that he disliked me.

"As soon as I closed the door I told him he must leave my home. He swore at me. I said, 'Yes, you must go, and must never come back.' He swore again and say we will fight. I see him suddenly reach for his revolver thinking I did not see, but I was too quick. I raised my own and fired. He fell and I ran for the police."

Picard hurried to a corner grocery store and there telephoned to the Mission police station, informing the police of his deed. He also telephoned his attorney, then returned to his home. Detective F. J. Egan of the Mission station and Detective Sergeant McGrayan of the upper office were hurried to the scene. Picard was removed to the city prison, where he is confined.

Picard is thirty-five years of age, and is employed as foreman in the Allec Dyeing Works, on Folsom street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, where he has been for six years. He is said to bear a good reputation.

Whaler Olga Is Wrecked in North

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 26.—A furious storm is raging in Bering Sea. The whaler Olga, of San Francisco has been wrecked at the mouth of Snake River and several small coastwise steamers have been washed ashore.

The steamer Senator, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company from Seattle for Nome, with eight passengers and sixty-eight in the crew, was unable to make a landing at Nome and has taken shelter behind Sledge Island, eight miles north of Nome.

AGED SEAMAN IS DEAD; FUNERAL IS TOMORROW

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—William Nord, a well known seaman, 63 years of age, died yesterday at his home, 1810 Clement avenue. He is survived by a widow, Bessie Nord. The decedent was a native of Sweden. His funeral will be held tomorrow at 9:30 o'clock from St. Joseph's Church, where a mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. The interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

'WATCHED OVER' FAIR POETESS AT NIGHT

Mabel Pitts Carey, Feared Husband Gave Childs a Pass Key

MRS. CHILDS AWARDED DECREE FROM SPOUSE

Suit Brings Out More Facts of Scandalous Nature in Pending Suit

Following the divorce suit brought by Mabel Porter Pitts Carey, California poetess of passion, and the cross-complaint of her husband, J. A. Carey, charging L. Childs, an athletic advertising solicitor, with winning the affections of his literary wife, has come the news from Salinas that Mrs. Pansy Childs has obtained an interlocutory decree from Advertiser Childs.

And the intermingled proceedings have been invested with heightened interest by the taking of the deposition of Mrs. Carey in the office of Attorney L. G. Carpenter in San Francisco before Mrs. M. V. Collins, a notary public.

Mrs. Carey added new details to the statement already made by her and charged that her husband had told her he was tired of her "pale, patient face."

MUSIC'S CHARM NOT.

Music failed to soothe his savage heart on this occasion, she said, for she played on the piano to quiet him, but her efforts only resulted in her expulsion from her home.

The decree obtained by Mrs. Childs so soon after the filing of the Carey suit was granted by Judge Bradley V. Sargent on the ground of desertion. Judge Sargent gave Mrs. Childs the custody of her two minor children and $75 a month alimony.

The connection between the Childs suit and the Carey suit was evidenced further by the appearance in Salinas of Attorney J. A. Merrill, retained by Mrs. Carey in her action, as the counsel for Childs.

LATCH KEY TESTIMONY.

Recherche revelations in Mrs. Carey's suit for divorce are promised when it comes to trial. Revelations that have to do with detectives and latch keys, honeymoons, husband and hotels, are not impossible when the poetess wife and publisher husband meet to settle their marital difficulties.

That Childs was the object of solicitous interest on the part of three corps of detectives, while Mrs. Carey was living in Berkeley, was the statement made yesterday.

Also it is said the detectives were almost surprised in the act of eavesdropping, and escaped detection by seeking the shadows surrounding the rays of a lantern carried by the athletic Childs.

DENIES HOTEL TRIP.

California's poetess of passion appeared last week to have her deposition taken. Her admissions included an acquaintanceship with Childs and his family. She said she had seen Childs frequently, but could not enumerate any visits he might have made to her Berkeley home.

In answer to a question from Attorney Carpenter, Mrs. Carey denied that she had registered at the Manx Hotel as the wife of Childs last August. On the date involved, she said, she had taken a room in Sutton street near Franklin. She could not remember at what hotel she had stayed when she returned to this city September 13 last.

Carpenter wanted to know whether she stayed as Mrs. Childs at the Hotel Miles, but Mrs. Carey, without hesitation, returned a negative answer. And the deponent further said she had not gone to Hotel Rowardenan, at Ben Lomond, with Childs as Mrs. Childs.

HONEYMOON, SAYS CAREY.

Publisher Carey has asserted that his wife and Childs represented at Ben Lomond that they were on their honeymoon.

A key to Mrs. Carey's home in Berkeley was the subject of one of Carpenter's interrogatories. Mrs. Carey said that Childs had been given a key, and explained that her husband had threatened to burn the house and the furniture, and she wanted Childs to watch the place. Carpenter asked whether Childs was on a salary as a watchman.

The beginning of the examination dealt with the charges of cruelty made by Mrs. Carey. She related how her husband and she had gone to a restaurant in January, 1908, and how her husband had announced his intention of getting intoxicated. Mrs. Carey told of her attempt to dissuade him from his purpose, all to no avail. Carey became quarrelsome, she declared, and the waiters suffered as a result.

"PALE, PATIENT FACE."

At home the same evening Carey, according to his wife, frequently left the house for liquor, notwithstanding that she resorted to music to soothe him. Finally, she declared, he told her he was tired of "her pale, patient face," and helped her on her way to the door.

Mrs. Carey, followed by her husband, fled to the steps of the Cosmos Club, but, deciding she could get no succor there, made her way to the Majestic Hotel.

She added that her husband had once broken open her trunk, and upon her interference had choked her.

Probable the suit brought by the author of passionate poems will not be tried for two months.

Students Object To Taking Up Arms

SPOKANE, Oct. 26.—Fearing that at some time they may be called upon to take arms against their native countries, more than a dozen alien students of the Washington State College at Pullman have petitioned they be not required to enroll in the military department of the school.

The petitioners, who include two Englishmen, two Scotchmen, a native of India and half a dozen Japanese, assert that under the present law, enrollment in the cadet corps would make them subject to service in the United States Army in case of war. The faculty has not yet ruled on the petition.

The college is given funds on condition that all students engage in military drill.

Judge Troutt Is Still Very Ill

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — The continued illness of Superior Judge Troutt is causing his many friends considerable anxiety. For the past ten days he has been unable to attend court and this morning word was received from San Mateo that the physician in attendance upon him had announced that it would be at least two weeks before the judge would be able to resume his duties.

The illness is a result of overwork and worry. He remained upon the bench throughout the entire vacation period this year, often working well into the night, and it is this, his friends believe, that has resulted in a general breakdown.

PATTEN AFTER CORNER IN COTTON

Wheat Manipulator Reaps Big Harvest of Shekels in Sudden Raise

MANY WOMEN WIN FORTUNES THROUGH TIPS

Whole South in Furor, Plunge Heavily for Still Higher Boost in Prices

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—James A. Patten and his followers are making a "killing" on the bull side of the cotton market, according to reports circulated among the brokers in La Salle street yesterday, when the price of the staple rose to new high records for the season.

A few weeks ago while in New York, Patten predicted a big advance in cotton because of the shortage in the crop this season, and today there were excited coverings by the shorts who did not give heed to his utterances. English experts are giving out repors that confirm Patten's view on the shortage. The bullish sentiment was intensified on the day's trading by reports of further damage to the crop from frost in the South last night.

BIG WINNINGS IN SOUTH.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 26.—Not since the days of the Civil War has there been so much excitement all over the South. This time it is due to the sensational advance in cotton. Everybody who has any money or can borrow any, is dabbling in cotton and many fortunes have been cleaned up by those who have been following Patten, the Chicago cotton bull.

The estimate of profits of women speculators in this city and immediate sections of the cotton belt as a result of the rise in the market following the government report on ginning, is conservatively placed in the thousands.

WOMEN MAD RICH.

Members of the smart set, as well as stenographers, all of whom have "bought" for several days past on the strength of the general tip sent down the line by the cotton bosses themselves, won various amounts sufficient to purchase a new winter stock of gloves and furs.

Miss Mamie McGinnity, who was employed by the firm, resigned her position at the close of the day's business and will devote much of the winter to travel in an effort to enjoy her winnings in future speculation.

WALL STREET EXCITED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—There was great excitement in the cotton market today, prices making new high records on account of the big gains in Liverpool, a bullish crop estimate by a prominent English expert, a scarcity of shorts and general buying.

Brothers Arrested For Triple Murder

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—Patrick and James McMahon were arrested in Kansas City, Kansas, today in connection with the murder last Tuesday of Margaret Van Royen and Rose McMahon, sisters of the McMahons, and Alonzo R. Van Royen.

The McMahons are held on a charge of murder. Their arrest followed a visit of the officers today to the Van Royen farm, where they unearthed a revolver and a quantity of jewelry, the latter the property of Mrs. Van Royen.

BABE'S SCREAM SCARES AWAY BURGLAR

Parents Away, Tots See Bold Marauder Loot Room in Which They Slept

WATCH IN WILD-EYED FASCINATION; ONE YELLS

Invader Flees in Haste; Both Bury Heads Under Covers and Beg For Mercy

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — The awful terror of two young children who lay wild-eyed on their beds watching the operations of a burglar who had broken into their room during the absence of their parents, so worked upon the feelings of the intruder that, startled by one piercing scream, he made his escape without stealing a thing.

LEAVE TOTS ALONE.

W. T. Grubb of, 535 Frederick street, left his home in the early evening to attend a nickelodeon in the neighborhood. His two little ones were safely tucked in their beds and were almost asleep when a silent, stealthy burglar climbed through a side window and began moving around.

The children were too frightened to utter an outcry at first and fascinated, and shaking in their terror, they watched every move of the man as he pulled out bureau drawers, ransacked closets and gathered together his booty.

CHILD SCREAMS.

He had not noticed the presence of the little ones at first, but their gaze soon attracted his attention and as he came forward one of them yelled in sudden alarm. Without a word, but seemingly as scared as themselves, he dashed through the window and was gone.

When the parents returned a short time later they found their babies huddled together under the clothes, crying to the burglar not to hurt them. The police of the Park station were notified and an effort is being made to locate the culprit.

Big Liner Ashore, No Sign of Crew

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 26.—A large steamer is ashore on the Old Proprietor Ledge, off Seal Cove, Grand Manan, according to a dispatch received here. There is no sign of the crew.

The steamer is believed to be the Donaldson Liner Hestia, which left Glasgow October 9th for St. John and Baltimore.

A later dispatch from Grand Manan states that the steamer is virtually submerged. The vessel has two masts and a white band on the funnel, this description fitting the Hestia.

Wife Used Hatchet And Razor; Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—A horrifying tale of the alleged cruelties inflicted upon him by his wife, Mary, related in Judge Van Nostrand's court this morning, was responsible for the granting of a divorce to John Slerck, a baker.

He declared that his wife had attacked him with a hatchet and split open his head and had also attempted to cut his throat with a razor, and to poison him. The couple were married in 1906, and soon after the wedding the alleged attempts on his life were made.

ENTIRE BLOCK ENDANGERED BY FIRE

BIG TANK OF GASOLINE FAILS TO EXPLODE

Autos Are Scorched and Two Big Racing Machines Have Close Call

A miracle in gasoline and a concrete wall interposed to save an entire block at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Oak streets from being swept by flames.

The fire started about 7:15 o'clock this morning at the Lake Merritt Auto Livery and the black fumes of the burning gasoline poured out of every crack and crevice of the garage building while the flames, fed from a great tank of gasoline, lapped and seared the frames of a dozen automobiles stabled in the structure.

From out of this suffocating smoke C. O. Leedom and his three employes, aided by the members of the fire department, dragged the autos and strung them along Twelfth street, out of the zone of danger, while several pipe lines played on the fire within.

The garage of the Oakland Auto Painting company, adjoining the burning structure on Twelfth street, had a narrow escape.

As it was the flames dipped over the concrete wall and caught here and there on the wooden walls. They were quickly extinguished and the painting company suffered only slight damage.

RACERS ENDANGERED.

Among the autos hurriedly run out of the auto livery were two Stearns racing cars that entered and failed in Saturday's event.

The miracle of it all was that the big tank of gasoline, contrary to its reputation and usual behavior, did not explode. It had been brought in from the race course where it supplied the cars entered in the events and it is supposed that in removal it had sprung a leak.

When the fire occurred the night watchman had gone off duty and the day force was about to report.

Mr. Leedom himself was eating his breakfast in a restaurant two blocks away when the alarm sounded and he rushed to the scene. His loss is estimated at between $500 and $750, caused by the scorching of tires and paint on the autos stored in the garage.

'DAYS OF 49' ARE DEPICTED IN FULL

Stockton Celebration Unique; Veteran Prospectors Take Early Day Roles

STOCKTON, Oct. 26. — At 8:30 o'clock this morning Stockton began what is believed to be the most unique public celebration ever held in the west. It is styled the "Rush of '49," and all the stirring scenes of the rush following the discovery of placer gold in California are being enacted — the arrival of the "pony express" giving news of a new discovery; the disembarking of gold seekers coming by water; the rush to the new diggings, and the general excitement attendant upon such events.

Roaring Camp is the focal point of celebration. It is a typical mining town, erected on the public square with its placer diggings, known as Gold Gulch, on which practical mining is being exemplified by old prospectors with their rockers and gold pans, pay dirt from Calaveras mines being used. A daily paper, the Gold Gulch Gazette, is published in the camp.

The campaign for Alcalde began this morning and at 1 o'clock today Judge C. P. Rendon was elected to that office.

Miss Petrica Benson, elected as the Pride of Roaring Camp, arrived by stage and took charge in the forenoon, amid wild hurrahs.

Shooting scrapes, lynchings and other early day events are scheduled for the week.

The city is filling up with visitors and business streets are well decorated in the rush colors — blue and gold.

Town Is Inundated By a Tidal Wave

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26.—The town of Santa Rosa in the State of Takasvo, was inundated by a tidal wave last night. The loss of life is not known but it is believed to be large.

The property loss is estimated at $5,000,000.

For a time the streets and public gardens were under three feet of water; trees were uprooted and crops washed out. The Usumasinta River, on the Guatemalan border overflowed its banks in the vicinity of Jalapa and San Juan Bautista flooding these towns.

Nebraska Farmer Gets First Choice

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 26.—William J. Engel of Butte, Neb., was the first name drawn from the pile of envelopes in the United States drawings for land in the Cheyenne and Standing Rock Indian reservations. Engel is 22 years of age and registered at Pierre, S. D.

NORFOLK, Neb., Oct. 26.—William Engel, who drew No. 1 claim in the Aberdeen land drawing today, lives on a farm three miles west of Butte. He is not married.

WORKERS CHEER HEARST ON TO VICTORY

TWO GREAT RALLIES HELD ON SAME NIGHT

Rousing Receptions Given and Points in Speech Meet Great Applause

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Mr. Hearst's campaign reached Long Island last night, and, opening with a jammed house at the Murray Hill Lyceum in Manhattan wound up miles away in Queens county, where the Civic Alliance candidate spoke to more than 7000 persons at two meetings, making a record for the campaign as yet untouched by any speaker. At both the meetings in Queens county thousands of persons were turned away and hundreds contented themselves with waiting on the curb to cheer Mr. Hearst as he stepped from his machine.

The meeting at the Murray Hill Lyceum was for the workingmen, and they availed themselves of the privilege. Long before 8 o'clock the policemen were turning men away from the door and the crowd was waiting in the street. Inside a capacity house listened to William Hepburn Russell, who has deserted the law committee of Tammany Hall to help out in the whirlwind fight to elect a Mayor who will smash the power of the so-called Democratic organization. Mr. Russell was introduced by William F. Coakley, the labor leader. Coakley drove home a few points of his own and then called on Mr. Russell, who directed a few smashing blows at the Tammany leaders. His speech was well received, and when he told why he had left the old organization in the hope of electing a Mayor who would make the fight for the people the crowd rose and cheered him until the electric lights seemed to blink.

GREAT CHEERING.

A cheer from the wings of the stage spread through the audience, and Mr. Hearst shouldered through the crowd. Immediately the audience was on its feet. Mr. Coakley, who wished to introduce the speaker, waved for silence.

"Don't introduce him, Bill!" they yelled. "We know him!"

Coakley waited nine minutes for the chance to make that introduction, for there seemed to be nothing to do but let the people cheer themselves out, and when the band played it only gave them their second wind.

When Coakley got a chance to speak some man in a box arose and, waving a picture of Mr. Hearst, inquired who gave the people of New York their 80-cent gas, and it took another full minute to tell about that.

Then the speech began, with interruptions and good-natured interpolations.

"Oh, you Randolph!" howled a small coterie, and Mr. Hearst stopped and looked down with a grin on his face.

There were no interruptions after Mr. Hearst swung into his subject. He had something to say to the people, and he said it in words of one syllable, and more than one man nodded his head and muttered "that's so," as the points were dricven home and clinched.

FIGHT FOR THREE THINGS.

"I'm in this fight for just three things," said Mr. Hearst. "First, to defeat the Tammany ticket, which is at once a menance and a disgrace to the city."

A roar went up from the packed house. "This has already been done, and well done!"

"Second, to disrupt the corrupt bargain between the Republican machine and the Democratic machine. THIS is going to be fully accomplished on November the 2d."

Another terrific cheer.

"Third, to give this plundered and prostrate city an efficient business administration. I believe that I am going to be elected, and we might as well begin to discuss the details now."

TELLING SPEECH.

And the third period stopped the speech for a full minute, while the crowd cheered.

Mr. Hearst talked straight campaign talk then, delivering one of the most telling speeches of the campaign. Not a word was wasted and when he spoke of his business experience of twenty-five years and reminded his hearers that the trusts have not got him yet, the crowd stood up once more.

"I am in this fight to get schools for you," said Mr. Hearst, "and they will be located where you need them, not where some corrupt politician wants them."

At the close of the speech at the Murray Hill Lyceum the audience stood and cheered Mr. Hearst out of the hall in spite of the fact that the tireless Coakley was trying to introduce the next speaker.

LONG ISLAND MEETING.

Then came a fast run over the Queensboro bridge to Scheutsen Park, in Long Island City. The big hall, one of the largest Mr. Hearst has spoken in in this campaign, was packed to the aisles and all the windows were opened so that those who could not get inside the hall might hear the address. Hundreds on the sidewalks set up a cheer as the automobile rolled in and nothing bu the determined stand of the police kept the passageway clear into the hall, where four thousand men and women stood up and cheered for five minutess.

There were more women at this meeting than is usually seen, and they led the applause, waving their handkerchiefs and clapping their hands as the points were made.

MEMBERS OF CHAMBER INVITED TO BIG FIESTA

The representatives of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast who will visit China, starting in February 1910, have been invited by J. C. Meham, Director General of the carnival to be held in Manila, P. I., February 5 to 14, to participate in that big fiesta.

The invitation has been transmitted to the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and invites its delegates to be guests at this carnival of which Governor General Forbes has recently been elected president. The invitation is forwarded by Peter J. Lynch, commercial manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in Seattle and formerly occupying the same position in Oakland, which position he left to assume management of the company in Manila.

The details of the visit to China have not been completed as yet but the start will be made some time early in February.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW INCREASE OVER 1908

Bank clearings—This week: $1,897,075.63. Corresponding week 1908: $1,888,906.81.

MRS. J. J. ASTOR IS SEEKING DIVORCE

HUSBAND LEAVES ON YACHT SAILING FOR CUBA

Cause of Action Is Kept Strict Secret by All Concerned in Suit

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Society will hear with sincere regret that Mrs. John Jacob Astor, the beautiful and queenly leader of the Four Hundred, is suing her distinguished husband for divorce.

The legal proceedings have been conducted quietly and with dispatch. The case is now in the hands of the referee, C. H. Young of 76 William street. Exactly what is the basis of the action has not been learned.

Mrs. Astor returned from Europe on October 15. She traveled incognito. Astor is now on his yacht, the Nourmahal II, in Cuban waters, having sailed on October 12, three days before his wife's arrival home.

MRS. ASTOR AVOIDS HOMES.

Mrs. Astor did not go to her recently remodeled city mansion at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street, nor to her beautiful country seat at Rhinebeck. She went to the home of her devoted friends, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, 20 Washington Square West. She left there Sunday morning to visit friends in the country.

Astor's attorney in the proceedings is Lewis Cass Ledyard, who was the law partner of the late leader of the bar, James C. Carter.

Ledyard is recognized as a master in the conduct of cases requiring the highest diplomacy and great social as well as great legal knowledge.

Mrs. Astor is represented by John H. Cadwallader, head of the firm of Strong & Cadwallader, and former president of the New York Bar Association.

SOCIETY STIRRED.

There is no other family in New York whose disagreement could cause such general regret in the social as well as in the business world.

The present head of the renowned house of Astor, as financier, inventor, soldier and sportsman, holds a lofty position in the respect of the public, as well as of his friends.

His wife, who succeeded the late Mrs. William Astor as recognized leader of New York society, has won, besides the social triumphs of England and America, an enviable reputation for her wise charities and her persistent philanthropic efforts. With a firm through gentle hand, she has upheld the standards of society in accordance with her own high ideals.

DEVOTED AS A MOTHER.

Although the King of England has been her guest at her London home in Mayfair, although the flower of the British nobility has welcomed her with honors, she has always found time to devote her truest efforts to the care of her own home and of her children.

Her son, William Vincent Astor, is now 17 years old, and her little daughter Alice is 7.

A Philadelphian by birth, she was Miss Alva L. Walling, a daughter of Edward S. Walling, and a descendant of the Willings and Bartons, who were prominent in early American history.

She was married to John Jacob Astor on February 17, 1891. She is a typical American woman, but exceptional in beauty. Tall, regal and willowly, her movements are marked by unusual grace. Her manner is gentle and charming. Seen at a ball in one of the wonderful Paris creations which she is said to never wear twice, she is a figure never to be forgotten. The soft brown of her hair is sprinkled with silver now, a curious contrast to the fresh rosy oval face that still seems glowing with youth.

SOCIAL FAME ABROAD.

She has made it a custom to spend a part of each year abroad and has achieved as much fame as a hostess there as here. Her last large affair in London was in June of last year, when she gave a royal dinner and ball which was attended by the most distinguished personages in England.

John Jacob Astor, the grandson of the first famous man of that name, was born in Rhinebeck in 1864. He graduated from Harvard in the class of 1888, three years before his marriage.

In 1892 he assumed the grave responsibilities involved in the management of the vast estate belonging to the Astor family, the mismanagement of which would seriously affect the city of New York itself.

MANY ON RECORD AS AGAINST BLASTING

TEST OF INITIATIVE INVOLVED IN FIGHT

Council May Call a Special Election to Have People of City Decide

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—The fight over the continuance of blasting in North Berkeley by the Spring Construction Company is nearing the final test of strength between the two factions and incidentally the potency of the new city charter with regard to the initiative. Almost a dozen verification officials are canvassing the city for signers to a petition for the adoption of a new ordinance rescinding the extension of the permit recently granted by the council. About 600 signatures have been obtained so far and in the neighborhood of 750 are required.

The opponents of blasting are confident they will be able to obtain at least 1000 signers and thus win out decisively. Should they do this the council will be compelled, under the new charter, to adopt an ordinance submitted by the opponents or call a special election at which the people of the city will be called upon to decide whether it shall become a statute. The council has the privilege of submitting a counter ordinance at the same election.

NO LET UP IN FIGHT.

The residents of North Berkeley have shown no indication of a let up in their fight against the alleged nuisance. They say it is a fight to the finish and will listen to no compromise. If the required number of signatures are obtained much interest will be evinced in the subsequent developments which will tend to show just how effective the new charter is and the value of the initiative clause.

In Berkeley Society

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—The wedding of Miss Bertha Blakeley, a charming Berkeley girl, and H. C. Tregallas of Sacramento is scheduled to take place on the evening of November 24, and will be an elaborate home ceremony. This attractive girl is being entertained extensively by her friends, and since the announcement of her betrothal she has been the incentive for a round of pleasure. Tomorrow evening she will be the honored guest at a dinner to be given by Mrs. Morton of East Oakland, and on Thursday evening next Mrs. A. A. Rice will entertain at dinner at her home in San Francisco. Friends from both sides of the bay will be included in the affair. A number of smaller social affairs are being planned in Miss Blakeley's honor.

The Portola spirit pervaded the delightful informal meeting of the Spinners' Club in the St. Francis last Tuesday evening. The scene of the affair was the crimson room, which, with yellow decorations, was easily converted into a brilliant Portola setting. Yellow butterflies, streamers, confetti and beribboned horns created an atmosphere into which the spirit of carnival entered blithely, and the evening developed no end of merriment.

CONTROVERSY OVER SITE FOR POSTOFFICE SETTLED

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—In a letter from the Treasury Department at Washington, Charles S. Neal, owner of the Thompson lte, Central and Park avenues, received official acceptance of the property by the government. This settles the controversy regarding the location of the local postoffice.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA.

They Clog the Pores--Only a Liquid Can Reach the Inner Skin.

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis, where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription. After ten years of cure after cure, the world's leading skin specialists have accepted this as the true eczema cure.

We ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, but for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on a special offer now. This first bottle ought to convince every sufferer, and, at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once. Owl Drug Co., Thirteenth and Broadway, Tenth and Washington, Sixteenth and San Pablo.

ROW MAY PREVENT FOOTBALL GAME

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—The Alameda, Fremont and Polytechnic High Schools were represented by a committee of one at the regular meeting of the sub-league of the Academic Athletic League held last night at the local high school. The principal subject for discussion was the grounds on which the coming game with Alameda and Fremont will be played. Fremont entered strong objection to playing at Recreation Park, giving as its reason that the ground had become softened by the rains and was not in proper condition.

As Fremont has lost every game it has played on these grounds, Chas. Baum, chairman of the league and the representatives from Oakland Polytechnic High, asserted that this was the reason for its opposition to the game being played there. A vote was taken, which resulted in a tie, Fremont casting a ballot against Recreation Park and Oakland Polytechnic voting for these grounds.

Chairman Baum then cast his vote for Recreation Park, and a heated argument ensued, Fremont threatening to draw out of the league. The school will give its decision as to wether or not it will remain in the league this afternoon.

If Fremont stays with the league, a game is scheduled for Saturday afternoon between the eleven of the local high school and the Fremont team.

This game will decide the sub-league championship.

Both teams are evenly matched and enthusiasts of the American game will see a fast contest.

The Alameda team will be greatly strengthened by William Gale, who has again donned a suit.

P. Mackie, E. Bruzzone, L. Ives, J. Mackie, Ned Anthony, G. Davis, Maguire, Gale, Shattuck, D. Bruzzone, Elmer Fay, Thompson and substitutes.

BERNAYS LECTURES ON THE PACIFIC FAIRYLAND

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Illustrating his lecture with more than one hundred stereoptican views, D. E. Bernays, for fully two hours discussed "The Pacific Fairyland," last night before an audience of Elks and thier friends. The lecture was made in Woodmen Hall on Park street.

Beginning with the discoveries of Sebastian Viscaino which led to the terey Bay, describing the march of Portola, the founding of the Missions and the downfall of the Franciscans, the lecturer carried his audience over the two centureis of California civilization and left them on the new scenic boulevards which make the modern California famous.

The scenes covered by the Bernay lecture were largely in the neighborhood of historic Monterey; and the world-famous 17-mile-drive formed no small portion of the description.

BONHEIM CONTEST FOR UPPER DIVISION CLOSES

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—The Bonheim contest for the upper division closed last night, with a total of six essays submitted. These will be turned over immediately to the committee in charge, the members of which are Professor Flaherty, chairman; Professors Bowman, Mitchell and Overstreet.

The subject for the essay is: "Ought a prosecuting officer ever to grant immunity to guilty witnesses?" Four essay prizes of $15 will be awarded, provided the essays are good enough. The winners of these essay prizes will be required to deliver their essays in the form of an address on the evening of Saturday preceding the final examinations. The winner of this oratorical contest will receive a prize of $100.

SONG AND YELL BOOKS FOR ROOTERS TOMORROW

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—Yell Leader J. D. Hartigan '10, announced yesterday that the official song and yell book would be disributed to the rooters at the first California-Vancouver game to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

This book is a small pamphlet containing the four new songs, and the prize yells, together with those of the older songs and yells which are still used at the games.

From a financial as well as social standpoint, the training table informal was a great success, the profits amounting to about $250.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFERS AID TO EUREKA

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Recognizing the efforts toward the commercial advancement of Eureka and Humboldt county being undertaken by the Humboldt County Chamber of Commerce the local commercial organization has offered its assistance in the furtherance of objects of the Eureka business men.

In a letter addressed to George A. Kellogg, secretary of the Humboldt county organization, the local chamber offers the services of its publicity department for the distribution of literature sent out from Eureka. And it further "tenders its services in any way possible for the mutual welfare of your community and the State of California."

The Alameda Chamber of Commerce believes that the return of the favors thus granted to neighboring organizations will prove a big advertisement for Alameda.

INCREASE SALARIES OF ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—The city council this morning adopted a resolution increasing the salaries of E. H. Gove, tax collector, and H. J. Squires, assessor, from $150 to $175 a month. This was done in lieu of the old fee system, which is abolished under the new city charter. Under the old system the emoluments of the tax collector's office from fees was $400 a year, and that of the assessor's office $800 a year.

CAN'T LOCATE OWNER OF STOLEN OVERCOAT

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Thus far the efforts of the local police to find the owner of the overcoat believed to have been stolen in Alameda by Robert Fly have proved fruitless. Fly was arrested in Oakland last week and charged with several robberies which were committed in Oakland and Berkeley. The overcoat, a long gray-striped affair, was sent to Alameda, where it was believed to have been stolen. It has been in the local police office for the last four days, but no claimant has been found.

COUNTY TAX COLLECTOR IS IN ALAMEDA TODAY

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—County Tax Collector Barker is at City Treasurer Oswald Lubbock's office at the City Hall today to collect county taxes from the residents of Alameda. Tax bills will be submitted upon the demand of the property owners, who are asked to bring their last tax bill for reference.

Pretty Comic Opera 'Erminie' to Be Presented Thursday Night by Trio of Musical Clubs

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—The comic opera, "Erminie," which is to be given Thursday evening at the Macdonough Theater in Oakland by the Treble Clef, assisted by the Glee and De Koven Clubs, is almost ready for presentation.

A stage rehearsal was held at Idora Park Friday. Others will be held every day of this week, ending with a dress rehearsal Thursday afternoon.

The students who will have the principal roles in the production, with the parts they will take, are as follows:

Erminie, Miss Alice Hicks, '13; Terise, Miss Irene O'Connor, '12; Javotte, Miss Irene Flanagan, '13; the Princess, Miss Alice McComb, '13; Marie, Miss Elizabeth Elliott '10; Eugene, A. L. Powers '11; Marquis, H. B. Johnson '09; Chevalier, H. Brayton '10; Ravanne, J. Hartington '10; Cabeau, I. V. Augur '11; Delauney, G. B. Fields '12; Sergeant, A. R. Grinstead '13; Ernest, R. W. Simpson '12; Dubois, L. F. Fremery '12; Simon, N. Hamilton '11.

WORK ON ROADWAY BEGINS TOMORROW

Construction of East Boulevard Will Be Rushed By S. P. Company

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Hutchinson & Company will commence work tomorrow on the construction of the east boulevard, which will skirt the eastern portion of the city, through the Cohen tract and Lincoln Park to High street and Encinal avenue.

The specifications are now in the hands of City Engineer I. N. Chapman and the construction company has been ordered to go ahead with the work.

The work will consume several months' time. It will improve the city and realty values in this locality.

Cement gutters will be installed and the roadway will be macadamized.

BOSTON HAS BIG PUBLIC BEQUESTS

Fireman, Schools, Poor and Sick Are Beneficiaries of Fund

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—This city holds in public bequests, exclusive of the Parkman fund, about $3,000,000. The purposes for which certain items are held may be set forth as follows:

Boston firemen relief	$199,994.93
Charlestown poor	35,574.27
City hospital	76,050.00
Cemetery	136,133.33
Franklin union	462,396.43
Overseers of the poor	839,494.26
Schools	139,283.24

One of the first benefactors to the settlement of Boston was Richard Russell of Charlestown, in 1674, and the next Richard Sprague, in 1703, both leaving funds for the poor.

In 1798 Jonathan Mason left a fund for the employment of a chaplain for the almshouse or workhouse. The interest from this fund is now used toward the payment of salaries of chaplains for Deer and Long Islands.

Lieut. Gov. William Stoughton, by will in 1731, established two funds, 50 pounds sterling for the relief of the poor of Dorchester, now aggregating $4,327, and 150 pounds sterling for the advancement of a salary of a school-master in Dorchester.

The Pemberton fund for the poor was started in 1760, but it takes its name from Benjamin Pemberton, who in 1782 made the largest contribution. That fund now totals $155,781.14.

David Jeffries, formerly town treasurer, established a fund which now totals $9,601.49. The money was left in trust to provide tea, coffee, chocolate and sugar for the refreshment of those persons who in the providence of God are or shall be obliged to seek refuge in the almshouse, after having lived regularly, but always giving preference to the pious poor.

In 1790 the town accepted the Franklin fund.

John Boylston, who died in London in 1795, left two bequests, one now known as the Boylston relief fund, which totals $34,401.72, to be used for poor and decayed householders, not under 50 years of age, and persons reduced by the act of providence, not by indolence or other vice; the other fund, now known as the educational fund and amounting to $180,433.33, was left for the nurture and instruction of poor orphans and deserted children of the town of Boston until 14 years of age.

The Christopher Gibson fund of 104 pounds sterling, left in 1674 to provide for the purchase of some estate for the promotion of learning in Dorchester now amounts to $73,340.43, besides an estate of 74,600 square feet. With the original fund, or out of it, the executors purchased 26 acres on Smelt brook, the present large fund resulting from the sales of portions of the estate from time to time.

The above were the very early funds, the remaining bequests having been in the 19th century.

Of the funds held in trust by the city of Boston 16 are for the City hospital, 17 for the overseers of the poor, 31 for the public library and 18 for the schools.

THIEVES OPERATE IN UNIVERSITY CITY

Two Residences Entered by Sneak Thief and Apartment Burglarized

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—A sneak thief is making an effort to gain an easy living out of the residences in the neighborhood of Telegraph avenue and Webster street, but so far he has not been highly successful. Late yesterday James Hamilton of 2526 Webster street reported to Chief of Police Vollmer that some person had entered his home during the day and, after ransacking the house, had taken a watch of small value. About the same time the home of Mrs. K. G. Storie, 3009 Telegraph avenue, was entered, but little of value taken. The same person is believed to have committed both offenses.

Another thief has commenced operations in University avenue, according to a report made to the police this morning by L. Gambal, of the Alldoree apartments, and got away with a lot of clothing. Among the articles enumerated were two suits of clothing, valued at $45 and $20, an overcoat valued at $20, a suit case and a leather grip, valued at $16, a pair of military hair brushes, a pair of shoes, slippers, razor and an alarm clock.

FARMERS' WIVES BECOME PUPILS

Uncle Sam Lifts Helpmeets of Grangers From Drudgery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. — Extension of the Farmers' Institute idea to include the farmers' wives is the latest development of the policy of paternal solicitude for the great American agriculturist as pursued by the Department of Agriculture. The betterment of the home surroundings of the farmer with particular regard for the advantages of good housekeeping, wholesome cooking, the observance of the laws of sanitation, the beautifying of the home, inside and out, the economical administration of the woman's side of the business of farming, pure water, ventilation and an endless variety of minor items which will tend to make the life of the farmer's wife and daughters more attractive are the purpose of this new division of the department.

Prof. John Hamilton, formerly State Secretary of Agriculture of Pennsylvania, is at the head of the division of Farmers' Institutes. In an interview for The World Prof. Hamilton said:

"This extension of the Farmers' Institute to include in its beneficences the women folk of the farm is comparatively new. We have been having farmers' institutes throughout the United States for more than twenty years. It is only within the last three or four that the women have begun to see the chances for developing real advantage for their own sex through these gatherings of the farmers.

"The work of the woman's institutes is perhaps broader in its scope than that for the men.

"They are shown the most profitable methods of preparing the products of the kitchen garden and the poultry yard for the city market; how to make the exterior of the home attractive to the eye by beautifying the dooryard and the flower garden; the preservation of the water supply from contamination; the internal economy of the home; the care and feeding of infants, and the development of the public school system in the rural communities.

THE FATNESS OF HEALTH

Samose Fills Out the Curves and Makes Tin People Fat

Perfect health and good, solid beautiful flesh can only come through the use of Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food.

This makes the thin and scrawny plump and robust; it mixes with the food so that all of the elements that make solid bone, firm muscle and good flesh are thoroughly assimilated and retained in the system.

Samose is not a drug or a stimulant; it is a scientific flesh forming food that restores thin people to a normal condition of good healthy flesh.

These statements are confirmed by Wishart's offer to refund the money to any one buying and using Samose who does not gain in weight as promised. The risk is all his. The thin and scrawny can buy Samose at Druggist Wishart's store, with the knowledge that if it is not successful it will cost absolutely nothing. Postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents.

SOUSA'S BAND DUE ON NOVEMBER 8

Famous Organization Will Give Two Concerts in Hearst Greek Theater

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—John Phillip Sousa and his famous band will be the attraction in the Hearst Greek Theater Monday afternoon and evening, November 8, according to the announcement made last evening by the music and dramatic committee of the university. The band is now on its ninth transcontinental tour, and much interest attaches to its coming because of the recent appearance here of the Philippine constabulary band. This will enable local enthusiasts to make comparisons of the two organizations.

Besides a list of selections by the band the program will include a number of soloists. Herbert Clarke is the cornet soloist with the organization, and he is said to be unusually proficient. Miss Hordeman is the violinist, and will be heard in two or more selections. The vocalists with Sousa this year are Miss Frances Hoyt, soprano, and Miss Grace Hoyt, mezzo-soprano. Both are well known singers in the East, and their songs will largely aid in making the program an interesting one.

MILITIA GETS QUARTERS IN NEW BANK BUILDING

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—Co. G., N. G. C. entered into a contract yesterday with the Alameda National Bank to lease the upper story of the building it contemplates erecting, for a barracks.

As the bank wanted to be assured that both stories of the new building would be occupied before it commenced building operations, there was some delay in starting work, but now that this has been eliminated, operations will be commenced the first part of next month.

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—If the sophomore debaters in the university had their way about it, trials by jury would be done away with in this country. At least that is the way they argued in the twelfth annual forensic contest with the freshman class in Hearst Hall last evening, and won the verdict. The 1912 debating team, which as freshmen last year won over the then sophomores, is a strong one, and is composed of Newton B. Drury, F. M. Shipper and C. K. Grady. Opposed to them last evening were A. L. Gates, F. D. Stephens and L. Grimes.

The contest was witnessed by a large gathering of lower classmen, and the meeting was presided over by B. W. Cunningham, '10, president of the A. S. U. C. The judges of the contest were Professor McFlaherty; assistant professor in forensics, Professor T. H. Reed, of the political science department, and F. T. Blanchard, of the English department. After the debate the winning team was presented with steins for its victory of last year. The presentation was made by T. B. Kittredge, '12.

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—Announcement has been made that the Berkeley High School Greek Club will be sponsors for a stereopticon lecture to be given Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the new assembly hall of the local high school. The lecturer for the occasion is Dr. Oliver Miles Washburn and his subject will be "The Roman House." Miss M. Clayes is managing the affair and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone. No admission will be charged.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GETTING BACK TO EARTH

ALAMEDA, Oct. 26.—In a letter to William J. Locke, city attorney of San Leandro, the Alameda Chamber of Commerce asks for information concerning the proposed Bay Farm Island roadway, and pays satirical reference to the defeated movement in Alameda to annex Fruitvale and Melrose.

The Bay Farm Island roadway is to be a shortcut connecting Alameda and San Leandro, at which point it is to connect with the county road.

The Chamber of Commerce refers to the annexation project as "a thing of the past now" and adds, "We are getting back to earth again after our journey in the air."

Strike A Match-And Instantaneously, Water Without Limit, Is Heated Steaming Hot

A WATER heater that heats instantaneously all the water you can possibly use or want, any time in the 24 hours even in the middle of the night when every fire in the house is out, a water heater that uses gas only while the hot water is actually running out of the faucet, that gives you water piping hot and not merely luke-warm that uses one third the gas you now use in your kitchen boiler, that heats water only as fast as you use it, and that would keep pouring out hot water from now till doomsday if you would let it,—this is what no kitchen boiler or any other water heating system could ever do or ever has done—but what is now done by that marvel of ingenuity, comfort, convenience and economy—the Humphrey Instantaneous Bath Heater

For instance, you place one of these heaters in your bath room. Three people in your house want to take a bath within 2 hours time With a kitchen-boiler to rely on it couldn't be done You couldn t beat the water quick enough in the first place But with this 'Humphrey Instantaneous' bather No 1 goes to the bath room, strikes a match, lights the gas under the heater, turns on the water Quicker than it takes to walk five steps the hot water pours out full force, steaming hot, as long as the faucet is turned on By turning off the water you turn off the gas and the water ceases to be heated Your expense stops

When bather No 2 is ready the same simple motions are made and steaming hot water flows from the pipe as though it had been heating for hours

The Humphrey Instantaneous Bath Heater does not store water but heats it

Your kitchen boiler stores water which is its greatest disadvantage Its supply of water is always limited its water is never hot when most needed it requires more gas than ought to be necessary, it never supplies water for more than one bath, and it takes an age to heat more water for another bath for another bather Besides, in the kitchen boiler you always have to heat more water than you use and have to wait a long while before it gets sufficiently hot This is an expensive waste of gas, loss of time and an inconvenience and the water you get is usually luke warm after all

The "Humphrey Instantaneous" is one of the most remarkable household conveniences of our age It is a necessity It never gets out of order you never have plumbing bills to pay, and anyone can install one In rented apartments, dentists offices, barber shops, and where an unlimited supply of hot water must be ready constantly, it solves the quick cheap, hot water problem as nothing in the world has ever done before It is a wonder as a time saver gas saver and a money saver and a gem for the home.

These heaters are most beautifully and most accurately made of steel, cast iron and copper, nickle plated and indestructible. Each is fitted with a safety locked pilot which prevents the gas from being turned on to the burners without first opening the pilot

The safety locked gas and water valves make it impossible to open the gas to the main burners until the water is turned on It is safe, even with children around Its cost is inconsiderable and it quickly pays for itself even in the saving of gas alone, and all it heats is the water Perfect for the hottest summer day as well as in winter

Get our free beautiful book of illustrations and full explanation of the Humphrey Instantaneous Bath Heaters, by sending your name and address today to The Humphrey Co., Dept. Kalamazoo, Mich.

With the "Humphrey Instantaneous" you have hot water instantly for any purpose, even in the middle of the night, when every fire in the house is out, just as quick as it takes you to strike a match The supply of hot water never ends, unless you shut it off yourself

With the "Humphrey Instantaneous" you get the cheapest hot-water in the world A family of five uses on an average of 60 gallons of hot water a day With gas costing $1 00 for 1 000 cubic feet, it costs 20c a day to heat these 60 gallons with your kitchen boiler.

If you prefer a larger heater, for supplying a whole house with hot water instantaneously any minute of the day or night for kitchen, laundry, rooms, and bath-rooms we manufacture the Automatic Thermal Water Heater We have a separate booklet on these wonderful Automatic Heaters which we will also send you free if you are interested. Send for it.

COUNTY ASSESSORS GATHER AT CHICO

Representatives From Every County in State to Be at Convention

CHICO, Oct 26 — County Assessors from all parts of California are arriving in Chico today to attend the eighth annual session of their association, which meets in the City Hall Owing to recent actions by the State Board of Equalization and recent legislation, this session is expected to be the most important yet held All but three of the fifty-seven assessors in the State are expected to be present, and there will also be in attendance members of the State Board of Equalization and others prominent throughout the State

The State Board will discuss assessment matters and try to impress upon assessors the importance of following its plan of increasing assesments and lowering tax rates

One of the most important features of the convention will be a debate between Theodore A Bell of Napa and John Gentry of the French-American Bank of San Francisco on bank assements Bell has been waging an important crusade for the Napa Board of Equalization to tax bank deposits A big legal fight has resulted there and is still on

The visiting Assessors will be treated to an excursion to the Hamilton City sugar factory, gold dredgers at Oroville and the big manufacturing district in Barber

ONE MILLION INSURANCE ON A WOMAN'S LIFE

CHICAGO Ill Oct 26—By taking out $200 000 of life insurance today Mrs Charles Netcher owner of the Boston store increased the amount of her policies to $1 000 000, hereby becoming it is believed the most heavily insured woman in America

The new policy is doubly interesting because of the fact that until recently most companies would not accept women at all and even now the limit on women is smaller than on men

There are not many men in the million-dollar class in life insurance to which this woman has now attained John Wanamaker of Philadelphia was for many years the most heavily insured man in the United States, but much of his line of $1 500 000 was on the endowment plan and has matured His son, Rodman Wanamaker proprietor of the Philadelphia Telegraph has succeeded his father as the most heavily insured American carrying more than $2 000 000

Other Easterners who exceed the million dollar mark are George W Vanderbilt of New York and John M Mack of Philadelphia Among the Chicagoans who are reputed to carry $1 000 000 or more of life insurance protection are H C Latton H H Kohlsaat and H M Byllesby engineer W K Bixby of St Louis president of the American Car & Foundry Company, is also in the million dollar class

Halley's Comet Fracturing All Speed Ordinances in Trip Toward Mother Earth

NEW YORK, Oct 26—Halley's comet is now so near the earth that it may be observed in a short time through an ordinary telescope, according to reports received from astronomical observatories

Although it has been speeding toward the earth with a tremendous velocity ever since it was rediscovered on the night of September 11 it is still far too remote to be seen with the naked eye. But Harvard College observatory issued a bulletin stating that Professor E F Barnard of the Yerkes Observatory obtained visual observations of it on the 17th and 19th of this month On these two dates Professor Barnard found that the comet was not fainter than the 13½ magnitude having a diameter of 15 seconds, and while it exhibited no elongation, it was "less definite and brightening in the middle"

SET FIRES WITH MAGNIFYING GLASS

Forest Wardens Accuse San Diego Man With Incendiarism

SACRAMENTO Oct 26—State Forester Hall yesterday received word from Los Angeles of an ingenious scheme by which Henry Clay of Jamul San Diego County managed to set forest fires despite the vigilance of Forest Supervisor Marshall Clay would set a bunch of matches in a clump of brush and rig up a frame to support a magnifying glass At noon the sun's rays through the glass would ignite the matches and in that way start a mysterious fire which the officers could not trace A dozen fires had been started in the vicinity of the Clay place and while they appeared to be of incendiary origin the authorities could not safely arrest the alleged firebug until they found the remains of one of the contrivances which was not completely destroyed

CAR HITS WAGON; FRACAS IS RESULT

Car Man Draws Knife on Belligerent Teamster--Both Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 26 — A collision between a car and a wagon, a dispute over the responsibility for the accident, the drawing of a knife, and a sudden blow resulted in the arrest of two persons at a late hour last night

Car 21 westbound of the Sacramento street line crashed into a dirt wagon, driven by Emil Pliva, near the corner of Drumm street and a wreck followed.

Conductor James W White interviewed Pliva as to the extent of the damage and a quarrel ensued The teamster claims that the car man pulled a knife and he thereupon struck him and knocked him to the pavement with his fist.

Officer J D Hayden arrived at this point and both were taken to the city prison White was booked for assault with a deadly weapon and Pliva for battery.

ASYLUM INMATE MAKES FIGHT THROUGH COURTS

NAPA, Oct 26—J R Robinson, a well-to-do Elmira barber, who was committed to the Napa State Hospital last February is making a determined fight for liberty First he instituted habeas corpus proceedings in the Superior Court, which, after prolonged hearing were decided against him by Judge H C Gesford Next he secured a similar writ from the Appellate Court of the Third District, which last week remanded the petitioner

Robinson, through his attorney, Austin Lewis of Oakland, has now taken a novel and unusual step in the direction of securing freedom In the name of the Ninth Circuit District Court of Appeals he served demands upon Medical Superintendent E E Stone and First Assistant Physician S Mc L Doherty for his immediate release He claims that he is not dangerously insane and has never been legally adjudged incompetent He alleges that his retention in the asylum is contrary to the Constitution of the United States and the fourteenth amendment and demands his liberty at once under the act of Congress

END LITIGATION OVER TOWNSITE

Ten Years' Legal Battle Closed When Mining Company Gets Settlements

REDDING, Oct 26—Ten years' litigation over the Harrison Gulch townsite was amicably adjusted yesterday in Red Bluff, when the townsite owners made peace with the Victor Power & Mining Company, owning the Bonanza mining claim The company got a patent to this claim, which included a good part of the town of Harrison Gulch, a prosperous mining town in the southwestern part of Shasta County Suits were then brought to eject the property owners, and only recently the Court of Appeals decided two of these cases in favor of the Victor

The large property owners of Harrison Gulch today paid the Victor Company a substantial money consideration and took a lease for five years at a nominal rental This means the stores, hotels and dwellings need not move

THE Nemo TRIPLE-STRIP SELF-REDUCING IS THE ONLY CORSET THAT EVER HAS OR EVER CAN REDUCE A STOUT FIGURE WITH COMFORT AND SAFETY

TAKE AWAY the patented and exclusive Nemo features from the Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, and you will have left just an ordinary corset—finer in design and much better made than most corsets, but simply a corset.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for other makers to produce Nemo effects without infringing Nemo patents; and, for this reason, all the attempted imitations of the Nemo Self-Reducing Corset are self-evident failures.

THERE'S A SELF-REDUCING NEMO FOR EVERY STOUT FIGURE

$3.50, $4.00, $5.00, $8.00 and $10.00

Nemo No. 403 is a new model for short-waisted stout women—low bust and under arm; with the new Nemo Relief Bands, which firmly support the abdomen from underneath—$4.00.

Nemo No. 801 is a model similar to No. 403, but made of fine white mercerized brocade; a luxurious corset—$8.00.

All Nemo Corsets at $3.50 or more are finished with the new Lastikops Hose Supporters, which are guaranteed to outwear any corset.

URGES FULL PAID FIRE DEPARTMENT

Fire Warden Back From Tour of Eastern Cities Shows Needs of Oakland

Fire Warden George McDonald and J. K. Foster, a local merchant, have returned from a six weeks' tour of the east during which time they took in the Hudson-Fulton celebration and visited the principal cities where they made a study of the up-to-date fire apparatus.

In speaking of the trip the fire warden says:

"From the study I made in the east of the fire fighting apparatus, I would state that the salt water high pressure system that we are now installing in Oakland is superior in many respects to that of other cities and that it is the equal of any in cities that have twice the population that this city has.

HAVE BETTER PRESSURE.

"In Oakland the salt water high pressure covers twice the area that is covered as a rule in eastern cities and when in full operation cannot fail but to materially reduce the fire insurance rates.

"One thing that is needed by this city to make it rank among other cities of its size is a fully paid fire department in the central part of the city, as recommended by Fire Chief Ball. There is no question but that a trained fighting force is fifty per cent more efficient than a voluntary department. It would be real economy on the part of the city government to see that we have fully equipped, fully paid companies in the central portions of the city.

FULL FORCE CHEAPER.

"Inefficiency in one big fire would possibly cost more than the salaries of the men for several years. It would have a tendency to reduce the insurance rates and I believe that our merchants and heavy property owners are heartily in favor of such a move.

"In the east they have automobile apparatus which is far more effective than the horse drawn vehicles. In time, Oakland will have to adopt this innovation which has come to stay in the large eastern cities.

"During our trip we visited Portland, Seattle, Denver, Omaha, St. Paul, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., New Orleans and Los Angeles. We were treated with uniform courtesy by the various members of the fire departments throughout the country."

MOTHERS-IN-LAW WRECK HAPPINESS

One Stayed Around All the Time; Wife Wouldn't Let "His" Invade House

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Mamas-in-law, too much and too little, figured in the divorce proceedings begun by Stephen L. Richard, against Catherine Richards, in the superior court this morning. The husband declared that while he was compelled to support "his" mother-in-law, his wife would not allow "her" mother-in-law in the house, and frequently boasted of how she had succeeded in keeping his family entirely in the background.

He declares that she told his friends that she would not have his mother in the house.

Jealousy is said to be the cause of a suit for divorce filed this morning by Mary J. Howard against Frank Howard, a prominent real estate broker of the Mission district. The couple have been married for thirty-one years, and have always apparently been happy together.

JAPANESE OFFICERS ARE BANQUETED AT MONTEREY

MONTEREY, Oct. 26.—Captain Takeshita and staff from the Japanese cruiser Idzumo were taken in automobiles to the magnificent hacienda of Mayor Jacks yesterday, where members of the Monterey Chamber of Commerce and the Pacific Grove Board of Trade received the distinguished naval officers. From the mayor's residence the Japanese officers, accompanied by officers of the Chamber of Commerce, officers of the United States army and representative citizens, took the seventeen-mile drive, enjoying at Pebble Beach Lodge an elaborate luncheon, at which seventy-six were seated.

FREIGHT CAR LOOTED IN SACRAMENTO YARDS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—Upon opening a freight car at the local Southern Pacific depot today it was found that every piece of freight in it except a crated buggy had been removed by thieves somewhere between Sparks, Nev., and Sacramento. Several hundred dollars' worth of merchandise was taken, including valises, shirts, candy, stockings and a quantity of miscellaneous freight. Most of the stolen property was consigned to dealers in this city.

The railroad police believe that the job was turned by a gang of box-car operators who had been to Sparks to give false testimony in favor of two yeggmen on trial there.

POSSE IN HUNT FOR FOOTPADS

Cannery Girls Attacked for Second Time By Highwayman at San Lorenzo

SAN LORENZO, Oct. 26. — Deputy Sheriff Cordoza and a posse of six men are scouring the country adjacent to this city for the two footpads who attempted to hold up twelve or fifteen girls who were returning home from work at the California Central Canneries about 10 o'clock last Thursday evening. The attempt was made on the Southern Pacific tracks about half a mile south of this community.

The girls, tired out with their long day's work, were walking quietly along the track in the darkness, when suddenly two men sprang out from behind some trees by the side of the road, and, presenting two revolvers at the young women, ordered them to throw up their hands or they would be shot. For a moment the girls hesitated, indecisive, then, with screams of terror, turned and fled back the way they had come.

Running the entire distance of nearly half a mile to the cannery, they breathlessly told Superintendent Campbell, who was still in the office, of the attack made upon them. Campbell quickly notified Deputy Sheriff Cardoza and Night Watchman Ole Johnson, and a posse was hurriedly organized and armed. All night the search for the men was kept up, but no trace of them could be found.

This attempt was the second one made to hold up cannery girls within the past month. Last time six girls were stopped by a single masked and armed man on pay night, but their screams for help brought two men running to the scene and the footpad fled.

ACCUSED OF VIOLATING THE CHILD LABOR LAW

W. J. Culligan, proprietor of the Gaiety Theater at 417 Tenth street, was before Police Judge Mortimer Smith this morning on a charge of employing a female child under the age of twelve years, said offense being a violation of the child labor law.

The child in question is Anita Marshall, a nine year old actress, who is also a singer of illustrated songs. Culligan states that he is employing the child with the full consent of the mother and also the permission of the Mayor, and that in view of these circumstances he is not a violator of the law.

The arrest was brought about by Deputy Labor Commissioner D. J. Riely of San Francisco, who is alleged to have failed to investigate the case thoroughly.

The case was set for trial next week by Judge Smith.

THROWN FROM HORSE; JAW IS FRACTURED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—William Burns, a hostler, of 5 Treat avenue, while riding on horseback at Thirteenth and Harrison streets at 7 o'clock this morning, was thrown from his steed when the animal shied at a passing automobile and stood up on his haunches. Burns was taken in an ambulance to the Harbor Emergency Hospital and treated for a fractured jaw, and contusions and bruises of the face and hands.

C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis Ind., writes "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." Girl's Attempt to End Life and Pathetic Note Bring Offers of Help

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Earl W. Spencer, with an office in the Rookery building, Chicago, has written to Flower Hospital in this city, offering to pay the passage of Miss Edith Thomas to her home in Sherbrooke, Quebec.

Miss Thomas is the young woman who last week attempted to commit suicide after writing a pathetic letter to her mother saying that the fight to exist in New York and be good was too great, and that she preferred death to being bad.

The publication of the letter brought Miss Thomas many new friends who have already provided for her immediate future and as she has left the hospital, Spencer's generosity has been declined.

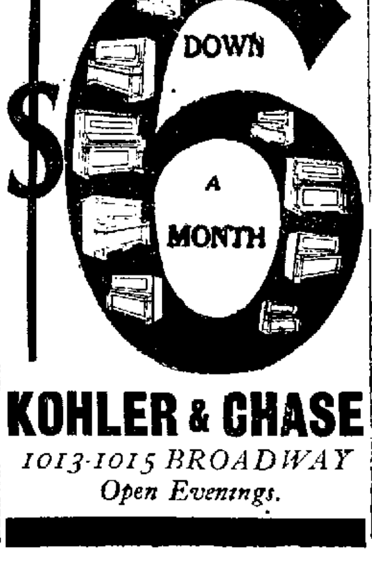

SEEK RIGHT-OF-WAY THROUGH TALCOTT LANDS

A right of way over Bond street, to be extended through the property of former Supervisor J. R. Talcott and his wife, is sought by the Central Pacific Railway, which brought suit today in condemnation. The property is held by the Talcott Land Company, which is made defendant in the action. The right of way, according to the railroad survey, extends through the center of the Talcott property and is an extension of the line from the present terminal at the head of Cleveland avenue on the route to Elmhurst.

JOY RIDES BRING STOFFER DIVORCE

Wife Took Long Trips Into Country and Often Remained Days

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. — Joy rides, long automobile trips to San Jose and the gay parties which took up the greater part of her time, were responsible for a divorce instituted by George W. Stoffer, against Leoina Stoffer, which was granted by Superior Judge Cabaniss this morning.

The husband testified that when he came home at night there was no welcome awaiting him, no supper ready, and frequently no wife to be seen. Sometimes her little excursions into the country occupied two or three days, and on her return she would tell him he would have to stand it.

Finally he determined he had stood it long enough and brought suit for a separation.

Other divorces granted by Judge Cabaniss were Lois Marsh against Homer E. Marsh, desertion; Robert Barker against Catherine Barker, desertion; and Bertha Campbell against C. W. Campbell, desertion.

DECISION NOT TO STOP RACE MEET

President Williams Says Court's Ruling Will Not Alter Plans

CHICAGO, Oct 26.—"The fact that the District Court of Appeals has declared that the Walker-Otis anti-betting bill is constitutional does not affect the plans of Oakland for this year. We will race sixty days regardless of that verdict."

This was the statement made by President Thomas H. Williams of the California Jockey Club last night as he passed through here on his way to the coast. Just before his arrival a news dispatch was received from the coast that the District Court of Appeals had declared the anti-betting bill constitutional.

"It does not worry us any," said Williams. "We will obey the law, but we will carry the matter to the court of last resort. Even if the verdict is against us, we will keep our promise to the horsemen. We have agreed to give sixty days racing, commencing November 20th, and we will kep our word.

"Racing is going ahead on the coast just the same as before. We don't intend to notice any betting angle of the game this year. If any patrons of our course want to make bets they can do so on their own responsibility. I intend to start West Wednesday."

Williams held a conference with John Condon, owner of the Harlem track, before he departed.

The stakes formerly held on the coast will be continued, according to Williams, although the values may be reduced in some instances. The president of the New California Jockey Club said that the big fixtures would be retained.

JUDGE'S DECISION.

In Judge Cooper's decision, handed down yesterday and concurred in by Judge Kerrigan, he said, in part:

"The law will not be held unconstitutional unless it is clearly in violation of the fundamental law. It has long been the practice in this country for the Legislature of the State, or the legislative body of municipal corporations, to pass laws prohibiting and punishing any practice or business the tendency of which, as shown by experience, is to weaken or corrupt the morals of those who follow it, or to encourage idleness instead of habits of industry, and to prohibit and punish gambling in the various forms in which it is practiced. In fact, it has been said that gambling in its many forms may be rightfully supressed and punished and that the question is no longer open for discussion in this country.

DECLARED CONSTITUTIONAL.

"It is contended that the section of the Penal Code is unconstitutional and void. It is claimed in the first place that the act authorizing the trial Judge in effect to make the crime either a felony or a misdemeanor is an attempt to delegate legislative power to the trial Judge, hence violating the Constitution of the State.

"The section does not delegate legislative power. The Legislature has said the punishment shall be imprisonment not less than thirty days in the county jail or state prison and not exceeding one year. The minimum and maximum punishment is stated. The court can not make it less nor can it make it greater than the statute prescribes. The places where the defendant is to be imprisoned are stated and the court cannot send the defendant to any other place than the County Jail or the State Prison.

"It was evidently in the mind of the Legislature that there should be some power whereby mercy could be shown and discretion exercised in the severity of the punishment, depending upon the act done, the circumstances under which it was done, and the character and age of the person who committed the act.

PRISONER IS REMANDED.

"In the case at bar the court will be called upon to declare the law and impose the penalty under the section passed by the Legislature making the act a crime. The Legislature has vested discretion in the court, and has not authorized the court to determine as to whether or not certain acts would constitute a crime.

"It is sufficient to say that the complaint charges the prisoner with doing certain acts which are prohibited by the section, and which, if proven, will subject him to a punishment thereunder. A person of common understanding would by reading the section and reading the complaint know that the defendant was charged with certain acts prohibited by the section.

"We conclude that the section of the Penal Code is constitutional, and that the complaint states an offense thereunder. Let the prisoner be remanded."

Mr Williams has been in the East for several weeks studying the conditions under which the eastern tracks are operated since "oral betting" supplanted the old slates and stools.

HORSEMEN DISAPPOINTED.

There is no gainsaying that the ruling of the Court of Appeals is a big disappointment to horsemen, and while the greater majority of the better class of turf followers had long ago given by the hope of the Walker-Otis bill being beaten, they had hoped that the sport of Kings would not be prevented by any too stringent verdict. That there will be no open betting goes without saying. The same system of pari betting such as is in vogue in the East will be adopted.

The sixty day racing meet will be held and purses will be awarded, but to speak plainly the meet will be more of an experiment than anything else. The same high standard of races will be had as heretofore. Several of the best horses in the country are already at Emeryville and class horses are being shipped in every day.

Interesting Race in Tribune Boys' League

"Too much Portola" is the way several of the fans sized up the situation Sunday after watching the boys in the Tribune league in their games. Errors were uncommonly usual and the lads did not play the exhibitions with the same vim and snap as has characterized their work in the past. The lads intend, however, to play snappy ball next Sunday and no doubt the results will go far in determining who will cop the highest honors. Lehnhardts at present are leading but the Rutleys and Heesemans are holding onto second place with grim determination and are just waiting for a chance to catch the candy kids napping.

Through an oversight in computing the averages of the various clubs the Lehnhardt-Zingg game was counted when it shouldn't have been. With the correction the Zinggs stand .444, four wins and five defeats, the same standing as the Tribunes and Bieuners have. The Lehnhardts are credited with seven victories and one defeat, giving them a percentage of 875.

McGreevy Wrong, Says Reidy and His Players

According to Manager Bill Reidy and the players of the Oakland Coast League club, Umpire McGreevy was "dead in the wrong" when he called the game forfeited in Los Angeles, last Wednesday. When seen last night Reidy said:

"All the players both on my team and on the Los Angeles club are unanimous in the opinion that McGreevy was dead wrong when he declared that game forfeited last Wednesday. Much as Dillon dislikes the Oakland club in a baseball sense he and George Wheeler and other members of the Angel team put their names to an affidavit and declared that I was not given more than half a minute to get out of the grounds.

"The sporting writers who witnessed the game share the same views and evidently did likewise for they hooted McGreevy and yelled for a new umpire that day and every day the rest of the series. They stayed at the exhibition game up to the fifth inning when I told them that they could have rain checks. Then a good number of them left.

SPITE WORK IS CHARGE.

"There is only one way to look at this thing. McGreevy is sore at me and spite work was at the bottom of the unjustifiable ruling. He afterwards apologized to me, twice, mind you, last Saturday and last Sunday, but I do not want to have anything more to do with him.

"It is not true that I tried to show him up at Recreation Park in San Francisco. When he fined Nelson once for taking exception to what he considered a ball when it was called a strike, I said to McGreevy that it was pretty raw but I said it to him not in Cal Ewing's presence as has been alleged but off to one side. McGreevy is a good umpire,' all right, but for some reason he has gotten it into his head that I am the McGraw of this league.

"Some time ago he met President Brooks of the Vernon club and made a remark just to this effect that I am the Muggy McGraw and he will have to be Tim Hurst, but in a subsequent talk with Brooks the latter stated to me that he would stand by me and as far as I can see I am only fighting for my rights and have not done anything which any other baseball manager would not have done under similar circumstances. I have always cautioned my players not to talk back to the umpires and I have ordered them even to stay clear of them as much as possible.

RAW DECISIONS.

"What I said in Los Angeles just before being ordered to the club house is no more than anyone else would have said. McGreevy gave a couple of raw decisions, very raw and while passing him on the way to the coaching line, I told him that the decisions were raw and that I had brought the team south to win and would like to, if possible. Immediately he ordered me from the coaching line, and when I refused to go he ordered me from the grounds. Hardly had I turned around when he awarded the game to Los Angeles.

"Talking to the reporters, McGreevy stated that he wanted to show me up but when one of the writers stated that that was a poor way and occasion to show a man up he said nothing in reply. I have nothing more to say. The affidavit signed by Dillon, the scribes and others will reach Cal Ewing today and speaks for itself."

Pitcher Dank left for his home at Catasauqua in Pennsylvania, Monday morning and Tonnesen will spend the winter in Los Angeles, where he is at present. Dank has already been signed up for the next season. Carroll did not go to Sacramento on account of sickness.

Culligans Make Winning Run in the Eleventh

The fastest game seen at Adams Point this year was played Sunday between the Ferdons and the Culligans, neither side scoring till the eighth inning. White of the Culligans made the first run on an error by Truck then in the ninth Mike of the Ferdons knocked a home run, tieing the score. A double play by Henderson to Nattinger to Sheldon took the crowd by storm.

In the eleventh inning the Culligans scored the winning run. It was a pitcher's battle from beginning to end. Kay striking out sixteen and Henderson fourteen. The Hubs beat the Columbias 9 to 4 in the afternoon game. Johnny Hayes pitched for the Hubs.

Vancouver Players Meet California Tomorrow

Considerable interest has been aroused in the Vancouver-California and Vancouver-Stanford game, the first of which will be played tomorrow afternoon at the California field, with the Blue and Gold varsity squad.

The second game between these two fifteens will be Saturday and next week the Canadians go to Stanford for the final two games. The reason for the interest in the coming contests is that they will be last played by the two local Universities before the big game only two weeks off and that the four exhibitions ought to give an idea of the relative strength of the California and Stanford line-ups and their chances of victory.

In the past Vancouver has brought down a strong Rugby aggregation and judging from the way they worked yesterday in practise this year's representation will be equally as strong.

Morgan Best in Tennis: Stanford University, Oct. 26. — By defeating E Jordan, '10, in the final match of the tennis tournament which has been in progress for the last two weeks, H. S Morgan, '12, retained his right to the championship title of Stanford. The score was 5-7, 6-1, 6-4, 6-1.

A number of Stanford tennis players, including E. Jordan '10, H. Mann '10, H S. Morgan '12, and C. S Grace '12, are to take part in the Bay Counties tennis doubles championship tournament which is to be played off on November 6.

'Bill' Squires Loses in Fight for Championship

MELBOURNE, Oct 26.—Bill Lang, the Australian pugilist, yesterday knocked out "Bill" Squires of Australia in the twentieth round. They fought for the heavyweight championship of Australia.

Macintosh Defeats O'Brien.—Clyde Macintosh won the decision after four rounds of boxing over North Side Jack O'Brien in the main event of the bouts held by the Portola Club last night. The other matches resulted as follows: Jack Goldberg won from Willie Riley, three rounds; John Fox won from Willie Meehan, three rounds, Billy Ryan won from Ray Campbell, three rounds; Charlie Rogers knocked out Tommy Moran in third round; Johnny Ryan knocked out Willie Carter in third round, George Andrews knocked out Maurice Goldberg, second round; Joe Craig won from Al Schiler, three rounds.

Jeffries to Study the Ketchel-Johnson Films

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—James J Jeffries and his manager, Sam Berger, have engaged the same two seats for every afternoon in the week in the theater where the moving pictures of the Jack Johnson-Stanley Ketchel prizefight as being exhibited. Jeffries did not attend the first showing of the fight pictures in this city yesterday because of the crowds which besieged the place, but Berger stated that the "undefeated champion of the world" will study the pictures minutely for the purpose of learning as much as possible about the ring tactics of the negro champion, whom he has promised to fight for the title.

Jeffries has been informed that Johnson, although he has not heard from him direct, will arrive here from Chicago on Thursday, and Berger has made arrangements to bring about a quick conference between the contenders for the purpose of arranging and signing articles of agreement to fight.

Lauder and Standen Fight 15-Round Draw

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct 26.—Billy Lauder, of Calgary, and Rod Standen, of Nanaimo fought fifteen rounds to a draw at North Vancouver last night. The fight was one of the best ever seen in British Columbia. Standen scored at least six knockdowns during the fight. Lauder saved himself from defeat by his clever boxing.

WAGOR DEFEATS PEKIN.

In the class C tournament at balk line now being played at the Oakland Billiard Parlors, Wagor had little difficulty in defeating Pepin by a score of 120 to 101. Safety predominated to such an extent that the average was low. General execution was good and the play was of an interesting character throughout.

Tonight Peget and Barnett will meet. Peget is the one most feared, not for his ability alone, but from his general style of game.

'DOC' MILLER IS HITTING BEST

Keen Race On for Second Honors in the Coast League Batting

It look as if Miller, the centerfielder for San Francisco, will remain in the lead in the Coast League in batting. His average at the present is .362 and as this is the last week of the season there is no chance of any other player taking the highest honors from him. His record is a phenomenal one. Though he came in the coast fold rather late, indeed, after the season was two-thirds over, he has shown since his coming that he is a sweet sticker and a dangerous man to the opposing twirler. More than one game he broke up by his timely hitting. He participated in fifty-three games, has been at bat 196 times, has landed on the ball safely seventy-one times, netting him the .362 percentage.

It will be a race for second honors. Myers at present is at .295, just two points ahead of Johnson and Melchoir. Duffey Lewis is at the .289 figure and Zeider .287. There is no telling how the numbers will switch this week and without doubt all of the above players will try their best to win from the others the second place.

Willie Hogan picked up four points on his southern trip and is now batting .205. Cameron's and Mogart's averages have not changed. Thomas, however, jumped from .218 to .240. Cutshaw, Carroll, Christian and Kelly were unable to swat out the ball over their usual gait.

Invaders and Athenians Make Final Arrangements

Final arrangements have been made for the series of games between the Oakland Coasters and Staters. Cy Moseing and Tyler Christian met last night at the Adams and decided to play the first game next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Freeman's Park, and the balance of the contests at the Grove street diamond. Christian intends to use Jimmy Wiggs in as many exhibitions as possible, and very likely he will be pitted against Benny Henderson in the opening game. Tonnesen will not be in the line-up of the Athenians, as he intends to leave for home immediately upon the close of the coast season.

The officials of the California State League will meet next Saturday evening in one of the local hotels, and will wind up the business for the season just past.

Anderson Wins Golf Match at Burlingame

After his poor showing Sunday at the Presidio, Willie Anderson, winner of the Portola golf tourney, came back yesterday and put up a rattling good game in the open thirty-six-hole medal play on the links of the Burlingame Country Club. He made the round in 98 and the last nine holes in 32. Second money went to Alex Smith, who, like Anderson, formerly held the open championship of the United States. The Smith brothers—George and MacDonald—both of the Claremont Country Club, divided third money.

Of the four amateurs who participated in yesterday's event Jack Neville of the Claremont Country Club made by far the best score. In fact, Neville had the distinction of finishing ahead of national champion, George Sargent. The latter played wretchedly in the forenoon, but showed great improvement in the afternoon, when he made the round in 70. The scores follow:

Willie Anderson	40 36	37-32	145
Alex Smith	35 41	37-34	147
George Smith	35 38	38-38	149

WHEELMEN HAVE PREPARED FOR THE HANDLING OF BIG CROWD

Attell and Carroll Meet in Main Event---Thirty-Four Rounds of Boxing to Be Offered; Gleason Goes East to Bid for Fight

By EDDIE SMITH.

TONIGHT the short distance scrappers will hold forth at the Piedmont Pavilion. Five contests, one of ten rounds and four at six rounds, will be offered and in each one of the contests the fans are almost sure to see plenty of action. The management of the Oakland Wheelmen Club has made arrangements to hold a large crowd and have built 400 extra bleacher seats on the main floor. The fact that the Oakland Wheelmen must follow back with another boxing show on the 11th of next month in order that they can get into their regular position of dates has also had its effect on the management, for a poor show at this time would effect the attendance at the one on the 11th.

In the main event of tonight Jimmy Carroll and Monte Attell will meet in a ten-round contest. Carroll informed the writer over the phone last evening that he was better fitted for the contest with Attell than he has been for any of the battles that he has had for some time.

When training for the other contests he has had, the little fellow follows his trade as electrician at the Princess Theater, and the training he does is mostly in his imagination. For Attell he realizes that he must train and do it well, for the least slip and the clever Hebrew champion will parade his scalp to the belt from which so many of the little men's scalps dangle.

The special event is also attracting considerable attention, mostly because Percy Cove is making his first start here. It is the opinion of the fans that Percy will have to be right to beat Al Emmick, his opponent, and for that reason the wise ones who have seen both men in action expect to see plenty of rapid fire work when the men get together. The remainder of the card consists of scraps between Tom Gary vs. Jimmy Foley, W. Hagin vs. Jimmy Fitton and Tony Earl vs. Alex McDonald.

LEW POWELL MADE FAVORITE.

Lew Powell has been made a 10 to 8 favorite in the betting over Johnnie Frayne. This was expected by the knowing ones, for it is always a sure shot that when the least suspicion exists regarding a man's physical fitness the fans who bet their money flock to the other fellow.

When it was announced early in the month that Johnnie Frayne would ask for a postponement of the contest because he was suffering from a slight attack of rheumatism the fans immediately suggested that he would not be in condition for the fight. This is one reason why Powell will be a strong favorite in the betting, for the fans will not take the word of anyone regarding the condition of Frayne, and even their own vision of the little fellow working like a trogan at his training camp would fail to convince the skeptics that Frayne was right.

Sunday afternoon when the writer visited Frayne the little fellow worked as well in his camp as any fighter that ever trained at Shannon's place. He covered six miles on the road in the morning and in the afternoon worked one hour in the gymnasium, during all of which he never stopped for one moment. If Powell beats Frayne next Friday night it will be because he is the best man and not because Frayne is in poor condition, and the people who bet on the outcome of the scrap should do so with the abilities of the men as the things to figure on and not the condition.

Powell is in great shape. He always is in good shape, for that matter, and when he steps into the ring with Frayne he will be as determined to win the contest as any man that ever pulled a foot into a local ring. Powell and Frayne are the closest rivals, with Ad Wolgast for the chance at the scalp of Battling Nelson, and as both of the youngsters are of the opinion that the Battler is not to last much longer their desire to be the first one to get a crack at him is increased many times.

GLEASON TO MAKE BID.

Jack Gleason, Al White and J. J. Landregan have entered into a combination and will make a bid for the big Jeffries-Johnson fight. Landregan and White have the place and the money, and Gleason, through his friendliness to Sam Berger and Jim Jeffries, is supposed to have the inside track to the bidding. It is the intention of the men to stage the big affair at Ocean View and the plans of the arena have already been drawn and the site secured. Gleason will leave for New York some time this week, probably Thursday, in order to be on hand for the opening of the bids. The fact that Gleason will go to New York means that Jimmy Coffroth and the baseball magnet will both be on the ground and the battle between them may be lively. From information gathered from many different sources the writer has every reason to believe that Gleason tried to pool his interests with the Colma promoter. Coffroth declined to pool his interests in the contest, and in his reason for so doing is said to have told the baseball man that he could not see where he would be benefited by the combination.

The Mission Club bidding $75,000, Coffroth on the job and Gleason going to New York with authority to go as high as any other bidder makes it appear as if the chances for California getting the fight are exceptionally good. The match has not been made as yet, and the bidding at this time seems foolish. Sam Berger is quoted as saying in New York the other day, "Offers of purses for the fight are too premature at this time to be considered seriously," and Sam is right. It seems a joke to be buying a cat in the bag the way some of the bidders are.

PICTURES OF LATE FIGHT.

The pictures of the Ketchel-Johnson fight will be shown at New York next Thursday, and interest will be taken here in the manner in which the Eastern press handle the alleged knockdown of the black man. Many of the Easterners are of the opinion that Ketchel did put Johnson down with a punch to the head and that we are not giving him credit for the big wallop he possesses. The pictures will be shown in San Francisco and Oakland a week later.

A petition is being circulated at large throughout San Mateo county in an effort to have the permit given to Jimmy Coffroth for the handling of boxing contests revoked on the ground that he is not located near enough to the town of Colma for the merchants to get any benefits from the shows held there and also because he hires San Francisco police to help protect the crowd. Funny thing for people to kick because they are being protected, and the fact that some of Coffroth's enemies are doing this to make him trouble is too apparent for any intelligent man to pay much attention to it.

Lehner Defeats Davis In Billiard Tourney

E. Lehner of Oakland tied for first place with Frank Coffin and Frank DuBois in the class B billiard tournament by defeating Dr. W. E. Davis last night at the Graney, 200 to 177. Lehner proved the stronger finisher and had all the best of the going. Lehner meets Du Bois tonight. The score:

Lehner—1, 5, 0, 4, 0, 7, 18, 3, 4, 6, 0, 1, 1, 5, 5, 0, 0, 2, 3, 7, 11, 0, 1, 0, 1, 4, 2, 0, 0, 3, 5, 0, 3, 0, 7, 0, 8, 2, 1, 2, 1, 1, 4, 5, 8, 0, 2, 0, 1, 0, 5, 12, 8, 1, 0, 2, 3, 0, 1, 1, 6, 15, 11—200; average, 3 14-62; high run, 18.

Davis—7, 7, 0, 8, 0, 1, 2, 0, 4, 7, 0, 5, 18, 0, 1, 1, 0, 1, 0, 1, 0, 3, 7, 5, 1, 25, 1, 1, 2, 0, 4, 0, 0, 0, 1, 1, 0, 2, 4, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0, 7, 10, 0, 0, 6, 3, 9, 2, 0, 0, 5, 0, 0, 3, 1, 0, 15, 4—177; average, 2 53-62; high run, 25.

Du Bois, Coffin and Lehner finished the scheduled games with four wins and two defeats apiece.

Canadian Boxer Loses: Glen Falls, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Andy Parker of New York got the better of Bobby Wilson, champion lightweight of Canada, in a ten-round bout last night. Parker forced the fighting throughout.

SANTA CLARA AND ST. MARY'S AGREE

Will Play Big Rugby Game in San Francisco on Thanksgiving

The annual Santa Clara-St. Mary's game will be played Thanksgiving afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Ocean Shore Park grounds, Twelfth and Minna streets, in San Francisco.

That decision was arrived at yesterday in a meeting in Santa Clara between representatives of the two institutions, John P. Doran being chairman of the Oakland college committee and George Boles, leader of that of the Jesuit school.

In order to accommodate the large crowd that is expected to be on hand to witness the great gridiron struggle, orders have been made for the erection of bleachers sufficient to hold 7000. Carpenters will be put to work immediately and the field gotten in readiness at the earliest possible date.

For some little time an effort has been made to secure suitable quarters for the playing of the game. At first it was thought that Recreation Park in San Francisco would be all right but the post series baseball schedule between the Seals and Athletics and All Nationals and the cost of turfing the diamond made this scheme impossible. The Presidio and the California fields were also objected to.

TEAM IN GREAT CONDITION.

The footballers of St. Mary's have been practising faithfully for the past two months in preparation for the big game and are now in great condition. They are not giving out just what plans of defense and offense they will put into execution throughout the exhibition, but the secret practicing that has been done of late hints at just enough to suggest that the Phoenix lads will have a few cards up their sleeves that will be sprung on Thanksgiving day.

At Santa Clara there is the same air of activity. The football squad has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Manresa, where the time was spent in vigorous training and Coach McKenzie feels confident that his boys will be in excellent shape for the fray.

The next Santa Clara game scheduled will be against the San Francisco Barbarians, Saturday, October 30.

Saturday, November 6, is the date set for the game between Santa Clara college and the University of the Pacific Rugbyites. The contest will be held on the Pacific field at San Jose.

In Santa Clara's remaining Rugby games some excellent work may be looked for, as the team is trained well; but the youngsters who bid fair to pull down the season's honors on the gridiron is "Babe" Reams. His work has been consistent. He is a fast man over the high hurdles, holds the college record in the broad jump, and Rugby experts speak of him as the best place kicker on the Pacific coast.

Harriman's Son Member Of Yale Regatta Crew

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 26.—The annual fall regatta of Yale University will be held Saturday, and among those who will be in the first freshman boat is William Averill Harriman, son of the late E. H Harriman.

Young Harriman went out for the crew along with other freshmen when college opened. The keen eye of Coach Kennedy fixed upon him as being one of the best oarsmen in the new class. Harriman is a stocky lad, five feet ten inches tall, weighing 165 pounds.

BOYS ACCUSED OF DYNAMITING SAFE

Charged With Crime of Robbing Trinity County Store, One Confesses

WEAVERVILLE, Oct. 26.—Sheriff Boyce of Trinity county yesterday arrested Bert Henderson and William Henderson on the charge of dynamiting Mason & Thayer's safe, in Douglas City, on Saturday night. They are young sons of Henry Henderson of Hay Fork and are aged 18 and 16 years respectively. None of the booty was recovered. The boys are in jail here. When they were taken into custody Bert protested his innocence, but William, the younger, said, "We did it."

The safecrackers stopped to eat a lunch on the store counter, and while doing so probably accidentally dropped a letter that led to their arrest and causes the sheriff now to be on the hunt for a man named Summers. The letter from Summers to the boys gave directions as to how the plunder should be hidden, the dividing up to come a few days after the robbery, when the excitement would be over. The boys were directed to go home and lie low and then in a week or so more all hands would join in cracking the safe in the Junction City store. After that they would go to Eureka.

No one in Douglas City or Hay Fork knows such a man as Summers, which may be an assumed name. It is expected, however, that one or both of the boys will soon make a full confession. The previous record of the Henderson boys is good. They have been doing men's work to support their helpless father and aged mother. The officers are inclined to believe that they were used merely as the tools of the mysterious and unknown Summers.

Fitzherbert and Maskette To Race at Aqueduct

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The leadership of the American turf for the season 1909 will be definitely settled, it is believed, when Fitzherbert, the champion colt, and Maskette, the champion filly, meet in the Aqueduct handicap, which opens the fall meeting at the Aqueduct track.

Racetrack men have been hoping that these two great animals would race in the same event to settle the matter of leadership and an effort was made to enter them in a match race at Belmont Park, but at that time Keene was unwilling to let his animal try conclusions.

Fitzherbert is scheduled to carry 129 pounds and Maskette 126, top weights, in a handicap which will bring together all of the best class of horses in training in the country.

Willing to Accept Lipton's Challenge

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Every member of the New York Yacht Club was eager to get a line on Sir Thomas Lipton's plan, and when it was learned that he was willing to build a 90-foot yacht and would ask only that the club's regular rules apply to the races the opinion of many was that a challenge under these conditions would be accepted.

"When Sir Thomas challenged two years ago," one of them said, "there was a prevalent feeling that the cup stood for speed alone. Since then yachts built under the regular rules have defeated the strictly racing craft and there has been a growing sentiment favoring the application of the general rules to the America's cup contest as well as to all other events.

"Sir Thomas also specified smaller boats the last time, and they were objected to. But now that he is willing to go back to the large craft, I feel certain a majority of the members of the club will be bound to vote for an acceptance of his challenge. There seems to me to be no reason left for turning it down."

Against Lengthening Of Baseball Season

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 26.—President August Hermann, of the Cincinnati National baseball club, is against the lengthening of the National baseball season.

"There are several reasons why the scheme won't work," he said. "This change in the arrangement of dates—that is, to the 15th of October, instead of to the end of the first week—would mean either the elimination of the world's series or the lengthening of the year would be too bad for those events."

COLD WEATHER ADVICE

to all is to beware coughs and colds on the chest, as neglected they readily lead to pneumonia, consumption or other pulmonary trouble. Just as soon as the cough appears treat it with Ballard's Horehound Syrup, the standard cure of America. Used as directed—perfectly harmless. A cure and preventive for all diseases of the limbs; price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold at Wishart's drug store, Tenth and Washington streets.

The Essence of Purity and Strength

The canny Scotch are the latest to recognize the merits of Alameda county wines. Several months ago a traveler took his samples to Glasgow and the product of our soil, sunshine and vine tasted so good that French wines have been largely discarded and this week an immense shipment of Alameda county wines was started on its way to Scotland. Of all the Alameda county wines the Giersberger is recognized the leader.

SUMMONS ON DIVORCE.

Frederica Salmon, Plaintiff, vs. Henry Louis Salmon, Defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, and the complaint filed in said County of Alameda in the office of said Clerk of said Superior Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to Henry Louis Salmon, defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after service on you of this summons, if served within this County, otherwise within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant, and for such other relief as the Court may seem proper, special references being made to the complaint on file herein for further particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California, this 19th day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seven.

SANTA CRUZ REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE.
Beautiful mansion, together with stables and outhouses, belonging to the estate of Margaret McLaughlin, deceased, who was the wife of the late Major Frank McLaughlin, the show place of Santa Cruz, situated on the embankment overlooking the Pacific ocean, as well as the valley and mountains. This beautiful property is surrounded by beautiful grass plots, studded with flowers, rare shrubbery and shade trees and must be seen in order to appreciate its grandeur and loveliness. This property cost McLaughlin $83,000 and is modern in every appointment, spacious and elegant. It is most luxuriously furnished, containing many objects of art and rare treasures.

This property was sold under execution issued on a judgment of foreclosure brought by the Santa Cruz Bank of Savings and Loan. By reason of indifference and meager advertisement of the sale of this very valuable property the bank was able to buy the same at their own price and without opposition, paying therefor $17,800, which is not even one-quarter the value of the property, irrespective of its furnishings.

Any person desiring this property for a home or club will do well to investigate the same and as it is subject to redemption by those interested in the estate and being a creditor to the extent of about $2000, I hereby notify any bona fide purchaser, who will pay a reasonable advance over the sum above mentioned, to make an offer of not less than 10 per cent over and above the amount hereinabove specified and direct all communications regarding the purchase of the place to my attorney, A. A. Sanderson, Russ building, San Francisco, who will give the parties inquiring fullest information regarding said property.

The personal property and furnishings contained in this dwelling, together with carriages, harness, furs, etc., will also be offered for sale.

An order of court will obtain for any person desiring to visit and inspect the premises.

This offer is a bargain of a lifetime as property in Santa Cruz is enhancing in value daily. Respectfully,
HENRY L. KOWALSKY, Creditor.

INVESTORS IN EUCALYPTUS LANDS
An unsurpassed opportunity to secure from twenty-five acres up of eucalyptus in the famous Santa Maria Valley, where the fertile soil and its proximity to the coast make ideal conditions for the growth of these trees.
The first year you plant the trees, the second and third years you care for them, the fourth year you pay one-fourth of the purchase price of the land and one-fourth each succeeding year for three years. The land is limited to a few hundred acres in quantity and first come first served. A snap like this has never before been offered in California.

SALES OF STOCK IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—United States Steel earnings for the quarter ended September 30, 1909, $38,246,907, an increase of $8,906,416 from quarter ended June 30, 1909, and an increase of $11,140,683 from the quarter ended September 30, 1908. Unfilled orders on hand September 30, 1909, were 4,796,833 tons, an increase of 738,894 tons from June 30, 1909, and an increase of 1,844,855 tons from September 30, 1908. The directors declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on the common, placing that issue on a 4 per cent basis.—Dow, Jones & Co.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—There has been considerable evidence of support and a moderate amount of manipulation. The money situation was not given so much attention, being submerged by a more immediate and infinitely less important factor—the meeting of the Steel corporation. I have no information which I consider worthy of the name as to this Steel dividend, but my opinion is that 4 per cent may be expected. Also the showing, both as to the quarter's earnings and unfilled orders, will be very favorable. This is a foregone conclusion and has been fully discounted. It would not be surprising if another rally occurred in the general market, particularly in the stocks which are most freely sold short. A good many bears will not want to take chances on that wonderful fetish of the Steel report and the more timid may cover freely. This, however, will simply weaken a technical situation which is now none too strong, and stocks will be found for sale on every bulge. Consider stocks a sale on all rallies.—Gibson.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Gold was again taken in moderate amounts for Canada and Brazil but it was stated that money conditions abroad showed some improvement and no attention was paid to the additional shipments. Yesterday after improvement in prices had been started the market was left to the traders, who turned their attention to Steel. The showing and things to be done at today's meeting of Steel directors were the principal subjects of conversation. Rumors were to the effect that 4 per cent would be declared on the common stock, also that 5 per cent will be the rate, and another that no change would be made but that the regular rate with 1 per cent extra at the end of the quarter will be paid. Estimates of earnings run from thirty-eight to forty millions of dollars. The general belief seems to be that 4 per cent will be the dividend rate. The closing of the market was strong and sentiment showed some further improvement today, buit is not aggressively bullish for the present.—H. W. & Co.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Stocks started at higher prices than yesterday's closing on an active and varied demand. The gains extended to 1⅜ in American Woolen, 1 in Northern Pacific, and large fractions in Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Rock Island preferred, Kansas & Texas, the Interborough-Metropolitan stocks and Pressed Steel Car.
When prices had made a little further advance selling orders for both accounts made their appearance and there was a reaction. United States Steel was the main point of attack and it reacted a point.
Trading then became very dull and the tone continued heavy.
Prices receded slowly under moderate selling orders. The Hill stocks showed especial weakness. Great Northern preferred lost 2½, Northern Pacific and St. Paul 1⅝, and Southern Pacific, Wabash preferred, Amalgamated Copper, Consolidated Gas, American Beet Sugar and Pacific Telephone 1.
There was a gradual restoration of the morning's loss, U. S. Steel rallying to a fraction over last night and Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, Reading and several other leaders about a parity. Canadian Pacific lost 1.
The market closed weak and active. The whole market turned weak toward the close, seemingly under the apprehension that the market's response to the United States Steel meeting would be unfavorable. United States Steel fell 2⅝, Minneapolis, St. Paul ; Sault Ste Marie 1⅝, and Union Pacific, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Reading and Wabash preferred 2, St. Paul 1⅝, American Smelting 1¼, and a number of others 1. Hasty short covering caused a few rallies.
Bonds were firm.

SAN FRANCISCO GRAIN MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Wheat—Firm; no trading; cash, $1.75@1.80.
Barley—Firm; May, $1.44¼ bid, $1.49½ asked; December, $1.44¼ bid, $1.44½ asked; cash, $1.42½@1.45.
Corn—Firm; large yellow, $1.70@1.75.

PORTLAND, Oct. 26.—Wheat, track prices—Club, 92c; milling bluestem, $1.02; forty-fold, 94c; red Russian, 90c; Turkey red, 91c; Fife, 91c.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Increasing receipts at winter wheat points, a lessened call for cash grain from the mills, and a resulting weaker cash situation caused a lower market for wheat yesterday. Talk of a deal in December was not so much in evidence and the nearby delivery again worked to a slight discount under the May. Traders had little help in buying from the outside, and there appeared to be some pressure of cash wheat on the market. Moreover, the larger movement to the southwest caused some of the traders to revise their views as to a scarcity of wheat. Near the close local longs took profits freely and there was much selling on stop-loss orders.
Active futures of corn were a shade lower but the market showed a comparatively firm tone in spite of the weakness in wheat. Trade was on a small scale, with little feature. Weather conditions were generally favorable but some farmers were not selling at all freely. Kansas City reported prices for cash corn ⅛@1c lower but in the local sample crowd the market was steady.—Inter-Ocean.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Covering by shorts held the wheat market steady during early trading today despite a falling off in the demand for cash grain here and at other important centers. Prices at the start were unchanged to ⅛c higher, with December at $1.04⅜@1.04⅝. After touching $1.04¼, December steadied around $1.04½.
Later in the day the market developed considerable weakness owing to further declines in cash prices in the southwest. December sold off to $1.03¾. In the final half hour the market rallied again on covering by shorts and closed firm, with December up ⅛@¼c at $1.04¼@1.04⅝.
Corn was weak and lower on the continued favorable weather conditions. December opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 59⅛c and for a time held within that range.
The market ruled heavy. The close was easy, with December ⅛c down at 59⅛c.
Provisions were weak on realizing by local holders. Prices at the opening were 10c higher to 10c lower.
The closing quotations were as follows:
Wheat—December, $1.04½@1.04⅝; May, $1.04⅞@1.04¾; July, 98⅛c.
Corn—October, 60c; December, 59⅛c.
Oats—December and July, 39⅛c; May, 42⅛@42¼c.
Pork—October, $23.35; January, $18.92½; May, $18.65.
Lard—October, $12.35; January, $11.17½@11.20; May, $10.92½.
Ribs—October, $11; May, $9.90@9.92½.
Rye—Cash, 73@74c; December, 73c; May, 77c.
Barley—Cash, 52@65c.
Timothy—October, $3.75; March, $4.10.
Clover—Nothing doing.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 26.—Broomhall says: The wheat market at the start was steady, with values ⅛d lower, being influenced by the lower American cables yesterday and a poor demand. Dullness characterized the first hour's trading, and then some realizing on the predictions of a large increase in the European visible supply caused values to decline a further ⅛@¼d, with offerings larger. Later, however, and toward midday, the market developed a steady undertone and prices recovered the decline, due to an improved demand for spot, unfavorable weather in the United Kingdom and less favorable reports from Australia regarding the growing crop. At this time the market was steady and unchanged to ⅛d lower than yesterday.
Corn—The market was neglected, with values unchanged.

FOREIGN CROP SUMMARY.
United Kingdom—The weather still continues unfavorable, it being wet; it therefore is impossible to finish harvesting or doing any sowing of the new crop. Threshing results are satisfactory, but the condition is poor.
France—The wheat already seeded shows a favorable outlook. Supplies of native wheat are light and the condition poor.
Germany—The weather is favorable for the sowing of the new crop. Supplies of native wheat continue small.
Roumania, Bulgaria and Servia—The outlook for the wheat already seeded is favorable. Rain, however, is wanted in parts.
Hungary—The new crop is in a very favorable condition. This country, however, is still buying freely of Russian wheat and also Argentine new crop wheat, as supplies are light.
Austria—Harvesting has proved disappointing, but an average yield is indicated. Weather unfavorable for the sowing of new crop.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 26.—Wheat—December, 7s 8d; March, 7s 7⅝d; May, 7s 6⅝d. Weather rainy.

'THIRD DEGREE' IS NOT COMING

Third Rate, Small Town Company Is Not Wanted at the Macdonough Theater

Charles P. Hall, lessee of the Macdonough Theater, who has been ill at his rooms in the St. Mark's Hotel, is rapidly recovering and will resume his duties in a few days. Mrs. Hall, his wife, has been constantly at his side during his illness.

Mr. Hall is anxious to be around again because he has a large number of attractions coming to the Macdonough Theater this fall and winter. In fact, he has booked for Oakland every leading attraction coming west.

It is announced that "The Tihrd Degree" will not play in Oakland and this fact is being advertised by the manager of the company. The truth is that the Macdonough management does not want "The Third Degree" because it is composed of a third-rate company and is playing all the one-horse towns in California. It has practically made a failure in San Francisco and will soon leave that city to play the small towns. It was a frost in Chicago. The members of the organization will be very lucky if they do not have to walk back to New York.

The management of "The Third Degree" is taking considerable pride in advertising the fact that his company will not play Oakland. This is done in the hope that Oakland people will patronize the Van Ness Theater in San Francisco, where "The Third Degree" is being played mostly to empty chairs. It is probably true that if the show did come to Oakland the players would face empty chairs because the Oakland theater-goers are aware of the fact that the company is a third rate one and that the show is about as bad as they make it, at the same time charging high prices for seats. Oakland people are thoroughly pleased over the fact that the show will not come to this city.

Chicago Woman Has Life Insurance of One Million Dollars

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—By taking out $300,000 of life insurance yesterday, Mrs. Charles Netcher, owner of the Boston store, increased the amount of her policies to $1,000,000, thereby becoming, it is believed, the most heavily insured woman in America.

The new policy is doubly interesting because of the fact that until recently most companies would not accept women at all, and even now the limit on women is smaller than on men.

There are not many men in the million-dollar class in life insurance, to which this woman has now attained. John Wanamaker of Philadelphia was for many years the most heavily insured man in the United States. His son, Rodman Wanamaker, has succeeded his father as the most heavily insured American, carrying more than $2,000,000.

FIRE AT SALT LAKE CAUSES $75,000 DAMAGE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct 26. — A fire, the origin if which is unknown, at 1 o'clock this morning, destroyed the plant of the Nevada Mills company. Loss, $75,000, partially insured.

One man who had gone into the building to recover some of his possessions, was overcome by smoke, but was rescued by a policeman.

'DRY FARMERS' IN FIRST CONVENTION

Discuss Mechanical Appendages to Soil Cultivation at Billings

BILLINGS, Mont., Oct. 26.—The mechanical appendages of a new form of land cultivation, new at least in Western America, and the fruits of the latest agricultural science are dividing attention with farming experts at Billings today. The dry farming exposition is in full swing. The exhibits in the exposition hall, formerly the Northern Pacific freight house, valued at $10,000, are attracting thousands of observers.

Governor Norris, of Montana, with a word of protest against the name of the congress, which he considers a misnomer, extended the right hand of fellowship to the delegates from all parts of the world, and the fourth annual Dry Farming Congress got down to business. Among the visitors no one attracted more attention than James J. Hill, the railroad builder. He knows something of farming himself, and is taking a deep interest in the "dry" variety.

Billings is handsomely decorated with the colors of the congress, and the delegates and visitors are very much at home. Within another twenty-four hours the convention will be deep in the mysteries of rural technicalities, listening at intervals to the more exciting discussions of the merits of Spokane, Colorado Springs, Walla Walla as meeting places next year.

SUES PHYSICIANS FOR BIG DAMACES

Mrs. Birdie B. Hays Asks $14,600 in Suit Against Doctors

The sum of $14,600 is the amount Birdie Beatrice Hayes demands of Drs. William Tappan Lum and E. Northcott, for damages alleged to have been caused by them in operating upon her husband, George Albert Hayes, on June 19 last, for typhoid pneumonia.

In her complaint filed with the county clerk this morning Mrs Hayes sets forth that the operation was entirely unnecessary for the relief of the ailment under which her spouse was suffering, and that on the contrary it only served to aggravate the feebleness of the patient, who was afflicted with tuberculosis.

The consequence is, in the allegation of the wife, she was put to an outlay of $2,100 for hospital fees, nurse hire, medicines and living expenses by reason of the defendants' acts, and that she has insurred a further damage of $2,500 for doctors' bills.

Furthermore, that on account of losing the earnings of her husband, she is damaged in the further sum of $10,000 in being compelled to maintain and support her husband and two minor children by her own earnings.

Dr. Northcott lives in Fruitvale and Lum is a resident of Alameda.

ORDER RICH SONS TO HELP FATHER

One Wanted to Make Aged Man Sleep in Out-House. Had Been Driven Away

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26—Eighty-three years old, and a burden on his poorest son, who had taken him in rather than allow him to be sent to a home at Santa Rosa, Thomas Daniels, a pioneer, brought suit against his two remaining boys, William and John, for support.

The aged man had almost to be carried to the stand in Judge Graham's court this morning, and his daughter-in-law told a story of how one of his sons had wanted to put him to sleep in an outhouse, declaring that he no longer loved his parent and that he could not stand him in the house.

The court, after discovering that William Daniels, a letter carrier, was possesser of four flats and some property in Menlo Park, while John Daniels, a butcher, owned two other pieces of property, ordered that each of them pay $15 to help support their father while he lives.

AFTER THE GRIP USE THIS TONIC

After Wasting Fevers Also Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Will Restore Health and Strength.

As in scarlet and typhoid fever, so in malaria and the grip, the after-effects of the disease are often worse than the disease itself. The sufferer is left with a debilitated system, is short of breath upon the slightest exertion and is affected by every change of weather. The system is in such a weakened condition that it is powerless to resist the attack of such diseases as pneumonia and bronchitis.

This is a condition which emphatically calls for a tonic for the blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine for this purpose for they act directly on the blood, which they cleanse of all impurities. They tone up the nerves and give health and strength to the debilitated system.

A timely suggestion on how to enable the systm to resist the after-effects of wasting diseases is given in the experience of Mr N. E. Manning, a mechanic of No 294 W. San Fernando street, San Jose, Cal. He says:

"A few years ago when living on a fruit ranch in the mountains of Santa Cruz, I had an attack of the grip, from which I recovered. The next fall I again had a severe attack and was a sufferer from its effects for several months. I was tired and exhausted all of the time and could not walk twenty steps without having to stop to rest. I couldn't sleep, was very nervous and had no appetite.

"I took medicine from the doctor, but was not helped. I also tried two or three different remedies with but little relief. I had been sick for about five months before I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and gave them a trial. I began to get better as soon as I started to take the pills and was completely cured after giving them a good trial. I think very highly of the pills and always recommend them for after-effects of the grip."

It is of the utmost importance to your health, if you have suffered from malaria, the grip or fever, that you cleanse the blood of the lingering germs and put it in condition to resist disease.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

FAVORS HEALTH BOARD ORDINANCE

Building Trades Council Passes Resolution as to Meat Inspection

The following communication from the Building Trades Council relative to pure meats was read before the city council last night, and referred to the ordinance and judiciary committee:

Gentlemen—The accompanying resolution was tonight adopted by the Building Trades Council of Alameda county, and is submitted for your careful consideration, as expressing the wishes and desires of organized labor in the subject matter contained therein.

We feel that organized labor, representing as it does in this community thousands of families has a right to be heard in matters touching on legislation wherein the public health is concerned, and feel assured that your honorable body appreciate our stand in this matter. The resolutions follow:

FAVOR BOARD OF HEALTH.

Whereas, there is pending before the city council two ordinances on the subject of the inspection of meat for food purposes, one submitted by a faction of the so-called Butchers' Exchange and the other by the Board of Health, the latter organization being charged with responsibility for the health of the city of Oakland; and,

Whereas, the measure of the so-called Butchers' Exchange provides for the inspection of the meat only after the same is hung up in the market for sale, while that of the Board of Health provides for an inspection of meat at the slaughter house before the slaughtering takes place, and also after the meat has been displayed for sale in the market; and,

Whereas, the proposition of the Board of Health is in keeping with the latest rules and methods of the scientific inspection of meat and meat products adopted by the Department of Agriculture of the United States, and insures pure food because of the possibility of detecting disease in the animal at the time it is slaughtered, which cannot be done after the animal is trimmed and placed on sale; and,

Whereas, the ordinance of the so-called Butchers' Exchange provides for an inspection at a time when disease cannot be detected, and also that the inspection be performed by a man of its own choosing, regardless of the fact that such exchange is hostile in every way to dealers in meat who cannot be coerced to join that monopoly; and,

INVASION OF RIGHTS.

Whereas, the Butchers' Exchange repudiates the number of hours which ought to naturally constitute a day's labor, compelling their employes to work from early in the morning until late at night; be it

Resolved, that the Building Trades Council of Alameda county hereby represents to the city council of Oakland that the inspection for the detection of diseased meat is in the province of a veterinarian or scientist, who has made a study of animal diseases, that it is beyond the ability of a butcher who has learned only to cut meat or any other layman to determine, especially after the cattle have been hung up for sale, whether or not a carcass is diseased; and further

Resolved, that the insistence of the said exchange that the city council appoint one of its members to the position of inspector is an invasion of the rights of the said city council, an insult to the thousands of working people of this city, who have in the past been forced to pay exorbitantly to this combine for their meat food, and a menace to other meat associations and dealers with whom the exchange combine will have no dealings because it is unable to control them, and further

INSURES PURE MEAT.

Resolved, that the city council be requested to give passage to the ordinance suggested by the Board of Health as being satisfactory to the members of the Building Trades Council, and as insuring pure meat, because of the inspection which takes place at the abbatoir when the slaughtering is done, diseased meat then detected being destroyed, thus preventing all save pure meat reaching the local market for consumption; and further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the city council by a committee of three of the Building Trades Council, and that this body promises to use its best endeavors to bring about the passage of the ordinance herewith recommended.

In accordance with the above, the Building Trades Council has appointed R. M. Hamb, business agent; J. C. Flaherty, vice-president, and F. H. Pratt, secretary, to present the resolution to the city council and to represent the Building Trades Council before your honorable body in the matter. Yours respectfully,

F. H. PRATT,
Secretary Building Trades Council of Alameda County, California.

CHURCH MAY FORCE PASTOR TO RESIGN

The Rev. L. P. Russell Decides to Remain But Trustees May Object

ALAMEDA, Oct 26—Speaking from his pulpit Sunday evening, the Rev. L. P. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, signified his intention of remaining with the church and withdrawing his resignation, which he filed a week ago. As an aftermath of this decision comes the announcement from A. E. Craig, chairman of the board of trustees of the church, that a meeting will be held, probably Wednesday night, when the matter will be again considered and it is understood that the Rev Mr Russell will be asked to tender his resignation again.

That the members of the church are divided in the matter seems to be unquestionable. What the outcome of the controversy will be seems to be problematical at the present time. Several of the members say one thing and several others say another.

Rev. Mr. Russell explained that he had decided to remain with the church after having considered the matter and after having received the solicitation of several of the members of the church to stay.

Chairman Craig declares that the church has contributed liberally to the mission work, and he states that the controversy which arose in the church was over Rev. Russell's manner of asking for funds for this work. Craig also charges that Rev. Russell refuses to meet the trustees of the church and talk over the charges made against him.

NORTH BATTLE CREEK WATER SUIT COMMENCES

REDDING, Oct. 26.—The most important water suit ever coming to trial in Shasta County was begun yesterday in the Superior Court. It is estimated that the trial will last five or six weeks. The suit is between the Northern California Power Company and twenty farmers and others claiming water in North Battle creek, in the neighborhood of Shingletown.

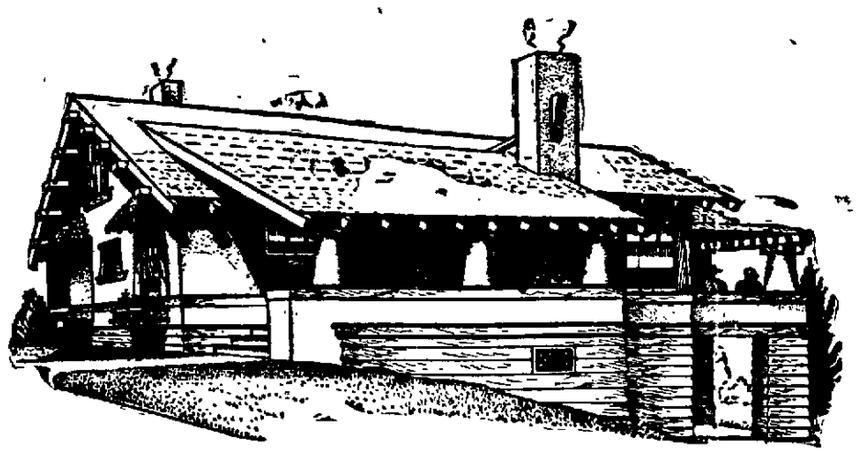

The stream carries ordinarily 5,000 inches of water. The many claimants have had a great deal of trouble among themselves. Injunctions have been obtained from time to time, and in several instances dams have been blown out with dynamite.

In the main the big suit begun today is a friendly one, its object being to have the court pass finally upon the priority of the various claims and determine judicially the exact amount of water each one is entitled to. Because of electric power development every inch of water in North Battle creek is worth $100. So the property interest represented in the suit over the 5,000 inches is $500,000.

Which Is Happiest Day—When Divorced or Wedded? Club May Split on Issue

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 26.—Dissatisfaction over the decision of the judges of the debate concerning the question whether a woman is happiest on the day she is married or the day she is divorced, caused such ill-feeling among certain members of a club, said to be devoted exclusively to divorced women, that they violated the rule of secrecy imposed on members, and talked to outsiders, thereby permitting it to become generally known that such a club really existed. It is said that plans are afoot to nationalize the organization.

The organizer of the club is said to be a prominent Denver divorcee. Thirty members are enrolled and a constitution and by-laws have been adopted and officers chosen. One of the qualifications for membership, it is said, is that applicants must be regular recipients of $100 monthly alimony. Attacks upon the character of an applicant, unless shown to be untrue, form a bar to membership.

Weekly luncheons are held at which discussions concerning the marriage state and divorce are engaged in, and it was at the meeting Sunday last that the debate occurred which resulted in a division of sentiment and may result in breaking up the organization.

JAPANESE CRUISER SAILS.

MONTEREY, Oct. 26.—The Japanese cruiser Idsumi, which came here on Sunday from San Francisco, when the officers and men participated in the Portola festival, sailed today for Santa Barbara and other ports of Southern California.

THE NEW EDISON RECORDS

Old and New Favorites Furnish Entertainment for the Masses in the November List.

Victor Herbert, the eminent composer-conductor, who is at present engaged in writing for Oscar Hammerstein an American grand opera, "Natoma," in which Mary Garden will perform the chief role during the coming season, contributes a medley of selections from "Little Nemo" to the November Amberol (4-minute) Record list for the Edison Phonograph. In addition to leading his famous orchestra for these records he is also acting in the capacity of supervising critic during the recording of the better class of musical records other than his own. The November list of Amberol Records is unusually attractive and offers a splendid variety for selection. Sousa's Band renders his "Stars and Stripes Forever March" in characteristic style; Albert Spalding, the brilliant young violinist, contributes a most artistic interpretation of Sarasate's "Gypsy Airs." A captivating violin and guitar arrangement of the "Carnival of Venice" is the offering of the famous Olivotti Troubadours. Edgar L. Davenport, America's foremost elocutionist, recites "Lasca" in faultless manner, and Will Oakland, the popular counter-tenor of the Cohan and Harris Minstrels, renders "Just Before the Battle, Mother," a descriptive war ballad, with pleasing effect. The remaining fourteen numbers comprise band and orchestra selections, comic songs and sacred hymns, vaudeville and monologue—all by the well-known Edison artists.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF BLACKSMITH

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 26. — A mystery involving the murder or suicide of John Love, a Johannesburg blacksmith, is occupying the attention of the coroner today. Lowe's body was found under a railroad trestle near Barstow by prospectors. Beside it lay a bottle that had contained poison.

The investigation so far shows that Lowe left his home last week with a large sum of money, intending to visit relatives in Pasadena and Santa Ana.

In accordance with the above, the body and the authorities believe that the man was robbed and becoming disheartened at the loss of all his savings, drank poison.

But there remains a question whether he was not murdered and the poison bottle placed beside the body. The coroner is seeking light on this phase of the case.

MOST HEAVILY INSURED WOMAN IN AMERICA

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. — By taking out $300,000 life insurance yesterday, Mrs. Charles Notcher, owner of the Boston Store, increased the amount of her policies to $1,000,000, thereby becoming, it is believed the most heavily insured woman in America.

Now Is the Time to Buy a Piano

Two Hundred New High-Grade Pianos Must Be Sold at Once at Prices and Terms Never Equaled

Being Out of the High-Rent District Enables Us To Save You From $125 to $200 on the Purchase of a Piano.

TERMS AS LOW AS $6 A MONTH

Eilers Music Co., 557-559 Twelfth St., Oakland, Opposite the Orpheum Theater, Oakland —Open Evenings Until 9

There is no reason now for a home being pianoless, as such low prices and easy terms have never before been offered on high-grade pianos in this vicinity. Last week we received several carloads of pianos and our building at 557-559 Twelfth street, opposite the Orpheum Theater, is overstocked with beautiful high-grade new pianos. Every piano in our stock is to be sold at a saving of from $125 to $200. Surely any young man or woman, husband or father, that has any income or that earns anywhere near a fair salary can buy a piano now. Terms will be made to suit, and you can buy on as low payments as $6 a month.

DOES IT PAY TO RENT?

There are hundreds of families in Oakland and vicinity that are renting pianos and paying from $3 to $5 per month simply for the use of a piano, and then they are not getting a good musical instrument. Does this pay? We will sell you a piano at a guaranteed saving of $150 to $225, and then all you pay us is $6 per month. Stop and think it over. Surely your renting a piano is not good economy, and then it is a well-known fact that the longer you use a piano the more you feel the necessity of owning one.

A WORD ABOUT OUR $237 PIANOS.

We have over fifty new pianos direct from the factory in our warerooms that are ordinarily sold by other dealers at from $375 to $450. You can take your choice of any one of these fifty pianos at the unusually low price of $237 on payments as low as $6 a month. If you are interested in the purchase of a piano all that we ask you to do is to see these beautiful pianos that we are offering at this price, and we are sure that your visit to our warerooms will result in your purchasing a piano from us.

A FEW SPECIALS IN USED PIANOS.

On Monday morning we are offering a beautiful mahogany case Emerson piano, regular price $475, at the low price of $274; a Hallet & Davis, regular price $425, at $183; a mahogany case Fischer, regular price $525, at $217. These pianos will probably be sold Monday and it will pay you to call and look at them. They are in exactly as good condition as brand-new instruments as far as tone and action are concerned, and the cases show very little signs of use. We have over twenty-five other bargains in used pianos which limited space will not permit us to mention.

A WORD TO OUT-OF-TOWN BUYERS.

If it is not convenient for you to call at our warerooms and make a selection of an instrument, write us for a special bargain list. We will cheerfully send the same to you by return mail, or, better still, if you call at our warerooms and do not find a piano to suit you we will cheerfully refund your railroad fare both ways and any expenses you have been subject to in calling on us. It is a fair proposition and we mean exactly what we say. We know that we are offering high-grade pianos at lower prices than they have ever been offered before, and we know that we can please you in a piano and can make terms to suit you.

WHY NOT BUY NOW?

You certainly will never be able to find a larger and more complete stock of pianos than we now have on hand, and, remember, that the longer you delay purchasing the less pianos you have to select from. Already scores and scores of customers have taken advantage of the special sale we are now holding, and if you ever intend making a purchase now is the time to act. Remember that every piano sold is accompanied by our unlimited guarantee and is delivered free of charge with handsome stool. Don't delay making a purchase, but call at once and see what wonderful inducements we are offering.

The highest medical authority on foods,

gives the best reasons for eating more

Quaker Scotch Oats

In an article published in the Youth's Companion of September 23rd, 1909 Dr. Browne, the great medical authority on foods, says, about brain and muscle building—

"There is one kind of food that seems to me of marked value as a food to the brain and to the whole body throughout childhood and adolescence (youth), and that is oatmeal.

"Oats are the most nutritious of all the cereals, being richer in fats, organic phosphorus and lecithins."

He says oatmeal is gaining ground with the well-to-do of Great Britain. He speaks of it as the mainstay of the Scottish laborer's diet and says it produces a big-boned, well-developed, mentally energetic race.

His experiments prove that good oatmeal such as Quaker Scotch Oats not only furnishes the best food for the human being, but eating it strengthens and enlarges the thyroid gland—this gland is intimately connected with the nourishing processes of the body.

In conclusion he says—

"It seems probable therefore that the bulk and brawniness of the Northerners (meaning the Scotch) has been in some measure due to the stimulation of the thyroid gland by oatmeal porridge in childhood."

The Scotch eat Quaker Scotch Oats because it is the best of all oatmeals.
